No. 166, dated Narcoldanga, the 28th June 1900.

From—Babu Apurva Chunder Biswas, Vice-Chairman of the Maniktala Municipality,

To—The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas.

With reference to your circular memorandum No. 79M., dated the 26th June 1900, forwarding copy of Divisional Commissioner's letter No. 131M. of the 23rd instant, calling for a Report on the working of the Bengal Jute Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act for the year 1899-1900, I have the honour to submit as follows :—

1. The Fire Brigade Budget for the year under report was prepared by the Commissioner of Police under section 26 (1) of Act I (B.C.) of 1893, and was accepted by the Commissioners of this Municipality at their general meeting held on the 26th August 1899, so far as it related to this municipality.

2. The proportionate share of contribution at one per cent. of the estimated amount of Rs. 69,953 towards the maintenance of the Fire Brigade establishment, viz., Rs. 699, was paid in two instalments. The total amount realised as fees from the warehouses under the Act was Rs 1,238-4-6 against Rs. 1,266-6-6 of the preceding year. The decrease was owing to a few shops and depôts of durmah mats and firewood having ceased to exist at the beginning of the year under report.

3. During the year under review, 10 licenses were issued for the jute ware-houses and 62 for other descriptions of trades in inflammable materials, such as firewood, hay, straw, saw-mill, packing-cases, durmah mats, golpatta, &c., against 8 and 74 of the preceding year.

4. License-fees were levied at 6 per cent. per annum on the annual value of holdings as assessed for payment of municipal taxes on jute warehouses and at 10 per cent. on other descriptions of trade as mentioned above.

5. All the owners of warehouses paid their license-fees in due time, and therefore no prosecution was required to be instituted during the year.

6. The jute godowns and firewood depôts are mostly situated near the Circular Canal, which forms the western boundary of this municipality. There is only one mill for the manufacture of gunny bags within this municipality, named the Surah Jute Mill Company, Limited, on the north side of the Narcoldanga Main Road, and there are also four roperies.

7. No fire broke out during the year under report. But a fire broke out on the 7th of April 1900, at Meah Bazar, Boliaghata. There was no loss of life, though damage was done to the extent of about Rs. 500. No assistance of the Fire Brigade was received during the fire. The engine arrived on the spot too late to be of any service. The municipality requested the Commissioner of Police to keep a hand-pump at the Sealdah outpost, but the Commissioner in reply wrote that there being always a hand-pump at Palmer's Bridge, no other hand-pump was necessary.

R. D. MEHTA,
Chairman.

No. 86G.M., dated Garden Reach, the 28th June 1900.

From—W. GRAHAM, Esq., Chairman of the Garden Reach Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas.

WITH reference to your circular memorandum No. 79M., of the 26th instant, I have the honour to report that a sum of Rs 350 was paid to the Commissioner of Police during 1899-1900 as contribution to the Calcutta Fire Brigade Fund. This was the amount actually demanded by the Commissioner of Police as per his budget estimate of the Metropolitan Fire Brigade for the year ending 31st March 1900. The Commissioners could not levy a special rate to meet this small amount. A sum of Rs 247 only was received under the head "Jute warehouse fees," and the balance, viz., Rs. 103, was paid out of the general fund.

2. There was no fire during the year under report. But in the previous year there was fire in the three bustees, viz., Kapidanga, Buttiotl and Circular Garden Reach, and the Calcutta Fire Brigade rendered material help, although they were not paid.

Manbhum.—Rainfall at Sadar 3·08, Gobindpur 2·85. Weather is of ordinary monsoon character. Bhadoi crops flourishing Heavy rain fell during the week. Transplantation of winter rice progressing. Cattle-disease reported from thanas Gourangdi, Raghunathpur, Gobindpur and Topchanchi. Fodder and water sufficient. Average price of common rice at Sadar 10 seers 7 chitaks and at Gobindpur 11 seers per rupee. Supply sufficient.

Singhbhum.—Rainfall 3·61. Prospects favourable. Transplantation in progress. Average price of rice 11¼ seers per rupee in the district and 10 seers at Chaibasa.

General Summary.—The rainfall during the week has been general, but, except in Orissa and parts of Chota Nagpur, it was for the most part light. More rain is still required for the transplantation of winter rice in the districts of the Burdwan and Patna Divisions, and in Nadia, Khulna, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Hazaribagh, and Palamau. Reports of the bhadoi crops, of jute, and of sugarcane are generally very favourable. Early rice and jute are being harvested. In Bogra and Pabna some damage to these crops has been caused by floods. Cattle-disease continues to be reported from several districts. Fodder is generally sufficient. The price of rice is reported to have fallen in 11 districts and risen in 9, and is stationary in the rest.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·6 higher; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.

F. A. SLACKE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal

NOTIFICATION—No. 3124Agri.

The 20th August 1900.—Under sub-section (3), section 14 of the Glanders and Farcy Act, XIII of 1899, the following rules are published for general information.

F. A. SLACKE,

RULES UNDER SECTION 14 OF ACT XIII OF 1899 (THE GLANDERS AND FARCY ACT).

Rule 1.—Every Inspector who receives information of the supposed existence, or who has reasonable grounds to suspect the existence, of glanders or farcy in any place within the local area to which this Act has been extended, shall immediately report to the Magistrate, and shall proceed immediately to such place, and there execute and discharge the powers and duties conferred and imposed upon him under this Act.

Explanation.—"Magistrate" in this and the following rules means (i) the District Magistrate, (ii) Joint-Magistrate at head-quarters, (iii) Subdivisional Officer, (iv) or the Senior Deputy Magistrate in charge at head-quarters during the absence on tour of the District Magistrate.

Rule 2.—An Inspector may, under a general or special sanction from the Magistrate, for the purpose of seizing any horse under section 5 of the Act, enter and search any enclosure, field, building or other place where he has reason to believe that any diseased horse is to be found; but, as far as practicable, he shall conduct his search in the presence of the owner or of the person in charge of the suspected horse, field, enclosure, building or other place to whom notice shall be given previous to the search.

Rule 3.—Every person having in his possession or under his charge any diseased horse shall (1) keep the diseased horse separate from other horses not diseased, and (2) give information of the fact of the disease, as soon as possible, to an Inspector under the Act, or, if there be no Inspector of any place nearer than the nearest police-station, to that police-station, and the officer in charge of that station, if not himself an Inspector under the Act, shall forthwith report the same to an Inspector and to the District Superintendent of Police.

Rule 4.—Any horse seized under section 6 of the Act may, for the purpose of examination under clause 2, section 7, or clause 1, section 8, be isolated in a suitable place for such a period not exceeding four months as may be deemed necessary, which period may be shortened or extended by order of the Magistrate. The fact of such isolation shall be at once notified to the Magistrate by the Inspector, and to the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, by the veterinary practitioner, who shall give his reasons for recommending the detention of the horses and full details of the case. For the purpose of the examination, mallein, or any other recognised test, may be employed.

Rule 5.—Every animal that has been in the same field, building or place, or in contact with a glandered or farcied horse, shall be liable to be isolated in a suitable place, and a report forwarded to the Magistrate by the Inspector, and to the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, by the veterinary practitioner.

Rule 6.—The certificate of a veterinary practitioner that a horse is diseased shall not be valid until it has been countersigned by the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, or some officer deputed by him for that purpose.

Rule 7.—When a diseased horse is destroyed under section 8 of the Act, the owner or the person in charge of the horse shall, without delay, cause the carcass to buried or burnt. See Rule 9 (v).

Rule 8.—When the carcass of a horse destroyed under the Act is buried, the grave shall be not less than nine feet deep, and the skin of the carcass shall be slashed to prevent its being used. All earth contaminated with blood or discharges shall be thrown into the grave, and the carcass shall be covered with 20 lbs. of quicklime.

Rule 9.—The owner or person in charge of the infected articles or places shall be responsible for carrying out the following orders as soon as possible after the issue of the notice under section 9 of the Act:—

(i) Every piece of stable gear connected in any way with a diseased horse shall be destroyed by fire, except iron-work, and that shall be made red-hot.

(ii) The roof of a building shall be well cleaned and freed from all dust and cobwebs.

(iii) The walls shall be scraped, feeding-troughs burnt, and all wood-work within reach of horses carefully washed with soft soap and hot water mixed with crude carbolic acid or phenyle in the proportion of 5 per cent. of acid or phenyle.

(iv) The floor, if of mud or brick, shall be dug up for at least eight inches and more if urine has percolated deeper, and fresh material should be laid down. If the floor be of cement, in good repair, it shall be treated in the same way as the walls.

(v) All refuse derived from cleansing, and any dung, litter, straw, grass or hay shall be burnt, and that which will not burn shall be buried at least six feet deep.

(vi) The whole building shall be thoroughly whitewashed with good lime and water to which 5 per cent. of crude carbolic acid or phenyle has been added.

(vii) Temporary stables of straw, grass or similar materials shall be pulled down and burnt, the floor being treated as in (iv) above.

(viii) When a cart has become infected, the wood-work shall be thoroughly scraped, washed with soap and hot water containing 5 per cent. of crude carbolic acid or phenyle, and exposed to the sun for two days, after which the treatment shall be repeated.

(ix) When a carriage of any sort has become infected, any part with which the diseased animal can have come into contact, such as the pole or shafts, dash-board, &c., shall be washed with soap and hot water containing 5 per cent. of crude carbolic acid or phenyle; the paint shall be scraped off and the parts repainted. The rest of the vehicle shall be thoroughly washed with soap and hot water containing 5 per cent of crude carbolic acid or phenyle.

(x) When a boat has become infected, the rules laid down in (i), (ii), (iii), (v), and (vi) above shall be observed when applicable. The floor shall be treated with special reference to (iii), and all battens shall be removed and burnt.

Rule 10.—All buildings, stables, carts, carriages or boats which have been disinfected under Rule 9 above, shall be examined by an Inspector after disinfection, to see whether the work has been thoroughly carried out, and the owner or the person in charge of such building, stable, cart, carriage or boat shall give him reasonable facility for doing so. If he is not satisfied that the work of disinfection has been thoroughly done, the Inspector may pass such orders as he may consider necessary for the proper disinfection of the building, stable, &c., and the owner or person in charge of such building, stable, &c., shall be bound to carry out such orders without delay.

Rule 11.—When it is absolutely necessary to remove a diseased horse or carcass to another place for examination, slaughter, burial or cremation, the owner or person in charge of such horse or carcass shall attach a suitable covering to its nostrils or to any part of its body that has a wound or sore, so as to prevent all danger from contact during removal. Removal shall take place at night when practicable.

Rule 12.—No horse that has been isolated under this Act shall be removed without a license, except as provided in section 11 of the Act.

No license issued by the Inspector shall be valid that does not bear the countersignature of a Magistrate.

No license shall issue under section 11 of this Act—

(1) Unless the horse has been isolated for a period of not less than 120 days since the death or slaughter of the diseased horse, and has during that period shown no suspicious symptoms.

(2) Unless the horse has been sufficiently tested with mallein to enable the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, to certify that the animal is free from glanders or farcy. In such cases the license may issue at once.

Rule 13.—The actual expense of detaining, isolating, and testing a horse under the provisions of the Act may be recovered from the owner or the person in charge thereof by the Magistrate of the district as if it were a fine under the Act.

Rule 14.—Whoevever refuses or neglects to comply with or commits a breach of any rule under this Act shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, or with a fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or with both.

FOREST DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

The 30th July 1900.—The following rules sanctioned by the Government of Bengal are published for general information.

A. E. WILD,
Conservator of Forests, Bengal.

Rules for the grant of stipends to students of the Imperial Forest School, Dehra Dun.

1. There will be one stipend granted annually.

2. The stipend will not be less than Rs. 35 and not more than Rs. 50 per mensem. The amount granted will depend on the position the candidate holds on passing the Forest School Entrance Examination and the practical training.

3. A selection will be made by the Conservator of Forests from the passed candidates and the stipend given to the candidate who obtained the highest number of marks in the Entrance Examination and who at the same time gave the greatest satisfaction during the three and-a-half months of practical work. Stress will be laid on the physical fitness of the candidate for a Forester's life.

4. Such selected student must, before joining the School, execute the agreement referred to in Rule 12 (ix) of the School Rules, binding himself to serve the Local Government (in the event of his obtaining the Ranger's certificate) for a period of not less than five years, if so required.

5. The stipend may, in case of misconduct or unsatisfactory progress at the School, be reduced or altogether withdrawn at the discretion of the Director of the School.

6. The grant of a stipend will give no claim to an appointment to the service of Government on passing out of the School: such appointment will depend on the existence of a vacancy.

HIGH COURT NOTICE.

NOTIFICATION.

The 15th August 1900.

THE following rules prescribing the procedure to be followed and the practice to be observed by the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta having been made by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in exercise of the powers vested in the High Court by section 9 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, as amended by section 5 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1895, are published for general information.

By order of the High Court,

E. P. CHAPMAN,
Registrar.

Rules of Practice of the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta.

1. In these rules, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—

(1) Words importing the masculine gender shall be taken to include females.
(2) Words in the singular shall include the plural, and vice versâ.
(3) "The Act" means Act No. XV of 1882 (The Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, as amended by Act I of 1895).
(4) "The Code" means the Code of Civil Procedure.
(5) "Decree" includes any amount or sum of money, whether by way of costs or otherwise, directed by the Court to be paid under any decree or order, or in any proceeding whatsoever.
(6) "Persons" includes any company or association, or body of individuals, whether incorporated or not.
(7) "Pleader" includes every legal practitioner (not being an advocate or mukhtear) entitled to practise in the Court.
(8) "Process" includes a summons to a witness, a notice, or any other process, which has to be served through the Court, not being a summons to a defendant or warrant.
(9) "Rules" means one of these Rules.
(10) "Summons" means summons to a defendant.
(11) "Registrar" includes Deputy Registrar.

The Judges.

2 The Judges may sit apart or together at one time, and any one or more of the said Judges so sitting apart shall have all the judicial authority which is given by the Act to the Small Cause Court.

Registrar and other officers of the Court.

3. Cases stated by the Registrar under section 646 of the Code shall be stated for the opinion of the Chief Judge.

4. All matters and things required to be done by the Registrar in his capacity as Chief Ministerial Officer of the Court may be done by the Clerk of the Court or his deputy or deputies.

5. The Registrar, or such officer as may be appointed in that behalf, shall grant a receipt or memorandum for every sum paid into Court as fees or costs, or on any account whatsoever, and no money shall be paid out of Court relating to the same matter without the production of such receipt or memorandum, unless by order of the Court or Registrar.

6. Every bailiff, serving officer, or appraiser levying or receiving any money by virtue of a summons, process, or warrant, shall forthwith, or on the earliest opportunity, pay the same to the proper officer of the Court.

7. The bailiff or serving officer serving a summons or process shall enter in a book to be kept by him for that purpose the time, place, and manner of service, and shall produce such book in Court.

8. The offices of the Court shall be open daily (except on authorised holidays), and the office hours shall be from half-past 10 in the forenoon until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, except on Saturdays, when the office will close at 2 P.M. No money shall be paid out of Court on Saturday, nor before 11 in the forenoon on any other day, nor shall any money be received or paid out after half-past 3 in the afternoon, unless by order of the Court or the Registrar.

Pleaders.

9. Pleaders shall be entitled to appear, plead and act together with the parties in person, or their recognized agents, as defined in section 37 of the Code, as extended to this Court, but not otherwise unless appointed in writing.

10. The appointment of the pleader to enter an appearance or make an application or act shall be in writing; and such writing shall be filed in Court.

11. Processes served on a pleader duly appointed in writing by any party to a suit or proceeding shall be presumed to be duly communicated and made known to the party by whom such pleader has been appointed.

12. No costs incurred in employing a legal practitioner shall be allowed unless otherwise ordered by the Judge trying the cause.

The Plaint and Verification.

13. Every suit shall be instituted by the presentation of a plaint in the manner hereinafter provided.

14. The plaint shall be distinctly written in the English language on a form to be provided by the Court.

15. The plaint shall contain the following particulars:—

(a) The name, description and place of residence or business of the plaintiff.
(b) The name, description and place of residence or business of the defendant.
(c) A concise statement of the cause of action and when and where it arose.
(d) The relief claimed.
(e) If the plaintiff has allowed a set-off or relinquished a portion of his claim, the amount so allowed or relinquished.
(f) If the cause of action arose beyond the period ordinarily allowed by any law for instituting the suit, the plaint must show the ground upon which exemption from such law is claimed.

16. The plaint shall be signed by the plaintiff or, in the case of his absence from Calcutta, by his recognised agent, as defined in clauses (a) and (c) of section 37 of the Code as extended.

17. The plaint shall be verified by the plaintiff or some other person acquainted with the facts of the case.

18. The verification of a plaint, or other document required by these rules, or by such portion of the Code as may be applied to the Small Cause Court, to be verified, shall be in the following form:—

"I, , do declare that what is stated herein is true to my knowledge, except as to matters and facts stated on information, and as to these I believe the same to be true."

and shall be signed by the person making it.

Presentation of Plaint.

19. A plaint shall be presented to the Clerk of the Court or to such officer of the Court as the Chief Judge may, from time to time, appoint in that behalf. The plaint shall, if properly stamped, signed and verified, be received by such Clerk of the Court or other officer, who shall give to the person presenting the same a receipt therefor.

20. In filing a plaint in which there are more defendants than one, the plaintiff shall also file a copy of his cause of action on a separate paper for each defendant (except the first) to be appended to and served with the summons to such defendant.

21. The plaint may at the discretion of the Court—

(a) be rejected at any time before the hearing of the suit, if it does not disclose a cause of action;
(b) be amended at any time upon such terms as to the payment of costs occasioned by the amendment as the Court thinks fit if it—
(1) is not signed and verified as hereinbefore required;
(2) does not state correctly and without prolixity the several particulars hereinbefore required to be specified therein;
(3) contains any particulars other than those required; or
(4) is wrongly framed by reason of non-joinder or mis-joinder of parties, or joins causes of action which ought not to be joined in the same suit.

22. When a plaint is amended, the amendment shall be attested by the signature of a Judge or the Registrar.

23. The plaint shall be rejected in the following cases:—

(a) If the relief sought is undervalued and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to correct the valuation within a time to be fixed by the Court, fails to do so.
(b) If the relief sought is properly valued, but the plaint is insufficiently stamped, and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to supply the requisite stamp within a time to be fixed by the Court, fails to do so.
(c) If the suit appears from the statement in the plaint to be barred by any positive rule of law.

24. The rejection of a plaint on any of the grounds hereinbefore mentioned shall not of its own force preclude the plaintiff from filing a fresh plaint in respect of the same cause of action.

Summons.

25. The Clerk of the Court, or other officers whom the Chief Judge may, from time to time, appoint in that behalf, shall, on receipt of the proper fees, issue a summons directed to each defendant.

26. The summons to a defendant shall be issued and dated as of the day on which the plaint was filed. It shall require the defendant or defendants to enter an appearance before the Registrar within a time to be therein mentioned. It shall also state—

(a) In suits for liquidated demands, or for damages, that a decree may be recorded by default, without further notice, against every defendant served with the summons who shall not enter an appearance.

(b) In all cases, except as provided in (a) that the suit will be set down for hearing against every defendant who shall not enter an appearance.

(c) That each defendant when he enters an appearance will be furnished with a certificate of appearance, on which shall be mentioned the Bench before which the case will be heard as against him, and the day on which the case will appear in the list of causes for hearing in its turn before such Bench.

27. The time to be allowed a defendant to enter appearance after the service of summons upon him shall be regulated in the following manner, but a shorter or longer period may, if required by circumstances, be allowed at the discretion of the Registrar:—

(a) If a defendant resides or carries on business in Calcutta or within the extended limits included in the definition of "Calcutta" in the third section of Act II of 1888 of the Bengal Council or within the limits of the Howrah Municipality, the summons shall be served upon him at least 10 days before the last day for entering appearance.

(b) If a defendant resides or carries on business outside the limits mentioned above, but within 100 miles of Calcutta or within 10 miles from any Railway Station in Bengal and Bihar, the summons shall be served upon him at least 14 days before the last day for entering appearance.

(c) If a defendant resides or carries on business beyond 100 miles from Calcutta within the districts of Backergunge, Birbhum, Bhagalpur, Dacca, Burdwan, Bankura, Faridpur, Gaya, Hazaribagh, Jessore, Malda, Midnapore, Monghyr, Murshidabad, Mymensingh, Nadia, Patna, Pabna, Purnea, Rajshahi, Saran, Shahabad, Tirhut or within 10 miles from any Railway Station in the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Oudh, or of the Delhi Station of the East Indian Railway, the summons shall be served upon him at least 18 days before the last day for entering appearance.

(d) If a defendant resides or carries on business beyond 100 miles from Calcutta in any district subject to the Appellate Jurisdiction of the High Court other than those before mentioned, or at any place more than 10 miles distant from any Railway Station in the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Oudh, or within the limits of the Presidency Towns of Madras or Bombay, the summons shall be served upon him at least 18 days before the last day for entering appearance.

(e) If a defendant resides elsewhere than is before mentioned within the dominions of Her Majesty in India, the summons shall be served upon him at least 45 days before the last day for entering appearance.

28 In fixing the last day for entering appearance, sufficient time shall be allowed for the due service of the summons, which shall ordinarily be the same number of days from the date of the summons as are allowed to the defendant under the preceding rule for entering appearance

If the suit is instituted against more defendants than one, the last day for entering appearance shall be be same for all the defendants, and will ordinarily be so many days after the date of the summons as are equal to twice the greatest number of days allowed under the preceding rule to any of the defendants in the suit for entering appearance.

29. The summons to a defendant shall be served by delivering or tendering it to him personally if possible, or to his recognised agent as defined in section 37 or 41 of the Code as extended to this Court or to an adult male member of the family actually residing with him at the time, or to his landlord if they both reside in the same house, or to a clerk or assistant employed in a business carried on by him or in which he is a partner.

30. If the defendant or other person to whom, under the last preceding rule, a summons may be delivered or tendered cannot be found, the serving officer shall affix the summons on the outer door of the house in which the defendant is then actually residing or carrying on business.

31. A summons may be served on any person who shall be living or serving on board any ship, vessel or boat; and if the same cannot be served personally, it may be served by delivering it to the senior officer on board, or to the person who for the time being may have charge of such ship, vessel or boat.

32. When a summons or process is to be served on a pilot or preventive officer employed on actual service, it may be sent to the head of the office in which such pilot or preventive officer is employed for the purpose of being served upon him.

33. A summons to be served under section 89 of the Code shall be by registered letter.

34. When a summons cannot be served in accordance with the directions contained in the foregoing rules, the Registrar may extend the time for service, or order service, or substituted service, in such manner as to him may seem fit.

35. All acts which may be done by the Court under sections 82, 83, 84 and 85 of the Code as extended may be also done by the Registrar, and service of summons as may be ordered by him shall be as effectual as if the same had been ordered by the Court.

36. When a summons, process, or warrant is to be served or executed, the person requiring such service, or some one on his behalf, shall accompany the bailiff or serving officer to point out the person on whom and the place where such summons, process, or warrant is to be served or executed.

37. Service of the summons on every defendant who has failed to enter an appearance shall be proved by affidavit or otherwise to the satisfaction of the Registrar. This shall be done as follows: A special daily list shall be prepared for the Registrar under the heading "Summonses." The next day after the last day for entering an appearance, the case shall be entered in the special list for enquiry as to the service of the summons. At such enquiry, which may, if necessary, be adjourned from time to time, affidavits or further affidavits may be received, or evidence taken viva voce. The Registrar, on being satisfied as to the due service of the summons, shall cause the case to be set down for hearing as provided in rule 56, or be dealt with as provided in rules 60 and 61.

Such enquiry may be held at the instance of the plaintiff at any time during the first three days after the last day for entering appearance; but at 11 A.M. on the 4th Court day after the last day for entering appearance, all cases remaining in the special list of the day next after the last day for entering appearance shall be taken up by the Registrar in their turn; and if the summons against any defendant is not found to be duly served and no application is made for a further summons, the suit shall be dismissed as against such defendant.

38. If on enquiry under rule 37 it shall not be proved that the summons has been duly served, a further summons shall be issued by the Registrar, but the costs of obtaining such summons shall not be allowed as costs in the cause, unless so ordered by the Registrar, on being satisfied that a bonâ fide endeavour has been made on the part of the plaintiff to serve the previous writ.

39. If on enquiry under rule 37 it be found that the summons has not been served upon the defendant in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to pay the court-fee leviable for such service, the Registrar may order that the suit be dismissed: Provided that no such order shall be passed if on the day fixed for the enquiry the defendant attends in person or by pleader or recognized agent and enters an appearance.

Appearance.

40. An infant can only enter an appearance by his guardian ad litem. This rule will apply to a person of unsound mind not so found by inquisition.

41. A defendant in a case in which a decree by default may be recorded against him may enter an appearance at any time before such a decree has been recorded against him.

42. In cases not otherwise provided for, a defendant may, with the permission of the Court, enter an appearance after the time allowed to him for that purpose. If he allows the case to proceed to a hearing without entering an appearance, he may at the hearing cross-examine the plaintiff's witnesses and address the Court; but unless the Court otherwise orders, evidence will not be received on his behalf: Provided that an infant or a person under disability will not be precluded from defending a suit in the ordinary course.

43. The mode of entering an appearance shall be by a memorandum written on a form to be provided by the Court and dated on the day on which it is delivered. It shall contain the name of the defendant's pleader, with the address of his place of business; or shall state that the defendant defends in person, in which case his own address, at which processes may be served, shall be given.

44. The memorandum of appearance shall be in the following form with such variations as circumstances may require: —

IN THE CALCUTTA COURT OF SMALL CAUSES.

SUIT No. OF

Between A ... ... Plaintiff,

B, ... Defendant.

Enter an appearance for B in this action.

Signed.—B. of No. in the Town of Calcutta.

[Add address for service.]

[Or if a pleader appears for B, the requisition should be signed.]

E. F. of No. in the Town of Calcutta.

Pleader for the defendant B.

[Add address of place of business.]

45. On a memorandum of appearance being signed and filed, a certificate of appearance sealed with the seal of the Court shall be given to the person entering the appearance, with a note written thereon, if the date for hearing can be then fixed, stating before which Bench the case will be heard and the day on which the case will appear in the list of causes before such Bench.

Service of Process.

46. All notices and orders required to be given to or served on any person shall be in writing and shall be served in the manner provided in these rules for the service of summons.

47. Unless otherwise ordered, a requisition to the Clerk of the Court to produce any record shall be delivered at least one clear day before the day fixed for the hearing of the matter in which inspection of the record is required.

48. No summons, process or warrant shall be served or executed against—

(a) any person on a Sunday, Christmas Day or Good Friday;
(b) any Hindu during the four days of Durga Puja, viz, Saptami, Ashtami, Novami and Dashami;
(c) any Muhammadan on the following four days, viz, Eed-ul-Fitre, Eed-uz-Zoha (or Bukri-Eed) and the last two days of Mohurrum.

Set-off.

49. When a defendant is desirous of setting off any sum under section 111 of the Code, he shall immediately after entering an appearance, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Court, file in Court the particulars of such set-off and furnish the plaintiff with a copy thereof.

Witnesses.

50. Every summons to a person to give evidence or produce a document shall be served as nearly as may be in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for the service of summons on a defendant.

51. The scale in Schedule B annexed to these rules shall be the scale of expenses ordinarily allowed to witnesses under section 160 of the Code: Provided that, when a witness is an agent or servant of the party requiring his attendance, no such expenses shall be allowed. In cases not provided for in the scale, the Court will exercise its discretion in allowing the expenses of the witness.

52. A witness shall, before he is sworn or solemnly affirmed, be entitled to be paid his expenses, if they have not been previously paid. If a witness attend in one matter only, he will be entitled to the full allowance. If he attend in more than one matter on the same day, he will be entitled to such proportionate part in each matter as the Court may direct.

53. When a tender of expenses is made at the time of service, a sum not less than the minimum rate allowed by the scale for the particular class of witness shall be tendered to him. In the event of any question arising as to the amount of the tender, the Court shall decide the same at the hearing of the matter in respect of which the witness is required to attend.

54. A witness residing out of Calcutta will be entitled to all travelling expenses reasonably and actually expended by him, or likely to be expended by him, and will also, if detained in Calcutta, be allowed such a sum for subsistence-money and carriage hire as the Court, having regard to the scale of expenses, may consider reasonable.

55. The expenses of a commission to examine witnesses shall, in the first instance, be defrayed by the party taking out the commission.

Suits to be set down for hearing.

56. Except as provided in rules 60 and 61, and unless otherwise ordered, every cause in which no appearance has been entered shall, after proof of service of summons before the Registrar, forthwith be sent up to a Judge for hearing, or if the plaintiff so requires, be set down for hearing before a Judge at such time as the Registrar may appoint; and every cause in which appearance has been entered and there is only one defendant shall be set down for hearing before a Judge on the 4th Court day after the last day for entering appearance; and every cause in which appearance has been entered and there are more defendants than one shall, after proof of the service of summons on the defendants (if any) who fail to enter appearance, be set down for hearing before a Judge on the 8th Court day after the last day for entering appearance: Provided always that, if required by circumstances, the Registrar may, at his discretion, set any cause down for hearing on any other day.

List of defended causes.

57. Unless otherwise ordered, each case on the list of a Judge shall be taken in its turn, and shall, whether the pleaders or other legal practitioners be present or not, be heard de die in diem until disposed of.

58. A case that has come before a Judge can only be postponed by such Judge, or the Bench representing such Judge, on sufficient cause being shown. Except as aforesaid, a case, not in the list for the day, may, on a requisition signed by all the parties or their agents or pleaders, be postponed by the Registrar.

59. The Registrar may, in any case not in the list for the day, enter a compromise, make a consent decree, or allow a suit to be withdrawn, and may grant leave to bring a fresh suit for the same cause of action.

Suits for liquidated demands.

60. Decree by default.—In a suit for a liquidated demand, the Registrar shall, after the time allowed for entering an appearance, subject to rule 62, record a decree by default against the defendant, or where there are several defendants, against every defendant served with the writ or summons who has failed to enter an appearance, and the plaintiff may obtain execution against every such defendant, without prejudice to his right to proceed with the action against every other defendant.

Suits for damages.

61. In a suit for damages in which the summons has been served on the defendant, or on every defendant, if there be more than one, and no appearance has been entered, the Registrar shall, after the time allowed for entering an appearance, subject to rule 62, proceed to assess the damages in such manner as he may think fit, and shall record a decree for the amount.

62. Rules 60 and 61 shall not apply to an infant or to a person of unsound mind not so found by inquisition.

63. After a decree has been recorded by default, the Court may, under special circumstances, set aside the decree, and, if necessary, stay or set aside execution, and may give leave to enter an appearance and defend the suit if it seems reasonable to the Court so to do, and on such terms as the Court thinks fit.

Other suits.

64. If when a case is called on for hearing and neither party appears, the suit shall be dismissed, unless the Judge otherwise directs.

65. When a suit is dismissed under the last preceding rule, the plaintiff may [subject to the law of limitation] bring a fresh suit; or if, within the period of thirty days from the date of the order dismissing the suit, he satisfies the Court that there was sufficient excuse for his not paying the Court-fee required within the time allowed for the service of the summons, or for his non-appearance, as the case may be, the Court shall pass an order to set aside the dismissal and restore the suit to the list of defended causes for hearing.

66. Except as provided in rules 60 and 61, if when a suit is called on for hearing the plaintiff appears and the defendant does not appear, the Court may proceed ex parte.

67. If when a suit is called on for hearing the defendant appears and the plaintiff does not appear, the Court shall dismiss the suit, unless the defendant admits the claim, or part thereof, in which case the Court shall pass a decree against the defendant upon such admission, and where part of the claim has been admitted, shall dismiss the suit so far as it relates to the remainder.

68. When a suit is wholly or partially dismissed, the plaintiff shall be precluded from bringing a fresh suit in respect of the same cause of action. But he may apply for an order to set the dismissal aside; and if it be proved that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall set aside the dismissal, upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit.

No such order shall be made unless the plaintiff has served the defendant with notice in writing of his application.

69. Except as provided in rules 60 and 61, when a suit, in which there are more defendants than one is called on for hearing, and one or more of the defendants appear and the others do not appear, the suit shall proceed, and the Court shall, at the time of passing judgment, make such order as it thinks fit with respect to the defendants who do not appear.

70. In any case [not being a case to which rule 63 is applicable] in which a decree is passed ex-parte against a defendant, he may apply to the Court by which the decree was made for an order to set it aside; and if he satisfies the Court that the summons was not duly served, or that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall pass an order to set aside the decree upon such terms as to costs, payment into Court or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit.

71. If, on any day to which the hearing of a suit is adjourned, the parties or any of them fail to appear, the Court may proceed to dispose of the suit in one of the modes hereinbefore directed, or otherwise, as it thinks fit.

Compromise and Decree.

72. Every suit or proceeding in the list of a Judge for the day settled by agreement of the parties shall be reported in open Court to the Clerk of the Bench before which the suit or proceeding is pending, or to the Bench.

73. When the Court directs that any decree shall be paid by instalments, such instalments shall, in the absence of any direction to the contrary, be paid into Court monthly, and, in default of payment of any one instalment, the whole decree or the balance thereof shall become due.

74. A decree against an executor, or administrator, or a legal representative, shall be that the decree be levied out of the property of the deceased in the hands of such executor, administrator, or legal representative; provided that the plaintiff may apply to the Court that the decree may be executed against the defendant in person and not in his representative capacity, and the Court may, if it is satisfied that the defendant has misapplied the property of the deceased come to his hands and improperly withheld payment, make an order that the decree or any portion thereof may be executed against the defendant in person and not in his representative capacity.

Execution.

75. Every application for executing a decree or ordinary process of the Court shall be on a form to be provided by the Court and shall be presented to the Clerk of the Court.

76. The Court or the Registrar may, upon the ex-parte application of any person who has obtained a decree or order for the recovery or payment of money, either before or after any oral examination of the debtor liable under such decree or order, and upon affidavit by himself or his pleader or recognised agent stating that a decree or order has been made, and that it is still unsatisfied, and to what amount, and that any other person is indebted to such debtor and is within the jurisdiction, order that all debts owing or accruing from such third person (hereinafter called the garnishee) to such debtor shall be attached to answer the decree or order; and by the same or any subsquent order it may be ordered that the garnishee shall appear before the Court or the Registrar to show cause why he should not pay to the person who has obtained such decree or order the debt due from him to such debtor, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree or order.

77. Service of an order that debts due or accruing to a debtor liable under the decree or order shall be attached, or notice thereof to the garnishee, in such manner as the Court or the Registrar shall direct, shall bind such debts in his hands.

78. If the garnishee does not forthwith pay into Court the amount due from him to the debtor liable under a decree or order, or an amount equal to the amount payable under the decree or order, and does not dispute the debt due or claimed to be due from him to such debtor, or if he does not appear upon summons, then the Court, or the Registrar, may order execution to issue, and it may issue accordingly, without any previous writ or process, to levy the amount due from such garnishee, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree or order.

79. If the garnishee disputes his liability, the Court or the Registrar, instead of making an order that execution shall issue, may order that any issue or question necessary for determining his liability be tried or determined in any manner in which any issue or question in an action may be tried or determined.

80. Whenever in proceedings to obtain an attachment of debts it is suggested by the garnishee that the debt sought to be attached belongs to some third person, or that any third person has a lien, or charge upon it, the Court or the Registrar may order such third person to appear, and state the nature and particulars of his claim upon such debt.

81. After hearing the allegations of any third person under such order, as in rule 80 mentioned, and of any other person whom by the same or any subsequent order the Court or the Registrar may order to appear, or in case of such third person not appearing when ordered, the Court or the Registrar may order execution to issue to levy the amount due from such garnishee, or any issue or question to be tried or determined according to the preceding rules relating to garnishees, and may bar the claim of such third person, or make such other order as such Court or the Registrar shall think fit, upon such terms in all cases, with respect to the lien or charge (if any) of such third person, and to costs, as the Court or the Registrar shall think just and reasonable.

82. Payment made by or execution levied upon the garnishee upon any such proceeding as aforesaid shall be a valid discharge to him as against the debtor liable under a decree or order, to the amount paid or levied, although such proceeding may be set aside, or the decree or order reversed.

83. There shall be kept by the proper officer a debt attachment book, and in such book entries shall be made of the attachment and proceedings thereon, with names, dates, and statements of the amount recovered, and otherwise; and copies of any entries made therein may be taken by any person upon application to the proper officer and payment of a prescribed fee.

84. The costs of any application for an attachment of debts, and of any proceedings arising from or incidental to such application, shall be in the discretion of the Court or the Registrar.

85. A warrant issued under sections 250 and 251 of the Code shall be returnable within one month from the date thereof.

Applications generally.

86. Every application (not being an application for execution) required by the Act or the extended portions of the Code, or by the next following rules, to be in writing, must contain—

(a) the name of the plaintiff,
(b) the name of the defendant,
(c) the relief or order applied for,
(d) the ground on which the relief or order is applied for.

It must be signed by the applicant or his recognised agent and his pleader, if any, and, unless in these rules otherwise provided, must be verified in the same manner as a plaint. It shall ordinarily, unless it be a matter which can under the preceding rules be dealt with by the Registrar, be presented to the particular Bench which passed the decree or order or before which the suit or matter is pending.

87. In making an application the applicant must be prepared with all necessary evidence for helping the Court to a proper determination of the matter.

88. On receiving an application the Court shall (if necessary) fix a day for hearing the same.

89. When an application has been received, and it is necessary to give notice to any person interested, a copy of the application to be furnished by the applicant, together with notice of the date fixed for its hearing, shall be served on such person in the same manner as a summons.

90. The following applications shall be in writing:—

(a) Under section 109 and Chapters XXI and XXXI, and sections 477 and 483 of the Code.

(b) Under sections 18 (leave to institute a suit), 38 and 60 of the Act.

(c) Under rules 63, 65, 68 and 70.

91. An application under section 18 of the Act for leave to institute a suit shall, in addition to the particulars specified in rule 86, contain—

(a) the residence of the plaintiff, or where he carries on business, or works for gain;

(b) the residence of the defendant, or where he carries on business;

(c) the cause of action, or whether it arose wholly or in part within the jurisdiction.

Application for new trial or to set aside a dismissal or decree.

92. Every application under rules 63, 65, 68 or 70, or under section 38 of the Act, shall, when presented to the Court, be accompanied with a copy of such application, and such copy shall be served through the Court, or through some other Court, on the party as against whom the application is made, and ordinarily at least four clear days before the date fixed for hearing the application. Such service shall be made in the same manner as the service of summons. An application under section 38 of the Act need not be verified.

In very such application the grounds shall be fully and distinctly set out, and the applicant shall at the hearing be restricted to the grounds contained in his application.

93. Every application under section 38 of the Act shall, when the applicant has appeared at the original hearing by advocate or pleader, ordinarily be supported by a certificate of such advocate or pleader that in his opinion there are good grounds for the application.

94. The Court may, at any time after any application mentioned in rule 92 is presented to the Court, put the parties on such terms as to furnishing security for costs, or for the amount of the claim and costs by payment into Court or otherwise, as it shall think fit.

95. Every application under section 38 of the Act shall be heard before two Judges at least, one of whom shall be the Judge who tried the matter in respect of which the application is made, and the other the Chief Judge. If the matter in respect of which the application is made was heard by the Chief Judge, one of more Judges shall sit with him to hear the application. The Chief Judge, or, in his absence the senior Judge, may, under special circumstances, direct that any Judges other than those specified may hear any application under section 38 of the Act.

Claims and Complaints.

96. When a claim is preferred or objection made under section 278 or 487 of the Code or section 61 of the Act in respect of any property attached or seized, or in respect of the proceeds or value thereof, the claimant or objector shall file a plaint in which the claimant or objector shall be the plaintiff and the execution creditor, or the person who obtained the warrant, the defendant, and the matter shall then be treated as a suit.

97. Such plaint shall contain a statement of the particulars of the property claimed or of the objection made, and of the grounds of the claim or objection.

98. When such a plaint has been filed, the sale of the property attached or seized shall be postponed pending the result of the suit. If the property has been sold and the money is in Court, the same shall be detained pending such result.

99. A complaint under section 328 of the Code shall be in writing and shall contain particulars of the obstruction complained of. It shall be in the form of an application and be treated as such, but shall be verified by the decree holder or some person who on his behalf has accompanied the officer entrusted with the execution of the warrant, and is acquainted with the facts of the complaint.

Recovery of possession of immoveable property.

100. Application under section 41 of the Act shall be in the form of a plaint in which the applicant shall be the plaintiff and the occupant the defendant, and the matter shall then be treated as a suit. For the purpose of ascertaining the value of the suit the annual value of the property in respect of which the claim is made shall be deemed to be the value of such property, and such annual value shall be stated in the plaint.

Procedure in applications, appeals and references under Act III, 1899, of the Bengal Council.

101. Every application, appeal or reference made to the Small Cause Court under the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, shall be in the form of a plaint in which the person making the application, appeal or reference shall be plaintiff, and the person against whom any relief or a decision is sought shall be defendant. The plaint shall contain the following particulars:—

(a) The section or rule of the Municipal Act under which the application, appeal or reference is made.
(b) The names of the plaintiff and the defendant
(c) In proceedings under section 616 or 617 of the Municipal Act, the amount and particulars of the claim.
(d) The grounds on which the application, appeal or reference is made.
(e) The relief or order applied for.

Miscellaneous.

103. All acts which may be done by the Court in regard to the appointment or removal of a guardian ad litem under sections 456, 457, 458, 459 and 460 of the Code, or in regard to the substitution or addition of parties to a suit, may be done by the Registrar.

104. When a bond is given under section 29 of the Act as security for the payment of a decree, the obligor of such bond shall at the same time sign a warrant to confess judgment thereon.

105. No correspondence relating to suits or proceedings before the Court can be attended to, but any person having business in the Court or its office shall transact the same in person or by a duly authorised agent or pleader.

106. The Court shall frame forms for every proceeding in the Court for which it shall think it necessary that a form be provided, and may, from time to time, alter any such form or forms.

107. The portions of the Code set forth in the Schedule hereunto annexed, marked A, with such modifications as are indicated in the said Schedule, are extended to the Calcutta Court of Small Causes to be applied, with due regard to the foregoing rules.

108. These rules shall come into force on the 26th of October 1900.

109 From and after that date the Rules of Practice passed by the Court under the Act and hitherto in force shall stand repealed, but such repeal shall not affect anything done under such rules.

Commission to examine witnesses issued to this Court.

110. When a commission to examine any witness is issued by a competent Court to the Calcutta Court of Small Causes, the Chief Judge, or in his absence the Senior Judge of the latter Court, may, under the provisions of the Evidence by Commission Act, 1885 [48 and 49 Vict., C. 74], nominate a fit person to execute such commission. Such person when so nominated shall have all the powers intended by that Act to be given to a substituted Commissioner, and shall also for the purpose of such commission be deemed to be a Commissioner, under Chapter 25 of the Code, with all such powers as are given to a Commissioner by section 398 of the Code.

111. Sections 397, 399 and 400 of the Code shall be applicable to every substituted Commissioner nominated under the provisions of the Evidence by Commission Act, 1885.

To—His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

Congratulations from India on the success of British arms in South Africa

I HAVE submitted to Her Majesty the Queen-Empress your letter in the Home Department, No. 30, of the 17th May last, with which you forward congratulations on the success of the British arms in South Africa received from numerous Native Chiefs, public bodies and private individuals throughout India.

2. I have now received Her Majesty's commands to convey to Your Excellency the expression of the gratification with which the Queen-Empress has received these tokens of loyalty from every quarter of India, from the Ruling Princes of the Native States, and from all classes of her loyal Indian subjects. At a time when many parts of the country are afflicted with famine, pestilence and drought, Her Majesty's subjects, and the Chiefs and people of the Protected States, have alike hastened, in spite of the prevailing distress, to express their joyful sentiments on the occurrence of each success that has been achieved by the military forces of the Queen-Empress, and Her Majesty cordially appreciates the spirit of union and devotion which has called forth their congratulations.

The 17th August 1900.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Dacca will be put up to sale at the Dacca Collectorate on Thursday, the 20th September 1900, corresponding with Bengali 4th day of Asvin 1307.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate in the district of Cuttack will be put up to sale at the Cuttack Collectorate on the 10th of September 1900, corresponding with 27th Bhadra 1308.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of the estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to the existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

PART III.

Acts of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honour on the 28th July, 1900, and, having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 14th August, 1900, is hereby published for general information :—

BENGAL ACT No. IV OF 1900.

An Act to give effect to an agreement made on the 9th December, 1899, between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited.

WHEREAS an agreement, a copy whereof is set forth in the Schedule to this Act, was made between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, on the 9th December, 1899 ;

And whereas it is declared in the said agreement that the same shall be subject to sanction and authorization by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council to be thereafter passed for the purpose ;

And whereas it is expedient that such sanction and authorisation should be given ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Tramways (Electric Traction) Act, 1900.

Sanction to the agreement. 2. The agreement, a copy whereof is set forth in the Schedule to this Act, is hereby sanctioned and authorized, and the concessions or contracts, dated respectively the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, and the agreement of the 2nd September, 1898, in such agreement mentioned, and the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, and the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1894, shall so far as may be necessary to validate and give effect to such agreement, be extended, varied or modified.

THE SCHEDULE.

Agreement, dated 9th December, 1899, between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited.

ARTICLES of Agreement made this ninth day of December, 1899 BETWEEN THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA constituted by and under the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888, of the Bengal Legislative Council, hereinafter called the Corporation, of the one part, and THE CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS COMPANY, LIMITED, a Company incorporated under the English Companies' Acts, having its registered Office at 11, Abchurch Lane, London, hereinafter called the Company, of the other part. WHEREAS, by two Concessions or Contracts the first thereof being dated the 2nd October, 1879, and made between the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta constituted by and under Act IV of 1876 of the Bengal Legislative Council of the one part and Dillwyn Parrish, Alfred Parrish and Robinson Souttar, in such Concession or Contract described and therein and hereinafter referred to as the grantees, of the other part, and the second Concession or Contract being dated the 22nd November, 1879, and made between the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners of the Suburbs of Calcutta, a body created and rendered corporate by Act V of 1876 of the Bengal Legislative Council, of the one part, and the said Dillwyn Parrish, Alfred Parrish and Robinson Souttar as grantees, of the other part, which Concessions or Contracts respectively received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and were further sanctioned by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council entitled the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, the grantees, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns were authorized to construct, maintain and use, in the manner, upon the terms and subject to the conditions and provisions in the said Concessions or Contracts respectively expressed and contained, certain lines of tramway therein respectively referred to in Calcutta and the Suburbs thereof respectively, and were also entitled, subject to the conditions and provisions in the said Concessions or Contracts respectively expressed and contained, to the exclusive right of laying and constructing, maintaining and using a tramway or tramways within the limits of the Calcutta Municipality and of laying, constructing, maintaining and using a tramway or tramways within the limits of the Calcutta Suburban Municipality. AND WHEREAS the Corporation are, under and by virtue of Act II of 1888 of the Bengal Legislative Council, the successors of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, parties of the first part to the said Concession or Contract of 2nd October, 1879, and of the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners of the Suburbs of Calcutta, party of the first part to the said Concession or Contract of the 22nd November, 1879, and the Company are the assignees of the grantees parties of the second part to the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and 22nd November, 1879, respectively. AND WHEREAS, by the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, it was agreed that in consideration of such Concession the grantees would pay rent at the several rates therein specified for the several periods in the said Concession or Contract mentioned. AND WHEREAS it was by the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, further agreed and provided that the Corporation of the town of Calcutta and their successors should have the right of purchasing the said tramways, with the plant, buildings, stores, rolling-stock and everything connected therewith, upon the expiration of twenty-one years from the commencement of the said Concession or Contract, upon declaring their intention so to do in writing not less than six months before the expiration of the said twenty-one years, and should have a renewed right of purchase at the end of every seven years after the expiration of the said twenty-one years upon similar notice being given, and the consideration for such purchase should be a cash payment of one and two-fifths of the amount of the invested capital of the said grantees or securities of the Government of India or securities the interest whereon should be guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council or debentures of the said Corporation of such amount as to produce, at the rate of interest current on such securities, 7 per cent. per annum on the amount of the said invested capital, and, if the consideration for such purchase should be given in such securities as aforesaid, the grantees should be entitled to have in addition a first mortgage of all the property, assets and profits of the tramway or tramways which should have been purchased from them. AND WHEREAS, by an agreement bearing date the 2nd day of September, 1893, and made between the Corporation of the one part and the Company of the other part, such agreement being sanctioned by Act III of 1894 of the Bengal Legislative Council, after reciting inter alia that under and by virtue of the 17th Clause of the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd day of October, 1879, the rent then payable by the said Calcutta Tramways Company Limited, to the said Corporation of Calcutta was calculated at the rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line, it was in reference thereto agreed that the rent payable by the said Company to the Corporation from the 1st January, 1894, to the 31st December, 1900, being the end of the 21st year referred to in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, should be calculated and paid at the said rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line anything in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, to the contrary notwithstanding, and the said agreement contained a proviso, which has since become inoperative, that a remission of Rs. 15,000 a year should be granted for 5 years with effect from 1894 subject to the condition that the dividends declared by the Company should not exceed 3½ per cent. per annum during that period. AND WHEREAS the said Company some time since proposed to the Corporation to substitute electric traction for horse-power traction heretofore employed in the working of the tramways approved of by the Corporation and constructed and maintained by the Company, and to make such alterations in the construction of the said tramways as might be necessary to render the lines suitable to the adoption of such substituted traction, to which proposal the said Corporation assented. AND WHEREAS the said Company have, with the assent of the said Corporation, already effected the necessary alteration in the construction of portions of the said tramways. AND WHEREAS the parties hereto have deemed it expedient and have mutually agreed, subject to the sanction and authorization of this agreement by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council, that the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and of the 22nd November, 1879, and the said agreement of the 2nd September, 1893, shall be varied or modified to the extent and in the manner hereinafter appearing. NOW THESE PRESENTS WITNESS that, subject to the sanction and authorization thereof by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council to be hereafter passed for the purpose, and in consideration of the said mutual agreement and of the covenants hereinafter contained and on the part of the said Corporation and of the said Company, respectively, to be observed and performed, the Corporation do hereby covenant with the Company and its assigns, and the Company for itself and its assigns doth hereby covenant with the Corporation, in manner following, that is to say :—

1. Preparatory to the introduction of the system of electric traction hereinafter mentioned, the Company will in a good and substantial manner alter and reconstruct the several tramways in Calcutta constructed and now maintained by the Company and specified in the Schedule hereto, and all other tramways in Calcutta now maintained by the Company, other than the tramways specified in the said Schedule, by removing therefrom the rails of the pattern and weight hitherto laid and maintained by the Company in connection with and for the purposes of the system of horse-power traction at present employed in working the said tramways, and by substituting for such rails in the existing gauge rails of such pattern and weight as shall in the opinion of the Engineer to the Corporation be suitable for electric traction.

2. The Company will execute and completely finish the work of alteration and reconstruction of the said tramways, as to those specified in the Schedule hereto by the 31st December, 1899, and will execute and completely finish the work of alteration and reconstruction of the said tramways, other than those so specified in the said Schedule, with all reasonable and proper despatch.

3. The Company will, within the period of three years from the date of this agreement, introduce and provide throughout the whole of the tramways of the Company a system of electric traction by means of overhead wires and of a description approved and accepted by the Corporation, in substitution for the existing system of horse-power traction, and will within the period aforesaid furnish and fully and efficiently equip the said tramways with all plant and machinery necessary for the purpose and render the said system of electric traction so to be substituted sufficient and complete in all details as a working system, and, having so introduced and provided the said system of electric traction and so furnished and fully and efficiently equipped the said tramways, will give notice in writing of the completion of the said system to the Corporation. The said system of electric traction shall be completed to the satisfaction, in all respects of the Engineer to the Corporation, and, on the Engineer to the Corporation satisfying himself that the said system of electric traction is complete, efficient and in good working order and safe for public service, and that the tramways and tramcars are in proper condition, he shall grant a certificate to that effect to the said Company, and from the date of the said certificate the said Company shall work the said system of electric traction.

4. If the Company shall not within the said period of three years from the date of this agreement complete the said system of electric traction in all details to the satisfaction of the Engineer to the Corporation, the Company shall be liable to and shall for such failure pay to the Corporation a penalty or fine of Rs. 200 for each day or part of a day until the said system of electric traction shall be completed in all details to the satisfaction of the said Engineer. The said penalty or fine shall be paid by the Company on demand therefor being made by or on behalf of the Corporation, and in the event of non-payment thereof shall be recoverable in full from the Company. If the Engineer to the Corporation shall decide that any work or thing to be done or provided under this agreement is not to his satisfaction, and the Company shall take objection to such decision as being unreasonable, the question shall be referred to and settled by arbitration in the manner provided by the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879.

5. The Corporation shall have the right of purchasing the said tramways, with the plant, machinery, land, buildings, rolling stock, stores and everything connected therewith belonging to the Company, on the 1st January, 1931, upon declaring their intention so to purchase the same in writing not less than six calendar months before the said date, and the Corporation shall have a renewed right of purchase at the end of every seven years after the said 1st January, 1931, upon similar notice being given. The consideration for such purchase shall be a cash payment of twenty-five times the difference between the average gross annual receipts and the working expenses of the Company, which said working expenses shall inter alia include track-rent and the proper up-keep and maintenance of the said tramways, plant, machinery, buildings, and rolling-stock, and any sum payable under clause 6. The average of the gross annual receipts and the working expenses for the purposes of such purchase shall be determined by taking the average of the seven years immediately preceding the date of such purchase. Upon the expiry of the said notice the Company shall make over to the Corporation the entire tramways, plant, machinery, land, buildings, rolling-stock, stores and everything connected therewith. If the payment by the Corporation of the consideration for such purchase shall be delayed beyond the period of 30 days from the date of the expiration of the notice so to be given, the Corporation will pay to the Company interest on the amount of such consideration or such part thereof as shall be unpaid at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum from the date of the expiration of such notice, until payment, but in no event shall the said consideration be allowed to remain unpaid for more than six months from the date on which the same shall become due and payable. The provisions of this clause shall be in lieu of and not in addition to any power of purchase now vested in the Corporation under the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, or either of them, or the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, or otherwise.

6. The Company will, prior to the date of the expiration of the notice to be given by the Corporation under and pursuant to the last preceding clause, well and sufficiently repair to the satisfaction of the Engineer to the Corporation such of the said tramways and of the said plant, machinery, buildings, rolling-stock and other things or such portions thereof, respectively, as shall then be in need of repair, and will place or restore the same in or to a good and serviceable order and condition, and will so make over the same to the Corporation. If default shall be made by the Company in complying with the provisions of this clause, the Corporation shall for such default, and to the extent thereof, be entitled to a deduction from the consideration for the purchase of the said tramways, plant, machinery, land, buildings, rolling-stock, stores and premises of the Company as aforesaid, the fact whether such default has occurred and the amount of such deduction to be determined by arbitration in the manner provided in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879.

7. Until such date as the Company shall have completed the said system of electric traction in all respects to the satisfaction of the Engineer to the Corporation, the Company will pay to the Corporation track-rent at the rate at which the same is now paid or may be payable by the Company under the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, and the said agreement of the 2nd September, 1893. On and from the date on which the Company shall have completed the said system of electric traction in all respects to the satisfaction of the Engineer to the Corporation, and thereafter throughout the period which shall elapse until the tramways, plant, machinery, buildings, rolling-stock, stores and premises shall be purchased by the Corporation in exercise of the liberty accorded by clause 5, the Company will pay to the Corporation the fixed track-rent of Rs. 35,000 per annum in respect of all the now-existing tramways without exception, provided that, if the working by the Company of any now-existing tramway or any portion thereof shall with the previous sanction of the Corporation be hereafter discontinued, the Company shall be entitled to a proportionate reduction of the said fixed rent in respect of the tramway or portion thereof the working whereof shall be so discontinued.

8. As from the date on which the Company shall have completed the said system of electric traction, and throughout the period which shall elapse between such date and the date of the purchase by the Corporation of the property of the Company in manner hereinbefore provided, the Company shall on all tramways the subject of this agreement provide and maintain such a full and proper daily service of tram cars running in both directions as shall in the opinion of the Chairman of the Corporation be sufficient for the requirements and convenience of the public.

9. If the Company shall in any respect fail to maintain a fit and proper daily service of tram-cars to the satisfaction of the Chairman of the Corporation, or shall in any respect fail to maintain the tramways in good and efficient order or the tram-cars in efficient condition to the satisfaction of the Engineer of the Corporation, the Chairman or the Engineer, as the case may be, shall give notice to the Company to make good any default by a date to be named in such notice, and should the Company take objection to such notice as being in any respect unreasonable the matter in question shall be referred to arbitration in the manner provided in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, and the arbitrators or their umpire shall by their or his award be empowered to direct the Company to do all works and things necessary to keep the tramways in good and efficient order or to maintain a fit and proper daily service of tram-cars or to maintain the cars in efficient condition, as the case may be, and the Company shall forthwith comply with the direction in such award within such period as shall be named therein, and, from the date of the submission to such arbitration or the date that may be fixed by the Engineer, if his decision is accepted, the Company shall, until they shall have complied with such notice or direction, be liable to pay and on demand by the Corporation shall pay the full track-rent provided for in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, and shall forfeit all right to or benefit of any modification of such rent during such period.

10. And it is expressly agreed and declared that, subject to the sanction and authorization of this Agreement by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council, the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, respectively, and the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, Act III (B.C.) of 1894 and the Agreement of the 2nd September, 1893, shall be read and construed as extended and varied or modified by this agreement.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

TRAFFIC IN GIRLS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE repeated his question of 21st July last:—

"Has the attention of the Government been called to a statement which has appeared in the newspapers to the effect that an extensive traffic in girls for immoral purposes is being carried on at Bankipore and other important towns in Bihar, and that a regular organisation is maintained for the purpose? If so, will the Government be pleased to state what steps it has taken or proposes to take for the suppression of the traffic and the organisation which supports it?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON in continuation of his previous answer replied:—

"The Commissioner of Patna has laid before Government all the facts available in regard to the alleged traffic in girls for immoral purposes. The matter has been receiving the attention of the local officers for some time. Since the beginning of the year 1898 altogether six cases have occurred in which girls have been kidnapped or enticed from their homes. In only one of these was prostitution the motive—in another, it was robbery—in the four remaining cases, the girls were of low caste and they were passed off as high caste girls and married to respectable and well-to-do husbands. A conviction has been obtained in one case, and three are pending. The police are on the track of two gangs who appear to practice this kind of fraud."

THE MUNDA RIOTS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked:—

"(a) Is it a fact that the proceedings under section 107, Criminal Procedure Code, against the Mundas have been dropped?

"(b) If so, how many months were the Mundas imprisoned under proceedings taken under that section?

"(c) During the imprisonment of the Mundas, how many of them died in jail?

"(d) Is there any truth in the statements which have appeared in the newspapers to the effect that many of the Mundas have been arrested again on fresh charges?

"(e) If they have been arrested on fresh charges, will the Government be pleased to enquire and state why these charges had not been brought against them until they had been in jail for nearly five months?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"(a) Proceedings against some of the Mundas under section 107 of the Criminal Procedure Code have been dropped; other Mundas have been bound down under that section.

"(b) The period of imprisonment varied, as the Mundas were arrested and discharged on various dates; detailed information is not at present available.

"(c) Thirteen Mundas have died in jail.

"(d) and (e) The Government has not been informed that discharged Mundas have been re-arrested."

THE CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS (ELECTRIC TRACTION) BILL, 1900.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER moved that the clauses of the Bill to give effect to an agreement made on the 9th December, 1899, between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, be considered for settlement. He said:—

"I need only make one observation in moving this motion, and that is with reference to the point raised by the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen at the last meeting of Council. The Hon'ble Member then drew attention to the provisions of clauses 1 and 2 of the agreement between the Tramways Company and the Calcutta Corporation, under which the lines of the tramways were required to be altered and re-constructed so as to adapt them for the purpose of electric-traction. He said that it might be argued that, in consequence of such alteration and re-construction, the new re-constructed lines would not constitute a tramway constructed under Act I of 1880, and therefore the provisions of the Act of 1880, relating to the levying of fares, would not be applicable to the new lines of tramway. Well, Sir, I discussed the matter with the Hon'ble Member after Council last Saturday, and arranged to refer the matter for the opinion of the learned Advocate-General. I have done this, and I will read to you the opinion which the Advocate-General has given. The Hon'ble Mr. Woodroffe says:—

'The substitution of rails suitable for electric-traction for rails suitable to horse-power traction on the existing gauge does not appear to me to render the tramways so altered tramways to which the provisions of Act I of 1880 are inapplicable, seeing that by section 7 of that Act it is provided that the tram-cars on the lines of the tramways shall be worked with such power, animal or mechanical, as the grantees may think suitable. In my opinion that section permits and authorises the adoption and use of electricity as a motive power.'

"In other words, the Hon'ble Advocate-General advises that the danger which the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen suggested is not a real one, and therefore it is not necessary to consider it further."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER also moved that the following words be added at the end of section 2 of the Bill, namely:—

'And the concessions or contracts, dated respectively the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, and the agreement of the 2nd September, 1893, in such agreement mentioned, and the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, and the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1894, shall, so far as may be necessary to validate and give effect to such agreement, be extended, varied or modified.'

He said:—"The amendment which stands in my name was not in the hands of Hon'ble Members until Thursday last instead of being delivered to them on Wednesday, as required by Rules 21 and 22 of the Rules of Business. Therefore I beg to ask Your Honour's permission to be allowed to move this amendment now."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT:—"You are permitted."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER continued:—"This amendment is moved with reference to a point taken by the Hon'ble the Raja of Nashipur. He came to see me on Saturday last, and on the following day sent me a letter, in which he drew attention to the fact that the purchase clauses in the new agreement are not in consonance with section 30 of the old Act of 1880. Section 30 provides that the purchase money shall be 140 per cent. of the invested capital of the Company, whereas by the new agreement these provisions are entirely done away with and a fresh set of purchase clauses are introduced. The Hon'ble Raja doubted whether there would not be some inconvenience unless the terms of the agreement were made consistent with the express provisions of the Act of 1880.

"It seemed to me that there might be something in this, and I referred the matter to the Hon'ble Advocate-General, who advises that possibly it is not really necessary to make this change, but thinks, to be on the safe side and in view of any possible misapprehension, that it would be advisable to add a few words to section 2 of the Bill in order to make the matter perfectly clear. I will read the opinion given by the Hon'ble Mr. Woodroffe:—

'Possibly an Act sanctioning and authorising an agreement, either modifying, varying, or extending other agreements sanctioned and authorised by other Acts, or inconsistent with such other Acts, might be held by implication to modify, vary or extend such other agreements and Acts.'

"But I think it safer to avoid this somewhat difficult question by adding to section 2 of the Bill the following words:—

'And the concessions or contracts, dated respectively the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, and the agreement of the 2nd September, 1893, in such agreement mentioned, and the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, and the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1894, shall, so far as may be necessary to validate and give effect to such agreement, be extended, varied, or modified.'.

"These are the words which form my amendment. It is of a purely formal and technical character, and makes no difference in the substance of the Bill. I imagine it covers also the object which the Hon'ble Raja of Nashipur has in the amendment, of which he himself has given notice."

The Hon'ble MR. WOODROFFE said:—"When the Hon'ble Mr. Baker submitted this matter for my opinion, although not thinking it absolutely necessary that this clause should be put into this Bill, yet considering it in every respect desirable that there should be as little room for litigation and misunderstanding as to the Acts of the Legislature as possible, it seemed to me desirable that this section, which is the substance of the 10th clause of the agreement between the Corporation and the Company, should be inserted in express words into the Bill, which is before the Council. The effect of its insertion will be to remove all doubts and difficulties which might arise from the construction of that clause of the contract, by which the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company purport to repeal and alter certain Acts, alterations which neither the Corporation nor the Tramways Company could of course of themselves by any convention effect for themselves.

"No doubt it would in all probability be held, that when that contract came before the Council and received the sanction of the Legislature, such legislative action would then do that which the Corporation and the Company purported to do. But by putting in this clause, all the questions surrounding this matter will be set at rest.

"I think it removes, also, if it were not already quite clear from a consideration of the 7th section of the old Act, that electricity may thereunder be substituted for horse power, the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen's objections. It seems to me also to possess this advantage, that it is not limited, as is the proposed amendment of the Hon'ble Raja of Nashipur, to one particular section, but extends to all the previous Acts and contracts, which are in any way inconsistent with the contract, which by the present Bill is proposed to be legalised."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA, BAHADUR, of Nashipur, said:—"As the amendment just carried will cover the amendment I proposed to bring forward, I beg to withdraw the following motion with Your Honour's permission:—

That the following section be inserted after section 2 of the Bill, namely:—

'3. It repeals section 30 of Bengal Act I of 1880.'"

The Hon'ble MR BAKER said:—"In consequence of the amendment which has just been carried, it is open to any Hon'ble Member under Rule 44 of the Rules of Business to object to the passing of the Bill at the present meeting of the Council, unless His Honour the President, in the exercise of his discretion, rules that the objection should not prevail. I am not aware whether any Hon'ble Member has any objection to the passing of the Bill at the present sitting: if not, I will proceed with the motion which stands in my name."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—"I might very reasonably have expected that if ever I am to be in agreement with the view of Government in respect of any subject of legislation, it would surely be in respect of this little Bill, the brief 2 or 3 sections of which seem to leave but little scope for disagreement. But my hon'ble friend has picked out a subject which is the one, within the whole range of municipal administration, in the discussion of which I have refused any further part, because I have deliberately formed the opinion that in treating with the Tramways Company on the footing on which they have proceeded, the Calcutta Corporation have passed the bounds of businesslike consideration, and are roaming in the field of an improvident and shortsighted policy. It is to such a question that I am now called upon by my hon'ble friend to give my approval and sanction. My predicament becomes the more unhappy by reason of the Government having introduced the measure at the request of the Corporation, on whose nomination I am a member in this Council. The position that my hon'ble friend has created for me is a cruel one. I invoke the sympathy of my colleagues, and I seek their indulgence, because I feel that I cannot shirk the responsibility of my position. I submit that it cannot be gainsaid that, since I cannot agree to support the Bill, it becomes incumbent on me to state my reasons against it.

"I assume, Sir, that hon'ble members know the conditions under which we have, for so many years, suffered at the hands of the Tramways Company. That Company had barely commenced working, when the Chamber of Commerce complained formally of the state of their tracks and lines. Well, Sir, their own authorities had represented the track rent to be in all circumstances a fair rent, but by threats of stopping work, the Company caused the Corporation to weakly yield to them a remission of Rs. 15,000 annually. This was done in order that the tracks and lines should be kept in proper order. But their condition and the whole working of the concern steadily deteriorated, and went from bad to worse, and became such as was truly described to us as being 'scandalous,' when in 1896 we were approached with a view of obtaining a fresh concession. But the terms then asked for only would have intensified the worst evils of the existing agreement. And I acknowledge the valuable aid that was given to myself in my successful effort to reject the proposals, that were then made by my hon'ble friend Mr. Baker, who then was a member of the Corporation. Thereafter, on the proposal of my hon'ble friend, the whole question was re committed, but to a special Committee nominated by my hon'ble friend. One of the terms of reference was to the effect that the concession to be given should not be for more than 21 years. Well, Sir, this Committee, after very careful investigation, at many meetings, I think 12 in number, presented their report. The Committee included my hon'ble friends Mr. Baker, Babu Surendranath Banerjee, also Mr. Simmons and Babu Nolin Behari Sircar, whose names have been specially mentioned by my hon'ble friend. Mr. Bright was the Chairman. There was a question raised that the terms were too stringent. I will read the concluding paragraph of the report on the point:—

'They [that is, the Special Committee] have, however, every confidence that, while the terms are no doubt stringent, they are not more so than the circumstances of the case necessitate, nor are they any more stringent than can be justly demanded.'

"In the progress of the proceedings, the Committee, at my instance, referred certain questions to the late Advocate-General Sir Charles Paul and my hon'ble and learned friend, our present Advocate-General, Mr. Woodroffe, for their joint opinion. They supported me on every point that I had taken in my contention against the agreement originally proposed, and they went on and advised, with regard to the course to be taken by the Corporation, that proceedings should be pressed against the Company in accordance with their covenants, and if they were unable to perform them, to proceed to liquidation. This advice endorsed my own contention throughout. I was regarded as taking an extreme view on one side, while my hon'ble friend, the member in charge, was pressing the extreme view at the other end. The report was in the nature of a compromise between these views, and while I still maintained that the only course to be pursued, if we were to look to the interest of the public and not of the Company and the shareholders of the Company, was to require the Tramways Company to perform their part of the agreement with us, and failing performance on their part, to proceed to liquidation as advised by the eminent Counsel whose opinion we had sought, I was willing to abstain from further opposition and accept the report as a compromise. The terms recommended, however, were regarded as being the utmost which we could consider, and it was most distinctly and clearly understood that we could not make any further concessions beyond the terms which were then adopted. Now, Sir, the Corporation had been pressing their Executive for years past to insist on the Tramways Company to put their lines and tracks in order. In 1896 a formal resolution was arrived at to that effect by the Commissioners in meeting. A resolution to the same effect was repeated in the Special Committee before they made their report, and this resolution also was confirmed by a general meeting of the Commissioners. But action had, as always before, been neglected by the Executive. After the adoption of the report to which I have been referring, I went, not once or twice, but repeatedly to the Chairman to urge him to take action under this resolution, because I have felt convinced that, unless we brought home to the Directors of the Tramways Company that we were determined on firm action, they would never accept any of our demands seriously. And whenever I represented this to Mr. Bright, I was assured and re-assured, in the most positive manner, that casts of the tram lines had been taken which showed a wide difference from the standard required by law; that every preparation had been made to proceed against the Company without delay, if in their reply, which was due on the 6th of February, 1898, the Company did not accept our terms without qualification. In the meantime, I failed to induce the Chairman to move, and in fact the Chairman did not move actively as I had so much pressed him to do. The result was only what I had foreseen. The Tramways Company did not accept our insistence seriously and simply laughed at our terms. And in the most arrogant tone this Company, that had failed all along to keep their word to us, rejected our proposals and proposed counter-terms, demanding that they must have this and they must have that, and, amongst others, they demanded that they must have a concession of 42 years. On some very important points indeed, we had shaped our terms in agreement with their own Manager in Calcutta, Mr. Maples, who had attended our meeting as their representative and had personally concurred in the terms to which I am now referring, during our negotiations with him. Nevertheless the Directors, when our agreement had been embodied in our terms, repudiated Mr. Maples and rejected the terms to which he had agreed. In such circumstances, would you, Sir, not suppose that action would be taken in accordance with the advice of our constituted legal advisers? Not a bit of it! We at the moment were showing acute symptoms of the outbreak of the chronic disease from which our unhappy Municipality suffers; there was to be a change in the office of Chairman. Mr. Bright was meditating going on leave, and from early in February to the time he left in March or April, his own repeated assurances and all the determination so firmly expressed to take action dropped out of sight. In fact nothing was done by the time Mr. Greer came on the scene as our acting Chairman, and we had the experience, not for the first time, of the locum tenens in the office of the Chairman adopting a policy diametrically opposed to that of the permanent incumbent. No action was proceeded with in accordance with the advice of eminent Counsel, and although we had determined to offer certain terms which embodied the utmost limit of concession to the Tramways Company, beyond which we had come to an understanding not to go, and which terms I had abstained from opposing only on the footing that it was a compromise between views held within the Corporation, Mr. Greer came forward in support of a new set of terms, going beyond those we had decided not to go beyond, and shaped on the counter-proposals of the Tramways Company, but not going so far as their demands. These were, of course, said to be the final limit of our concession to the Tramways Company. Again my protests were disregarded and my opinion was laughed at as a preposterous and impracticable one, when I insisted that the Tramways Company would again reject our proposals, having obtained the measure of our capacity to yield, and that our only course, if we were to have regard for the public interest, was to enforce our rights by legal proceedings. It was expressly asserted against me that no legal proceedings could be taken against the Tramways Company. Well, the terms which were offered as the final concession possible were again rejected, and then it was discovered that legal proceedings, the idea of which was scouted when suggested by myself, were after all quite practicable, and were initiated with a great show of determination, but the determination all fizzled out in some way. I am unable to say exactly what happened, for I do not myself clearly know. I had given up the subject as hopelessly beyond redemption. I withdrew from any active participation in any further negotiations, and I had paid no attention to the agreement, which was arrived at subsequently, between the Corporation and the Tramways Company, beyond a general protest against it, until I received a copy of it, when it was circulated among the papers connected with this Bill before the Council. And now that I have studied the agreement I cannot find reason to congratulate the Corporation on the terms that have been made. The agreement is dated 9th December, 1899, and in a schedule I see set out the different streets in which the lines are to be completed by the 31st day of the same month, that is to say, within 22 days. I thought that I should like to see with what care and attention the Executive were entering upon the new agreement, and I have obtained particulars as to the length of lines remaining to be completed within 22 days. I find that there was still remaining 4,800 feet, and I say that it was physically impossible for the Tramways Company to complete their work in the term of their contract. Did not the Executive know that, and did they then deliberately enter into a contract without demur, although they were aware that the contract could not be performed in terms of the agreement? It is not here a question when the period is to expire at some distance of time, but here it is a fixed time that has almost arrived. Would my hon'ble friends who represent the Chamber of Commerce and the Trades' Association deliberately enter into an agreement under such circumstances and under such conditions, when it is clear that the party contracting to complete certain works by a certain date cannot possibly complete it within the specified time? The result to be expected, occurred. There were not less than 3,888 feet 10 inches still remaining to be completed when the due date of the completion arrived. I have dwelt on this point as one indicative of what I always expect in our dealing with the Tramways Company, and what has had influence on me throughout our negotiations with that Company. The Tramways Company are ready to make promises without regard to their performance of them, while our Executive will never seriously regard whatever the Company may be required to do under the express terms of their contract. This has been our experience in the past, and I suppose that this will be our experience to the end of the chapter. Therefore it is that my constant endeavour has been during our negotiations to make the penal clauses work automatically. In the present agreement there are penal clauses inserted, but I regard the paper on which they are transcribed as only waste paper. The information about the length of lines left incompleted I obtained from the Secretary to the Corporation, who has been good enough to supply me with copies of documents filed for record in his office. I asked at the same time for information as to whether there are any, and what, breaches of contract at the present date. It is the duty of the Engineer's Department to give me this information, and it is ominous of the manner in which that Department is conducted when, as the Secretary has written to me to say, it has given no information, though it is the Department which has the supervision of the tramways.

"Now, Sir, the subject of Tramways is governed in Great Britain by a statute that applies throughout the land. Every concession to be made comes within that law, which is fixed and cannot in its main particulars be changed at the solicitation of promoters or by the influence of individuals. There the limit of the concession is 21 years, when the local authorities may first exercise their option of purchase, and the terms of the law are such that the option is a real option,—an option, that is to say, which it is possible to exercise. The period fixed by the present agreement is 30 years. I have contended against the period as being excessive. But, Sir, I care not whether the period be 30 years, or 40 years, or 20 years, if the purchase clauses are of a nature to prevent the exercise of the powers of purchase. We all know that the tendency of the age is to destroy monopolies, but what has been done by this contract is to give a monopoly in perpetuity. In England the purchase clauses, which have been arrived at after full consideration, gives power to the local authorities to buy any working concern at what is termed the then value, that is to say, the full value of the Company's property at the time of purchase, less the wear and tear to which it has been subjected. And a moment's reflection will show that this is only fair. There has been much contention here tha tit is fair that the purchase clauses should be as if the Tramways Company were a Railway Company. But the difference is most marked, and those who have been so easily persuaded have not appreciated that while Railway Companys have their tracks and lines on their own lands, Tramways Companys carry on their business on soil that is not their own property, on land for which they have not been called upon to pay, and they have only a right of way with a limited monopoly to run their carriages with flange-wheels in the public streets. This contention is not my own. It is clearly defined on no less high authority than in judgments of the House of Lords. And the principle on which purchase clauses are based under the law of England is one which makes it possible for local authorities to acquire the property of a Tramway Company, if they desire to do so for any reason, and among other reasons if the Tramway Company is not giving satisfaction to the public. And now, in Calcutta, even after our experiences in the past, we have entered into an agreement which makes the Tramways Company masters of the situation. The terms of the purchase clauses are such that I do not anticipate that the Corporation will ever care to purchase the concern. As our experiences have been in the past, so will our experiences be in the future. The penal clauses will, in practice, be left unenforced. The covenants entered into by the Tramways Company will be disregarded by them, while our Municipal Executive will, in the future as in the past, easily permit them to do so. And we cannot overlook the fact that we now in the Twentieth Century actually are accepting overhead wires for our electric traction. Almost daily the discoveries of science are showing marvellous results in electricity, and here, in Calcutta, we are agreeing to overhead wire as the traction for the tramways in Calcutta, to be fixed by law for 30 years, nominally, but in effect, as it seems to me, in perpetuity. I have been told that the Tramways Company will, of course, adopt such methods of traction as will be most advantageous for them. Well, the law fixes 30 years for them, and the law will have to be changed to permit of any change of system. And every change will mean an expenditure of money, and my contention all along has been that with the present Company it will be hopeless to expect any such outlay as will be required to keep them abreast of the times.

"Now, Sir, the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham supported the Hon'ble Mr. Baker in the further concessions that we were making, but he also lost his patience, and he has represented what I think is a right view with regard to the position of affairs. I will read what he said at a meeting of the Corporation:—

'The Hon'ble Mr. Oldham observed that he said, when discussing this matter six months ago, that he did not think a defaulting Company like this should be in a position to dictate terms to the Corporation. The cause of failure of the Company was well known, namely, that the Company was so overcapitalised that they had not a sufficient balance to do what they were bound to do. The rate-payers of the town were actually paying the profit of the Company without getting the conveniences they ought to expect from the Company.'

The Hon'ble Mr. BAKER:—"What is the date of that meeting?"

The Hon'ble Mr. APCAR continued:—"The 27th of February, 1899. On my own part, from the first I have been willing to accede the most favourable terms, if only the Tramways Company would consent to an operation that is very well recognised in Company business: to reduce their capital and place their Company on a true business footing, so that their capital should represent the real value of their property, in order to avoid the risk of their concern being starved to pay their shareholders, with the resulting injury and prejudice to the public of Calcutta.

"In these circumstances, I think it should not be a matter of surprise that I feel great reluctance to commit myself to a contract with the Tramways Company.

"I regret most exceedingly to again find myself in disagreement with the Government. I long, with fervid desire, to give my support to a Government measure before my service in this Council determines. I regard, with concern, that the period over which my memory travels as a member of this august body is becoming long drawn out, while the period within which I can indulge in the pleasures of my fond hope of finding myself in agreement with the Government is becoming inexorably shortened. But still I do not despair. I live on in the ardent hope that the time will eventually come when I shall find my views in unison with those of Government. I can assure you, Sir, of a support as solid and consistent as that given by the phalanx, who steadily discomfit any attempt of opposition of any Government measure —if only, Sir, the Government would agree with my views! If the Government would only agree with my views, I believe that it would result to the advantage and benefit of those to be affected by the measure that may be proposed for our consideration. And I confess that I do not understand why the Government should not more frequently be in agreement with myself; for I feel sure that it will not be denied that the principles that guide me—if I may compare one in my humble and non-official position with the Government—are the same as those that guide the Government. I only insist that it is imperative that we should not ignore the past history of a subject, and that we should shape the policy and scope of a measure by the light of our past experience. I venture to say that the Government will acquiesce in the soundness of my principles But alas! it is in the application of these principles that we, in some mysterious way, diverge. Here is my hon'ble friend Mr. Baker: whenever I have approached him on any fresh subject, when there have been no influences or considerations which I have not shared with him, I have left him, after our most interesting discussions, delighted with myself. I have thought what an eminently sensible and reasonable person I am; for my hon'ble friend has been in complete accord with me. But, Sir, after we have separated, my hon'ble friend going his way, while I have continued in my own, and when the time has approached to give effect to our views, I have become aware that, instead of being at one in our views, we have, somehow, diverged, and my hon'ble friend knows that I have not departed from my views. So, in this particular question, I have believed that in my hon'ble friend I should find a sturdy and influential ally. Yet it was not to be! To my regret, and I fear to the prejudice of the public, I find, now, an agreement with the Tramways Company such as the one which is to have the sanction of this Legislature, on the motion of my hon'ble friend. All our lengthened and careful consideration of the question; all our time and labour, given with so much devotion to the public interest; all our conclusions as to what was imperatively required; all our expressions of firm determination that there should be no concessions beyond the terms that we have offered,—all, all, have gone by the board, and the Tramways Company, after all, are to have their own way, practically in every particular. I believe a grave mistake is being committed. I continue to hold the opinion that the Tramways Company are not strong enough, financially, to work their concern on true business lines and to the best advantage of the public. I have no faith either in their conforming to their pledges, or in the Executive of the Municipality in enforcing them. These are the cardinal points on which my opposition has hinged. The position with reference to the Tramways Company has been well likened to Alice's lament in Alice through the looking glass: 'Jam to-morrow. Jam yesterday. But never Jam to-day.'"

The Hon'ble MR. DAS said:—"The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has referred to certain proceedings of the Calcutta Corporation and to certain irregularities or laches on the part of the Tramways Company which were perfectly unintelligible to me, because I was not conversant with these things, but to summarise the remarks, the Hon'ble Member has thought fit to make, the Calcutta Corporation has not done its duty in this matter and the Tramways Company too have not done their duty in the matter.

"That may be so; but, Sir, the question before the Council is simply whether a certain agreement, which has been come to between the Corporation and the Company, actually, as far as I understand, in the form in which it has been presented in this Bill, should receive legislative sanction or not."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—"I thought that I had made it clear that my statement was in the nature of a personal explanation and submitting to the Council my reasons for disapproving of the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. DAS continued:—"As the Hon'ble Mr. Baker very properly remarked, the position and function of this Council, as far as this particular Bill is concerned, is really the function of a Civil Court. It is the duty of the Corporation to see whether it had all that was necessary for the proper and satisfactory working of the system of electric-traction. The Corporation has been authorised, under Act I of 1880, to see to the comforts and convenience of the public, and the Corporation is in more than one sense the guardian of the interests of the public. As some Hon'ble Member remarked at the last meeting, (I do not remember whether it was the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill or the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee,) the position of the Council was such that they should either accept the Bill in its entirety or reject it, but it was not for this Council either to alter the agreement already arrived at between the parties, or to see whether the parties to the contract fulfilled the terms of the contract. If the Tramways Company do not do their duty as required by the contract, or if the Corporation does not enforce the contract, the Council cannot be asked to see that the parties actually act in accordance with the terms of the contract This would be asking the Council to see to the working of the Act. The duties of the Council begin with taking a Bill into consideration and end with passing into law certain things which may be for the public interest. No doubt the Council for some reason or other, has, with regard to this Tramway Bill, elected to take this particular course. It will be noticed that under Act I of 1880 a certain agreement which was arrived at between the Corporation and the Company received legislative sanction. I think the reason for doing so was a very good one, because the parties were not ordinary parties, but the agreement was between the Calcutta Corporation and the Tramways Company, and this received legislative sanction under Act I of 1880. This Council was now giving similar sanction to a fresh agreement between the same parties, and I must confess that I could not understand from the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar's speech what he wants this Council to do."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—"I repeat it was only a matter of personal explanation. I do not say that the Council is to do anything in consequence of my personal explanation: I only gave my reasons, as being the member for the Corporation, why I am unable to give my approval to what I have consistently opposed for so many years."

The Hon'ble MR. DAS said:—"Then all that I can say is that these remarks would have come with greater propriety if addressed to the Calcutta Corporation."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I find myself on this occasion in perfect agreement with the Government and in perfect disagreement with the Hon'ble Member who represents the Corporation. I must congratulate my hon'ble friend on the absolute consistency of his public character. As often as the affairs of the Tramways Company came up for consideration before the Corporation, I have found him very consistently opposed to all concessions to the Tramways Company, and I must say that the indictment he has brought forward to-day is substantial and well-founded. I quite agree with my hon'ble friend on my left that the Company do not deserve any concession: they have been neglectful of the concessions that we granted them in the past, and they have taken advantage of the supineness of the Corporation, and, I may add, of the Executive, who left the Tramways Company to do what they pleased. I have not the slightest hesitation in endorsing the indictment which the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has brought against the Tramways Company, but all the same my earnest advice to the Council is to pass the Bill as laid on the table, and for the reason that we have nothing whatever to do with the controversy that has been going on between the Corporation and the Company. This controversy is entirely outside our scope, except so far as it affects the merits of the Bill before us. The Corporation found,—I speak now as a member of it at the time when the proceedings in connection with this matter took place, and the Committee appointed to look into this matter gave it their most anxious consideration,—that unless these concessions were made, the boon—I was going to say the inestimable boon—of electric traction would be indefinitely postponed. These were the best terms that it was possible for the Corporation to obtain; and as reasonable men they had to decide the question whether they should go on fighting the Tramways Company as they had been fighting them, or whether they would make these concessions so as to place within reach of the ratepayers of Calcutta this great boon of electric traction. They decided to follow the principle of letting bygones be bygones and giving the Tramways Company another opportunity, taking reasonable precautions to see that they will not be able to repeat what had previously occurred. I believe this agreement was accepted on that basis. I am certain—and I am confident the Council will agree with me—that this Bill provides reasonable precaution in that direction. I particularly desire to call your attention to clause 9—which provides for arbitration. You have no such provision in the Bills of the past. You were obliged to have recourse to Courts of Law for enforcing contracts, and this clause is introduced with a view to avoid the necessity of litigation. [The Hon'ble Babu BOIKANTA NATH SEN said:—"I think it is to be found in the old Act."] My hon'ble friend need not look it up. If there was such a clause in it, it was absolutely in-operative. I trust, however, that after all this controversy, after all this agitation, and after the stirring indictment of my hon'ble friend on my left, there will be no occasion for an appeal to a Court of Law, and that arbitration will meet the needs of the case. My hon'ble friend has been good enough to tell us—and he is a public man whose thorough honesty and integrity of purpose is well-known—that the explanation he has offered is personal, and that he has not voiced the views of the Corporation. The views of the Corporation are represented in this Bill, and the Corporation comes to you and asks you to accord to it legislative sanction. You cannot withhold that sanction, and I do not think that any case has been made out to stay your hands The only thing left to us therefore is to pass this Bill into law and to place within the reach of the ratepayers of Calcutta the great boon of electric traction."

The Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN said:—'I beg to make a few remarks in support of the amendment which has just been made to have this Bill passed. On the first occasion, when the Bill was introduced, I entertained some doubts as to the applicability of Act I of 1880 to the tramways now constructed or contemplated under the agreement in question, but the Hon'ble Advocate-General has given his opinion on the subject, and he considers that it is not absolutely necessary to make any provision for the applicability of Act I of 1880 to the new tramways, though this amendment has been moved in the Council. I have still some doubts, regarding which I consulted the Hon'ble Advocate-General this morning, and that was with regard to the provisions under section 9 of Act I of 1880, where the privilege of fixing rates has been given to the grantees. That section 9 purports to be a reproduction of clause 9 of the agreement of 1879. In that clause occur the words 'grantees or their assigns,' but in the body of the Act the words 'or their assigns' have been omitted, whether by inadvertence or intentionally I am not in a position to say. I consulted the Hon'ble Advocate-General upon this point, but he tells me that there is not much in that objection, and so I accept his opinion.

"I do not think it necessary to say anything more than that I wish to support the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said:—"With reference to the remarks of the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen, that in section 9 of the Act of 1880 the term 'grantees' only is used and not the 'grantees and their assigns,' I think the Hon'ble Member has overlooked the definition of the word 'grantee.' He will find in the preamble of the Act, that the concession was granted to 'Dillaya Parish, Alfred Parish and Robinson Souttar, and their assignees, hereinafter called the grantees.' Therefore the word 'grantees' includes the original concessionaires and their assigns, and this has been followed throughout the whole of the Act of 1880, and in no part of it do these additional words occur. The word used throughout the Act is 'grantees' simply.

"I do not think it necessary to add very much to what has been said. There seemed to be some danger at first lest we should lose sight of the question before the Council, but we have been brought back to the point by the Hon'ble Mr. Das and the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Bannerjee. It is no part of the functions of this Council to settle the terms of agreement between the Corporation and the Tramways Company. That is a matter for the two contracting parties only, and, as I said last Saturday, all that we have to do is to see whether these terms are unconscionable or not, improvident or not."

The Hon'ble Mr. APCAR:—"I am not concerned to contradict that in the slightest degree."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said:—"In that case I must agree with the observation made by the Hon'ble Mr. Das, that the greater part of what the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar said should be more in place at a meeting of the Corporation."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR:—"I am asked to agree with what I do not agree, and if I am not going to vote in support of the measure, I am entitled to give my reasons."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said:—"The Hon'ble Mr Apcar referred to the Committee of 1897 which considered this agreement. But he made no mention of the subsequent Committee appointed in the beginning of 1899."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR:—"I said I knew nothing more."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said:—"The Hon'ble Member said he knew nothing more. He also said that he never saw this agreement until he found it in the Schedule of this Bill, but I find he was present and took part in a Corporation meeting on the 2nd August, 1899, at which the draft report of the Special Committee on which this agreement is framed was put before the Commissioners and adopted."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR:—"I happened to be present when the matter was submitted to a meeting of the Corporation. If my hon'ble friend were sufficiently informed, he would know that I protested and left the meeting refusing to be a party to the proceedings."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said:—"There is no record of that. There are only two points more to which I shall refer. The Hon'ble Member said that certain works were undertaken to be completed by the 31st December, 1899, and that he was informed that 4,800 feet were not completed by that date. He did not mention the total quantity of work the Company had to do. The total amount that had to be done was 52,060 feet, and from the statement I have here, the total quantity of line which was not finished by the 31st December was 1,781 feet, that is to say, 98 per cent. of the work they had to do was finished within the appointed time and only 2 per cent. remained to be done, and that 2 per cent. has long since been finished to the satisfaction of the officers of the Corporation."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR:—"I may state that the information used by me was supplied by the Secretary to the Corporation."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER:—"My information is supplied by the Chairman to the Corporation."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR:—"My information is from official returns that are filed for record."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said:—"I have the official returns here. The last point to which I desire to refer is with reference to the remarks of the Hon'ble Member who represented the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham as an opponent of the Tramways Company. I do not know what Mr. Oldham's views may have been in February, 1899, but I do know that at the meeting of the Corporation on the 2nd August, 1899, at which Mr. Apcar was also present, he supported the present agreement. At this meeting he is reported to have said this: 'The Hon'ble Mr. Oldham found himself in the same position as Babu Kally Nath Mitter and Mr. Simmons. He was one of the strongest opponents of the present Company and of their pretentions, but the report of the Special Committee appeared to him to be a complete and reasonable settlement of the whole matter in dispute, and he hoped it would not be rejected.'

"Now let us consider what would be the position of the Corporation if the Council rejected this Bill. The time for purchasing the plant of the Tramways Company has passed. That is to say, though the time for purchasing does not actually expire till the 31st December next, they are entitled to six months' notice, and the date when notice of the intention of the Corporation to purchase should have been given is now passed. Therefore, it is not now open to the Corporation to purchase the plant of the Tramways Company at present, and it would be necessary for the Corporation to wait for seven years more, and when they came to purchase it, they would have to pay the sum of £490,000 for a concern which has paid no dividend for the last five years. They would only have the privilege of buying so much old iron broken-down cars and miserable country-bred ponies, and for that they would have to pay close upon half-a-million sterling. The present purchase clauses are not so favourable as those in the English Statute, but they are infinitely more favourable than those that subsist in the present Act, and a great advance on anything that we had before, and the best that could have been obtained from the Tramways Company.

"As no Hon'ble Member has opposed the motion for passing the Bill, I will ask that the motion be now put."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I did not understand the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar as oppposing the passing of the Bill at this meeting, as compared with passing the Bill at the next meeting."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—"All that I say is that I cannot give my approval to this Bill. From first to last that has been my attitude. I do not wish in the least degree to stand in the way of any proceedings of this Council since the legislation is brought forward at the instance of the Corporation, which I represent in this Council, but I cannot have it recorded that I approved of these proceedings. My hon'ble friend, Mr. Baker, in referring to the meeting of the Corporation on the 2nd of August, said I was present at it. I wish to state that I left the meeting after recording my protest."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"The Hon'ble Member does not understand my point. Does he oppose the passing of the Bill at the present sitting? Under Rule 44 of the Rules for the Conduct of Business in this Council, if any amendment be moved, without due and sufficient notice, any Hon'ble Member may object to the passing of the Bill at the same meeting. I do not know whether the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar wishes me to adjourn the passing of this Bill to another meeting."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR:—"No, Sir, I do not."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"Then the Motion is that the Bill, as amended, be passed."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

Reported magnetic disturbance.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 442 of 1900) is republished:—

Recent observations point to a considerable local magnetic disturbance in different parts of Delagoa bay, the variation at Lorenzo Marques and in English river for the year 1900 being about 23° 15′ W., while at Timpson point, Shefina island, it is 20° 55′, and at Gibbon point, Elephant island, about 20° only.

Observations by swinging at sea off this place also point to the probability of the variation off this part of the coast being less than that given on Variation Chart by about 1½°, but sufficient data has not yet been received to enable the Chart to be corrected. (Notice No. 442 of 1900.)

Nagasaki harbour—Rocks in approaches.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 417 of 1900) of the existence of the undermentioned rocks in the approaches to Nagasaki harbour:—

1. Okinokarakasarone, a rock with a least depth over it of 4¾ fathoms, is situated with the south-east point of Takabokojima (in line with Io sima lighthouse) bearing No. 87° W., distant nine-tenths of a cable, and the islet off the south-west point of Nezumi sima N. 21° E.
   Approximate position, lat. 32° 43′ 5″ N., long. 129° 49′ 45″ E.
   This rock is 4 to 5 yards in extent and steep to.
2. Osone, a rock with a least depth of 4 fathoms over it, situated with Naginata saki lighthouse bearing S. 76° W., distant $7\frac{6}{10}$ cables, and east extreme of Nezumi sima N. 18° W. This rock has depths of 4 to 7 fathoms over it, and lies in a S.S.W. and N.N.E. direction.
3. Kawarasone, a rock with a least depth of 6¼ fathoms over it, situated with Chosu se (eastern rock) bearing S. 42° E., distant $2\frac{2}{10}$ cables, and Uomi yama N. 63° E. This is a pinnacle rock with two heads and is steep to.
4. Okinosone, a rock with a least depth of 8 fathoms over it, situated with Tsuwabara zaki bearing S. 87° W., distant 4¾ cables, and Imori yama S. 10° E.
5. A small pinnacle rock with a depth of half a fathom over it, from which Goroye sima (the correct name of which is Tonosama yama jima) bears N. 59° E., distant half a cable, and Imori yama S. 58° E. There is a depth of 4 fathoms immediately outside this rock.
   The name Goroye sima, shown on the present Chart, should be transferred to the islet situated 1¼ cables to the southward of it.
6. Tono dashi is a small rock with a least depth of 1¼ fathoms over it, situated with Imori yama bearing N. 45° E., distant $2\frac{7}{10}$ cables, and Kajikake rock beacon N. 67° W. (Notice No. 417 of 1900.)

AUSTRALIA—South channel, Port Curtis.

New tower and alteration of Gatcombe head lighthouse, and establishment of leading lights.

The Port Master, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 11 of 1900) that it is intended to erect a new tower at Gatcombe Head about 450 feet North by East of the present tower. The tower will be 38 feet high, circular in shape, and painted white with a red dome. The light will be at an elevation of 122 feet above high water, and will be visible for 13 miles from a ship's deck in clear weather.

The red sector seawards will be discontinued. The light will be white between the bearings S. 29° W. and N. 70° W., also between N. 45° W. and N. 21° E; red between N. 21° E. and N. 43° E.; to the northward of the latter bearing it will be white until obscured by the land, and between the bearings of N. 70° W. and N. 45° W. it will also be obscured Leading Lights, South Channel.

Near the mouth of the Boyne River two leading lights will be shown, the front light from a skeleton tower 30 feet high, having a total elevation of 66 feet above high water, and the back light from a small square building situated on a hill at the back, at a total elevation of 121 feet above high water. Both structures are painted white, and the distance between them is 5,750 feet. The lights on these structures will be 4th order holophotes, and will be visible 12 and 14½ miles, respectively. These lights, forming the first lead, bear when in line S. 75° W.

The second line of leading lights is placed on the slope of the hill on the west side of Gatcombe Head. The front light is in a small house at an elevation of 32 feet above high water, and the back light on a skeleton tower 30 feet high, the total elevation of the light being 66 feet above high water.

It is anticipated that the lights for the South Channel will be ready for exhibition in August. Instructions for using the lights and further notice will be issued before they are exhibited.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BENGAL VETERINARY COLLEGE AND OF THE CIVIL VETERINARY DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—AGRICULTURE.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Bengal Veterinary College and of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, for the year 1899-1900.

Letter No. 75T.A., dated the 8th July 1900, from the Director of Land Records, Bengal, submitting the above Report with his remarks.

The Annual Report of the Civil Veterinary Department of Bengal was received on the 20th of July, about 50 days later than the prescribed date. It contains a clear and brief account of the progress of the Veterinary College during the year, the development of local veterinary institutions, the history of the epidemics during the year, the experiments made with the object of checking disease, and the attempts made to improve the local breeds of cattle.

2. The Veterinary College.—The period of tuition now extends over three years, and it is satisfactory to find that all those who completed the second-year course last year continued their studies. The number of new students was large also; and altogether 36 pupils attended the annual examination, the results of which were very creditable to the Principal and tutors. Last year there were no Muhammadans in the College, but no less than five have now completed the first-year course.

3. Stipends.—All the students who appeared in the annual examinations held stipends, 22 being provided by Government and 14 by District Boards or private individuals. In addition valuable prizes were given to the most successful students by gentlemen interested in the welfare of the College.

4. The Infirmary.—The number of patients again increased, and if the arrangements now contemplated are completed, whereby the infirmary will be registered under the amended Cruelty to Animals Act, and the Entally Glanders Hospital of the Calcutta Municipality will be transferred to the College, there will be a large addition to the patients and increased opportunities to the students for the observation of animal diseases. Financially the receipts grew from Rs. 5,878 in the previous year to Rs. 6,355, whilst in consequence of various economies the expenses decreased from Rs. 5,553 to Rs. 4,502. The surplus of Rs. 1,853, which may be taken as a partial remuneration for the medical services rendered, is satisfactory and typical of the practical character of the administration of the College.

5. Veterinary Assistants.—As all the students of last year have continued their studies, the number of passed assistants has not increased. The demand for their services is great, and is likely to increase in the near future, as the scheme for the organisation of a veterinary department is developed. That scheme contemplates the eventual provision of a dispensary in each district with a veterinary assistant in charge and an itinerant assistant employed in the interior. Already most of the District Boards have agreed to these proposals in a modified form, and no doubt ultimately the success of these institutions in neighbouring districts will lead public opinion to insist on their adoption in the remainder. There will thus be for some years a steady demand for qualified assistants, to the best of whom will be open the prospect of employment on the inspecting staff which will ultimately be created. Meantime, of the 35 men who have passed out of the Belgatchia Institution, no less than 25 hold appointments and 6 are in private practice. Of the remainder 1 only has proved unsuccessful.

6. Veterinary Dispensaries.—A detailed report of these institutions has been submitted by the Superintendent, from which it is gathered that some are successful financially and professionally and others are only partially so. It is inferred, however, that all would have a greater chance of success if they received more constant support from the local authorities and enjoyed the benefit of more frequent inspections by the head of the provincial department. Veterinary-Major Raymond's opportunities for the inspection of outlying institutions were considerably lessened owing to the demands made on his time by the researches he carried on during the year with reference to rinderpest. The Lieutenant-Governor, while fully recognising the very valuable nature of these researches and the great ability with which they have been prosecuted by Major Raymond, desires that in future they may not be allowed to retard the very necessary duty of inspecting the work which is being done by veterinary assistants outside Calcutta.

The most notable example of private generosity in connection with the institution of veterinary institutions is that of Kumar Rameshwar Malia and other gentlemen of Howrah, who have subscribed over Rs. 30,000 for building and endowing a dispensary. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that it will prove to be so useful as to encourage other gentlemen elsewhere to follow this excellent example.

7. Outbreaks of epidemic disease.—Much evidence was accumulated during the year of the wide prevalence of glanders in Calcutta, and it is understood that proposals for combating this dangerous disease will shortly be submitted to Government. The other most notable outbreak of glanders was at Dumka, where steps were promptly taken to suppress the disease. Rinderpest too was fatal in an unusual degree in Calcutta. In the mufassal it does not appear to have been abnormally active, yet it is reported that in one district alone it carried off no less than 27,000 cattle. If these were worth only Rs. 10 each, the loss to the district was Rs. 2,70,000 ; and the maintenance of an even insignificantly successful veterinary staff in the district would have been a prudent measure of insurance.

8. Experiments.—An outbreak of rinderpest during the year at a large farm under European management afforded a favourable opportunity for testing the value of inoculation with bile as a preventive, and the results appear to fully justify the extension of experiments with this substance, but this excellent method will probably not for some time, owing to Hindu prejudices, be very extensively employed. In addition, other experiments which have been reported to Government were conducted during the year and appear to promise results of interest.

9. Improvement of stock.—The progress made in this direction was the least satisfactory feature of the work of the department during the year; but a scheme is under consideration for the opening of a breeding farm at Pusa in Darbhanga, which, it is hoped, will ultimately result in the steady supply of suitable bulls for the province. In the direction of horse-breeding it has been decided, with reluctance, that little can be done to counteract climatic and other adverse influences.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor thanks Veterinary-Major Raymond for his conduct of the affairs of the department, in developing which he has been equally energetic and successful.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. A. SLACKE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Final demand of income-tax, including penalties, fines, and arrears	52,67,536	54,11,336
Collections of income-tax within the year ...	49,31,568	50,49,367
Gross receipts	50,85,059	52,00,337
Charges	1,90,627	1,90,938
Percentage of charges on receipts	3 7	3 7
Net revenue	48,94,432	50,09,399

The net revenue shows an increase of Rs. 1,14,967, or an increase of 2·3 per cent. against an increase of 2·9 per cent. in the previous year. The gross receipts, including advance payments and excess collections, and making allowance for various adjustments, amounted to Rs. 52,00,337, of which Rs. 50,73,679 represent the receipts on account of the current demand for the year.

2. There was an increase in the final demand in all the districts, except Dacca, Hazaribagh, Bankura, Burdwan, Purnea, Muzaffarpur, Faridpur, Darjeeling, and Rajshahi, but in none of these districts did the percentage of decrease exceed 5·9, except in Dacca which shows a decline of 19·4. This is ascribed to the depressed condition of the jute trade during the year. In other cases, the causes given for the decrease are fortuitous, and call for no special comment. Enhanced assessments and the discovery of new assessees, combined with the comparative agricultural prosperity of the year, produced an increase in all districts other than those named above.

3. Assessments.—The number of villages (a street in Calcutta is held to be a village for this purpose) visited by the assessors was 72,647 against 74,519 during the preceding year, showing a decrease of 1,872. The decrease is examined in detail by the Board, and it appears to be due to accidental causes. The number of persons finally assessed was 116,720 against 113,785, showing an increase of 2·6 per cent. The decrease in Faridpur (68) is said to be due to the weeding out of improper assessments made in former years. But it is observed that the Deputy Collector's own work showed a marked decrease, while the exemptions on revision amounted to 3·8 per cent. and the number of successful objections was 42·7 per cent. It is apparent that there is much room for improvement in the work of this district. Calcutta again heads the list with an increase of 1,517 persons, followed by Midnapore, Monghyr, Khulna, Gaya, Bhagalpur, Puri, Mymensingh, and Darbhanga with increases varying from 200 to 100. A decrease occurred in 14 districts against 15 in the preceding year, but in no case was it as high as 100.

4. Demands, collections, and balances.—The following statement shows the original demand, the revised demand, and the percentage of collections from assessees, exclusive of Government servants :—

Year.	Original number of assessees.	Revised number of assessees.	Original demand.	Final demand after revision.	Amount of final demand collected.	Percentage of final demand collected
			Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1898-99 ...	115,643	113,785	46,59,160	45,47,134	44,18,201	97·2
1899-1900 ...	118,452	116,720	47,89,616	46,57,149	45,37,242	97·4

The outstanding balance, including penalties, costs, and arrears, was Rs. 2,06,635 against Rs. 1,81,239 in the year 1898-99. Of this balance, Rs. 48,751 are reported to be good and under realisation, Rs. 1,04,755 doubtful, and Rs. 53,129 bad and irrecoverable.

5. Coercive measures.—The following table compares for the last three years the coercive measures taken for the realisation of the tax :—

Year.	Number of persons finally assessed.	Distress warrants.		Distraints.		Sales.
		Number	Percentage to column 2.	Number.	Percentage to column 2.	Number.	Percentage to column 2.
1897-98 ..	111,680	5,753	5·2	2,172	1·9	357	·3
1898-99 ...	113,785	5,725	5·03	2,081	1·8	324	·3
1899-1900 ...	116,720	4,506	3·9	1,485	1·3	311	·3

Notwithstanding an increase in the total number of assessees and in the final demand, the different classes of coercive process for realisation of the tax show a general decrease, an indication that the tax was levied with less friction and trouble than in the preceding years. The proportion of warrants issued to the number of persons assessed does not exceed 10 per cent. in a single district. The high percentage in Jessore, noticed in last year's Resolution, which was attributed to the litigious nature of the people, and to the fact that the assessor had become too well acquainted with the district, has been reduced, since the transfer of the officer in question, from 12·2 to 5 6.

The largest number of sales reported was in Rangpur (65), Dinajpur (31), Khulna (22), and Jessore (20). The two districts first named have, for some years, had an unenviable prominence in the sale list, and it seems evident from the detailed analysis in paragraph 32 of the report that in the former district sales were held in some cases where they should not have been. The Board have recently revised the procedure for realisation of the tax from persons who, having been assessed on the basis of the previous year's assessment, die before the tax is realised; and trust that their orders will operate to minimise sales in districts where they have hitherto been largely resorted to.

6. Penalties and costs.—The demands and realisations under the heads of penalties and costs for the year under review, as compared with the previous year, are shown in the following statement :—

Year.	Penalties.		Costs.
	Demands	Realisations.	Demands.	Realisations.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1898-99	29,032	14,983	13,226	9,324
1899-1900	29,805	15,482	11,891	8,021

7. The amount of tax collected during the year under review from companies and other employers, who agreed under section 9 (2) of the Income-tax Act to collect the tax from the salaries of their servants, rose from Rs. 3,49,551 in the previous year to Rs. 3,83,524; while the remission allowed by way of commission to the employers rose from Rs. 11,017 to Rs. 11,796. The number of companies who undertook to collect the tax also rose from 375 to 419. Two of them failed to collect the tax, which had to be realised by the District Officers. In Calcutta the number of companies collecting the tax rose from 251 to 288.

8. Incidence of the tax.—Excluding the tax on the interest on Government securities and the salaries of Government officials, the average incidence of the tax in the whole Province was Re. 1 to every 15·3 persons against an average of Re. 1 to every 15·6 persons in the preceding year. Darjeeling still continues to show the highest mufassal average, Re. 1 to every 4 persons, while the incidence was lowest in the Sonthal Parganas, viz., Re. 1 to 69 persons. In Calcutta the average incidence was Re. 1 to every ·4 persons, the same as in the previous year.

Including the taxes recovered by the Accountant-General, Bengal, the incidence was Re. 1 to every 13·8 persons against Re. 1 to every 14·6 persons in 1898-99.

The proportion of persons assessed for the whole Province was 1 in 610 against 1 in 625 in the preceding year.

A glance at the figures in column 14 of Return No. VIII appended to the report will show how the incidence of the tax varies even in adjoining districts. These variations attracted the attention of Government in 1898, and the Board were asked to consider whether assessments in the various districts were made on a uniform basis. Their report, which has been separately received, examines this question in detail. It is shown that many apparent inequalities are capable of explanation; and that, taking the province as a whole, there is no reason to believe that any district is conspicuously under or over-assessed. The personal equation of the assessor cannot of course be entirely eliminated, especially while, as is stated to be the case at present, these men are without any practical knowledge of trade or industry, and are selected because they possess a certain amount of school knowledge. It is minimised, however, by periodical transfers, and as time goes on, it will no doubt be found possible to obtain for the Department a class of officers possessing more of the qualifications necessary for the post. Complete uniformity can of course only be attained gradually.

In this connection the Board were also invited to consider whether a system of utilising non-official assessors in income tax work could, as in the North-Western Provinces, be usefully adopted in Bengal. The Board were of opinion that, while non-official assistance should be utilised to the fullest degree, provided there was nothing formal about it, the plan of formally associating non-officials with the assessor was, so far as Bengal is concerned, to be deprecated. In this view the Lieutenant-Governor concurs.

9. The following statement illustrates for the year under review and previous years, the distribution of the income-tax and of the other direct taxes which preceded it, as between Calcutta and the rest of the Province:—

* Figures not available.

† Exclusive of the tax on salaries, &c., recovered by the Accountant-General and the tax on the interest of Government securities.

Those figures show a steady yearly increase in the amount of income-tax collected, Calcutta regularly contributing nearly as much as all the rest of the Province.

10. Expenditure.—The expenditure incurred in the working of the tax during the year under review rose from Rs. 1,90,627 in the previous year to Rs. 1,90,938. The increase occurred under the heads of "Collector's establishment," and "Warrant establishment."

11. Miscellaneous.—No case of embezzlement was reported during the year. Two prosecutions for attempting to extort money by personating assessors were instituted, and resulted in acquittal; but a conviction was obtained against a man who personated an assessor's peon. Cases of producing unadjusted or fabricated accounts of income are stated to be far too common, but to be as a rule impossible to prove in Court. One prosecution on this charge was instituted during the year, and is still pending.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to the Board for their administration of this Department during the year under review. Sir John Woodburn notes with pleasure the favourable remarks recorded by the Member in charge on the manner in which the tax is administered in Calcutta—"A steadily increasing revenue with a minimum of friction."

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JULY 1900.

General weather conditions from day to day.—Pressure at the beginning of the month was low over the whole province, the area of lowest pressure being in the north-west conformably with the direction followed by the storm which had passed over Bengal during the last week of the preceding month. Ordinary monsoon conditions prevailed over the Bay, but inland over the west of the province the gradient was small, and consequently except in the east of the land area, little rain was falling. The general character of the distribution remained practically unchanged with but slight fluctuations till the 6th of the month, and though the pressure was everywhere below the normal, the defect was almost uniform, so that the gradient of the monsoon current was normal for the period of the year.

The rainfall was fluctuating in amount, but fairly general with the exception of the first two or three days, when fair weather prevailed in Bihar, Chota Nagpur, and the adjacent western districts of Bengal. Temperature was for the first few days in excess in the western districts and in defect in the eastern, but a gradual change took place by which these conditions were reversed on the 5th. On the 6th slight signs of a disturbance showed themselves in the north west angle of the Bay; but though this developed in the course of the next few days into a fairly well-marked depression at the head of the Bay, the strength of the monsoon current in the Bay itself remained remarkably uniform, and in the absence of enforcement from behind, the depression failed to develop, and passed inland on the 10th, without ever acquiring the intensity of a cyclonic storm. After its disappearance the distribution over the Bay and the province again reverted to its former normal character. So slight, indeed, was the disturbance that the weather was hardly affected by it. Rainfall continued general, though light, and it was only on the 9th, i.e., the day on which the depression was passing inland, that heavier rain commenced to fall in the eastern districts. Temperature during the whole of this period remained remarkably steady and slightly in excess of the normal, the temporary defect noticed on the 5th in the west having speedily disappeared and the western districts having equally with the eastern come under the influence of higher temperature. That the mean temperature was during this period above the average was no doubt due to the intermittent character of the rainfall—bright intervals of sunshine alternating with bursts of rain. With the exception of a very slight strengthening of the current, the general character of the distribution over the Bay had during this period been remarkably steady, and on the 11th of July conditions over the Bay and the province were but little different from those at the beginning of the month. On the 12th a sudden fall of pressure over the whole area, the fall being greatest in the east of the province, coupled with the abnormal directions of the winds at the head of the Bay, seemed to indicate the development of a fresh disturbance in that quarter. On this occasion the disturbance grew with great rapidity, and after 24 hours had developed into a well-marked cyclonic storm of small intensity to the south of Sangor Island, which at once began to move from its place of formation. The pressure at the centre of the depression was never below 29·25 inches, the speed with which it formed, and began to move from the place of its origin, preventing it from developing into a storm of any severity. Its centre moved with great rapidity through Chota Nagpur and Bihar. The rainfall which accompanied its progress was for the most part light, the only heavy rainfall which can be directly attributed to its influence taking place in Orissa on the 13th, where a fall of 6 inches was recorded at False Point. The slight accentuation, however, of monsoon conditions which it produced gave rise for a day or two to more general distribution of rainfall of a moderate character over the whole province. With the cloudy weather, moreover, which prevailed during this period, temperature generally fell, and on the 15th the mean temperature was everywhere practically normal. Ordinary monsoon conditions now prevailed and continued from the 15th to the 18th. The rainfall was fairly general and in the eastern districts heavy. There was a tendency, however, for the rainfall area to withdraw during this period from Orissa, Chota Nagpur and South-West Bengal, owing to the area of relatively low pressure moving more to the east and north of the province. The cloudy weather prevailing caused the fall in temperature to continue, and on the 18th it was in almost general defect. From the 18th pressure conditions over the Bay and province began gradually to change. At first the barometer fell slowly over the south of the Bay and then rose briskly over the province These changes resulted in the establishment in the course of a few days of an area of almost uniform pressure over the whole of the Bay. On the 20th the area to the south of latitude 20° was under the domination of uniform pressure, and a complete withdrawal of the monsoon current had taken place. Still a moderately steep gradient lingered over the province, and good—in some cases heavy—rain continued to fall over the east and north. After the 21st, however, an additional rise took place in the pressure over the province, and this, combined with a falling or a steady barometer in the south of the Bay, finally resulted in the complete disappearance on the 25th of the monsoon current, not only over the Bay, but also over the province. The unsettled condition, however, which prevailed while these changes were taking place, caused the rainfall to continue, and though its distribution in the rest of the province was irregular during this period, North and East Bengal received moderate to heavy rain for some days. It was only in fact on the 24th, when the withdrawal of the monsoon was nearly established, that the influence of this withdrawal became apparent in the almost complete absence of rain from the province. No sooner, however, had this uniformity of pressure fully established itself, than indications of a fresh inrush of monsoon winds from the south appeared, and before the end of the month the gradient over the Bay and province had recovered its normal steepness. As is usual when a fresh advance of the Bay current takes place, it was heralded by the formation of a small cyclonic storm. As early as the 27th a depression appeared to be forming in front of the advancing monsoon, but the energy of the air current behind being insufficient to cause it to develop, it disappeared on the following day, only to be replaced by another on the 30th, which, owing to the increased vitality of the monsoon in the interval, intensified on the 31st into a small cyclonic storm. Only for a period of some two or three days did the province remain practically without rain. As soon as signs of a fresh advance appeared, showers again began to be received; but though the precipitation was in some cases heavy, the rainfall to the end of the month was for the most part light and scattered. On the 18th there was general defect of temperature, and owing to the continued rainfall this defect increased still more in the east and north-east, while in the west and south-west, where the rainfall diminished, it gradually grew less, so that on the 21st mean temperature was below the normal in the former and above the normal in the latter regions. From the 21st to the 23rd temperature fell slightly in the west of the province, but after this rainfall conditions becoming less favourable, the temperature rose above the normal everywhere, and with slight temporary fluctuation in the east and the north of the province remained so till the end of the month.

General features of the monthly weather.—The most characteristic feature of the monthly weather is the very steady distribution of the pressure for the greater part of the period under review. A steady, though perhaps not very strong, monsoon prevailed for almost the whole of the month. The uniform character of the weather was broken only by a very brief withdrawal of the current during the latter half of the month and by only two small disturbances at the head of the Bay in the earlier part, if we leave out of consideration the storm which occurred on the last day of the month, as this latter chiefly affected the weather in August. Of these two disturbances, one was of so feeble a character as hardly to influence the weather at all, while the other developed and moved from the place of its formation so quickly that it only formed a feature of the weather for a day or two at most. Moreover, the influence which it exerted on the latter was also of the slightest. The complete withdrawal of the monsoon current towards the end of the month, occurring as it did at a time when great anxiety was being felt as to the behaviour of the monsoon of 1900, was naturally calculated to provoke a considerable amount of alarm, but the great rapidity with which normal conditions were re-established confirm the evidence we have from other parts of India that the monsoon current of 1900, though for the most part retarded in its advance, has been one of considerable depth and energy.

Pressure summary.—Owing chiefly to the excessive rise which occurred in the third week of the month, the mean pressure for the whole period has been slightly above the normal. During the first-half of the month there was general, though not excessive, defect. In the third week, however, a sharp rise began and continued almost unchecked till the 25th, causing the pressure for this period to be largely in excess. The fall which then commenced and continued to the end of the month was insufficient completely to counteract this excessive rise.

Temperature summary.—Mean maxima and minima temperatures have been above the average in South-West Bengal, South Bihar, Chota Nagpur, Orissa and the southern portion of East Bengal, the excess amounting to 2·6° at Cuttack and below the average in North Bihar, Assam, North Bengal and the greater part of East Bengal, the greatest defect from the minimum, i.e., 3·4, occurring at Dhubri. The line of division between excess and defect of temperature separates very nearly those regions which have received rain above the average and those where the rain has been less than usual.

Rainfall.—The rainfall over the greater part of the province, as will be seen from the above summary, was fairly continuous and well distributed. The two small storms which occurred in the first-half of the month had, as have been pointed out, but little influence on the weather, so that the rain which fell, being due to ordinary monsoon conditions and consequently more evenly distributed, was likely to be of a more beneficial character than a sudden precipitation caused by the passage of a cyclonic storm. South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur suffered somewhat owing to the moisture-laden winds being diverted for a certain period from these districts, and in consequence the amount received has been below the normal. Bankura, Howrah and Hooghly districts have suffered most in South-West Bengal. In Chota Nagpur the percentage of the normal amount has been 61 and in South-West Bengal 79; North Bengal has received 122 per cent. and East Bengal 112 per cent.; but while almost all districts of the former have received the benefit of the excess fall, in the latter Chittagong and the Chittagong Hill Tracts are in considerable defect. Bihar has received 98 per cent., but the distribution here has been uneven, Patna and Gaya districts having received considerably less and Bhagalpur and Purnea considerably more than usual. Orissa is practically normal, having received 99 per cent, but here too excess in the Cuttack district makes up for deficiency in Puri.

The following table gives a comparison of the falls in the various divisions during the month of July with the normal fall, the actual being given as a percentage of the normal fall. The table also shows the actual falls for each of the previous months of the year expressed in the same way, and the last column of the table shows the total of the falls of the past seven months of the year in each division expressed as a percentage of the normal fall :—

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of July in all districts of the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 25 years; the second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district; the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage; and the fourth column gives the same information in a slightly different form, expressing as a percentage how much the district rainfall varied in excess or in defect from the normal rainfall:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

PART V.

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 24th August, 1900, and is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT NO. X OF 1900.

An Act to provide for certain matters in connection with the taking of the Census.

WHEREAS it has been determined to take a census of British India during the year 1901, and it is expedient to provide for certain matters in connection with the taking of such census; It is hereby enacted as follows:

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Census Act, 1900.

Title, extent and commencement.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, inclusive of British Baluchistan, the Santhal Parganas and the Pargana of Spiti; and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

2. (1) The Local Government may appoint any person to take, or aid in or supervise the taking of, the census within any specified local area.

Appointment of census-officers.

(2) Persons so appointed shall be called census-officers.

(3) The Local Government may delegate to such authority as it thinks fit the power of appointing census-officers which is conferred by this section.

3. (1) A declaration in writing, signed by any officer authorised by the Local Government in this behalf, that any person has been duly appointed a census-officer for any local area shall be conclusive proof of such appointment.

Proof of appointment of census-officers, and their status as public servants.

(2) All census-officers shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code. XLV of 1860

4. (1) (a) Every officer in command of any body of men belonging to Her Majesty's military or naval forces or to Her Majesty's Indian Marine Service or of any vessel of war, Discharge of duties of census-officers in certain cases.

(b) every person (except a pilot or harbour-master) having charge or control of a vessel,

(c) every person in charge of a lunatic asylum, hospital, workhouse, prison, reformatory or lock-up, or of any public, charitable, religious or educational institution,

(d) every keeper, secretary or manager of any sarai, hotel, boarding-house, lodging-house or club, and

(e) every occupant of immoveable property and every manager or officer of a railway or other commercial or industrial enterprise who has at the time of the taking of the census not less than fifty persons employed under him, or living on or in such property, shall, if so required by the District Magistrate, or by such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, perform such of the duties of a census-officer in relation to the persons who at the time of the taking of the census are under his command or charge, or inmates of his house or present on or in such immoveable property, as such Magistrate or officer may, by written order, direct.

(2) All the provisions of this Act relating to census-officers shall apply, so far as they can be made applicable, to all persons while performing such duties under this section, and any person refusing or neglecting to perform any duty which he is directed under this section to perform shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 187 of the Indian Penal Code.

XLV of 1860.

Power of District Magistrate to call upon certain persons to give assistance.

5. (1) The District Magistrate, or such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf for any local area, may, by written order, which shall have effect throughout the limits of his district or of such local area, as the case may be, call upon—

(a) all owners and occupiers of land, tenure-holders, farmers, assignees of land-revenue and lessees of fisheries under the Burma Fisheries Act, 1875, or the Upper Burma Land and Revenue Regulation, 1889, or their agents,

VII of 1875.

III of 1889.

(b) all village-officers and servants in estates as defined in the Madras Proprietary Estates' Village Service Act, 1894, (Madras), and

Mad. II of 1894.

(c) all members of panchayats appointed under the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870 (Bengal), or the Sylhet and Cachar Rural Police Regulation, 1883, all ghatwals and all circle-tahsildars appointed under the Chota Nagpur Rural Police Act, 1887 (Bengal), and all village-headmen in the Kumaun Division of the North-Western Provinces,

Ben. VI of 1870.

I of 1883.

Ben. V of 1887.

to give such assistance as he needs towards the taking of a census of the persons who are at the time of the taking of the census on the lands of such owners, occupiers, holders, farmers and assignees, or within the limits of such fisheries or in the villages or other areas for which such village-officers and servants, panchayats, ghatwals, circle-tahsildars or village-headmen are appointed, as the case may be.

(2) Such order shall specify the nature of the assistance required, and such owners, occupiers, holders, farmers, assignees, lessees or their agents, and such village-officers and servants, the members of such panchayats and such ghatwals, circle-tahsildars and village-headmen shall be bound to obey it.

Asking of questions by census-officers.

6. Every census-officer may ask all such questions of all persons within the limits of the local area for which he is appointed as, by instructions issued in this behalf by the Local Government and published in the official Gazette, he may be directed to ask.

Obligation to answer questions.

7. Every person of whom any question is asked under the last foregoing section shall be legally bound to answer such question to the best of his knowledge or belief:

Provided that no person shall be bound to state the name of any female member of his household, and that no woman shall be bound to state the name of her husband or deceased husband or of any other person whose name she is forbidden by custom to mention.

Occupier to allow access, and permit affixing of numbers.

8. Every person occupying any house, enclosure, vessel or other place shall allow census-officers such access thereto as they may require for the purposes of the census, and as, having regard to the customs of the country, may be reasonable, and shall allow them to paint on or affix to the place such letters, marks or numbers as may be necessary for the purposes of the census.

Occupier to fill up schedule.

9. (1) Subject to such orders as the Local Government may issue in this behalf, any census-officer may leave, or cause to be left, at any dwelling-house within the local area for which he is appointed, a schedule for the purpose of its being filled up by the occupier of such house or of any specified part thereof with such particulars as the Local Government may direct regarding the inmates of such house or part at the time of the taking of the census.

(2) When any such schedule has been so left, the occupier of the house or part to which it relates shall fill it up, or cause it to be filled up, to the best of his knowledge or belief, so far as regards the inmates of such house or part, as the case may be, at the time aforesaid, and shall sign his name thereto, and, when so required, shall deliver the schedule so filled up and signed to the census-officer or to such person as he may direct.

Penalties.

10. In any of the following cases, namely:

(a) if a census-officer or a person appointed to be a census-officer or a person lawfully required to give assistance towards the taking of a census refuses or neglects to use reasonable diligence in performing any duty imposed upon him or in obeying any order issued to him in accordance with this Act, or with any rule duly made thereunder,

(b) if a census-officer intentionally puts any offensive or improper question or knowingly makes any false return,

(c) if any person refuses to answer to the best of his knowledge or belief any question asked of him by a census-officer which he is legally bound by section 7 so to answer,

(d) if any person occupying any house, enclosure, vessel or other place refuses to allow a census-officer such reasonable access thereto as he is required by section 8 to allow,

(e) if any person removes, obliterates, alters or injures before the thirty-first day of March, 1901, any letters, marks or numbers which have been painted or affixed for the purposes of the census,

(f) if any occupier of a dwelling-house or part thereof knowingly and without sufficient cause fails to comply with the provisions of section 9 or makes any false return under that section, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

Jurisdiction in prosecutions.

11. (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare before what classes of Magistrates prosecutions under this Act may be instituted.

(2) Unless and until a notification is published under sub-section (1), all prosecutions under this Act shall, in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, be instituted before a Presidency Magistrate, and elsewhere before the District Magistrate.

(3) No prosecution under this Act shall be instituted except with the previous sanction of the Local Government, or with the previous sanction of some officer authorised by the Local Government in this behalf.

Records of census not open to inspection or admissible in evidence in certain proceedings.

12. No person shall have a right to inspect any book, register or record made by a census-officer in the discharge of his duty as such officer or any schedule delivered under section 9, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, no entry in any such book, register, record or schedule shall be admissible as evidence in any civil proceeding or any proceeding under Chapter XII or Chapter XXXVI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

I of 1872.

Temporary suspension of local enactments and rules as to mode of taking census in municipalities.

13. Notwithstanding anything in any enactment or rule with respect to the mode in which a census is to be taken in any municipality, the municipal authority may, at the time appointed for the taking of the census of British India during the year 1901, cause the census of the municipality to be taken wholly or in part by any method authorised by this Act.

Power in regard to expenses.

14. Notwithstanding anything in any enactment or rule, in regard to municipal, local or village funds, the Local Government may direct that the whole or any part of any expenses incurred for anything done in accordance with this Act, may be charged to any municipal, local or village fund constituted for, and on behalf of, the area within which such expenses were incurred.

Power to make rules.

15. (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, the Governor General in Council may make rules providing—

(a) for the appointment of census-officers and of persons to perform any of the duties of census-officers or to give assistance towards the taking of a census and for the general instructions to be issued to such officers and persons;

(b) for the enumeration of persons employed on railways and their families and of other classes of the population for whom it may be necessary or expedient to make special provision;

(c) for the enumeration of persons travelling on the night when a census is taken.

(3) The Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, direct that all or any of the powers conferred upon him by this section may also be exercised by any Local Government with respect to the territories administered by it.

Exhibition of light on East island, near East Cape.

WITH reference to Notices to Mariners No. 239, dated 12th November 1898, and No. 13, dated 20th January 1900, the Government of New Zealand has given further notice (No. 36 of 1900) that on and after Thursday, the 9th August 1900, a light will be exhibited from sunset to sunrise from the lighthouse which has been erected on East Island, near East Cape, on the east coast of the North Island of New Zealand. The position and characteristics are as follows:—

The site of the light is in latitude 37° 4′ south, and longitude 178° 36′ east, as measured from the Admiralty chart.

The tower is constructed of cast iron. The total height from the bottom of the base to the top of the lantern is 69 ft., and it is painted white

The light will be 362 ft. above the level of the sea at high water. It is a dioptric revolving white light of the second order, showing a white flash at intervals of ten seconds. It will be visible seaward over an arc of 280 degrees of the horizon, or as far round as the land will allow, and in ordinary clear weather it will be seen twenty-two nautical miles from the deck of a vessel 15 ft. above sea-level.

RESOLUTION ON THE STATISTICAL INFORMATION FURNISHED BY THE BOARD OF REVENUE REGARDING THE STAMP DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE.

RESOLUTION—No. 1008T.F.

READ—

A memorandum, No. 633B., dated the 4th August 1900, from the Board of Revenue, submitting statistical information regarding the Stamp Department for the year 1899-1900.

The receipts, charges, and net revenue in 1899-1900, under the Indian Stamp Acts, I of 1879 and II of 1899, and the Court-fees Act, VII of 1870, were Rs. 1,82,81,507, Rs. 5,01,939 and Rs. 1,77,79,568, respectively, against Rs. 1,73,81,080, Rs. 4,84,670 and Rs 1,68,96,410 in the preceding year. The increase in receipts occurred in both judicial and non-judicial stamps.

2. According to the figures furnished by the Superintendent of Stamps, which are subject to adjustment with the final figures compiled by the Accountant-General, Bengal, the sale-proceeds of non-judicial stamps show a net increase of Rs. 2,78,119, which was contributed by all classes of stamps, except notarial and advocate, vakil and attorney stamps. The revenue derived from the sale of impressed sheets, the most important of the non-judicial stamps, amounted to Rs. 32,55,526, against Rs. 31,83,092 in the preceding year. This amount, however, is considerably below the average of the preceding three years, during two of which scarcity, by compelling numerous transfers of land, caused an abnormal increase in the revenue from this source. The increase on last year's figures was divided among 25 districts; there being a decrease in 21. The largest increases were in Gaya (Rs. 30,174), Calcutta (Rs. 15,009), Burdwan (Rs. 10,790), Tippera (Rs. 9,958) and Jessore (Rs. 8,309). The increase in Calcutta is due to the purchase of stamps of large values for transfer of mufassal properties, while in Burdwan it is said to be due partly to the enhanced stamp duty chargeable on perpetual leases under the new Stamp Act, which came into force with effect from the 1st July 1899, and partly to the sale-proceeds of an increased number of pleaders' and mukhtars' certificates. Impressed labels, which are used only in Calcutta, improved by Rs. 1,27,264, owing to the enhancement of the stamp duty payable on awards in partition cases and on leases granted in perpetuity, to general increase of business and to the transfer and mortgage of certain tea estates for large considerations. The revenue derived from the sale of receipt or one-anna stamps improved by Rs. 17,380, the largest increase occurring in Calcutta. The liability of all local fund cheques, irrespective of their amounts, to stamp duty under the new Act is the main factor in accounting for this increase. Owing to the briskness of the share market in consequence of the rise in the price of coal and jute shares, there was a large increase in Calcutta in the sale of share transfer and foreign bill stamps. The revenue derived from the sale of hundi or bill-of-exchange stamps amounted to Rs. 1,02,632, against Rs. 78,606 in 1898-99. The largest increase (Rs. 19,924) occurred in Calcutta, and is attributed by the Board chiefly to the institution of a number of criminal prosecutions against native traders in Calcutta and the mufassal for drawing hundis on paper bearing only one-anna receipt stamps.

3 The sale-proceeds of judicial stamps increased from Rs. 1,25,29,890 in 1898-99 to Rs. 1,32,03,128, showing an increase of Rs. 6,73,238. The largest increases occurred in Muzaffarpur (Rs. 99,009), Calcutta (Rs. 61,785), Tippera (Rs. 47,772), Dacca (Rs. 46,169), Faridpur (Rs. 36,772), Pabna (Rs. 27,694), Chittagong (Rs. 26,961), Mymensingh (Rs. 24,850), Cuttack (Rs. 22,052) and Murshidabad (Rs. 21,686). The increase was due to increased litigation, to the high value of some of the suits, and, in some districts, to improved receipts from probate duties. If litigation is a correct measure of prosperity, as is usually supposed, the people of Bengal are to be congratulated on their present condition, for the figure for the year under review is the highest ever recorded in Bengal.

4. The number of cases in which deficient stamp duty and penalty were levied by the Civil and Revenue Courts during the year was 3,689, against 3,370 in 1898-99, and the amount of duty and penalty realised was Rs. 37,989, as compared with Rs. 34,181. Prosecutions for the infringement of the provisions of the Indian Stamp Acts were instituted in 660 cases, against 1,274 in the preceding year. The fines imposed on offenders amounted to Rs. 5,939, against Rs. 5,224 in 1898-99, and rewards to informers paid in six districts aggregated Rs. 3,684, against Rs. 2,467 paid in four districts in the previous year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder ≏, dew.

REVISED DRAFT OF THE CALCUTTA ELECTRIC LIGHTING LICENSE 1900.

The undertakers for the purpose of this License are Messrs. Kilburn & Co., on behalf of "The Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited," being a Company registered under the English Companies Act, 1862 and 1890, with limited liability, and having its registered office at Mansion House Buildings, London, E.C., with a local office and accredited Agents at 4 Fairlie Place, Calcutta.

REVISED DRAFT OF THE CALCUTTA ELECTRIC LIGHTING LICENSE, 1900.

PRELIMINARY.

1. This license may be cited as the Calcutta Electric Lighting License, 1900.

2. This license is to be read and construed subject, in all respects, to the provisions of the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895, and the several words, terms and expressions, to which, by that Act, meanings are assigned, shall have, in this license, the same respective meanings, provided that in this license

The expression "the Act" shall mean the said Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895.

The expression "energy" shall mean electrical energy, and, for the purposes of applying the provisions of the Act to this license, electrical energy shall be deemed to be an agency within the meaning of electricity as defined in the Calcutta Electric Lighting Act, 1895.

The expression "power" shall mean electrical power, or the rate per unit of time at which energy is supplied.

The expression "main" shall mean any electric line, which may be laid down by the undertakers in any street or public place, and through which energy may be supplied, or intended to be supplied, by the undertakers, for the purposes of general supply.

The expression "service line" shall mean any electric line, through which energy may be supplied, or intended to be supplied, by the undertakers, to a consumer, either from any main, or directly from the premises of the undertakers.

The expression "distributing main" shall mean the portion of any main which is used for the purpose of giving origin to service lines for the purposes of general supply.

The expression "general supply" shall mean the general supply of energy to ordinary consumers, and, unless otherwise specially agreed with the local authority, to the public lamps, but shall not include the supply of energy to any one or more particular consumers under special agreement.

The expression "area of supply" shall mean the area within which the undertakers are, for the time being, authorised to supply energy under the provisions of this license.

The expressions "first schedule," "second schedule," "third schedule," and "fourth schedule" shall mean the first, second, third, and fourth schedules to this license annexed, respectively.

The expression "deposited map" shall mean the map of the area of supply deposited with the Local Government by the undertakers, together with the license, and signed by

For the purpose of this license, the word "plan" shall be held to mean a plan drawn to a horizontal scale of at least 1 inch to 100 feet, and a section drawn to a vertical scale of at least 1 inch to 10 feet, with such detail, plan, and section as may be necessary.

3. This license shall come into force, and have effect, upon the day when the notification, confirming this license, is published in the Calcutta Gazette, which date is, in this license, referred to as "the commencement of this license," and this license shall continue in force from that date until the 20th day of October 1918.

Address and description of the undertakers.

4. The undertakers for the purpose of this license are—Messrs. Kilburn & Co., on behalf of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, being a Company registered under the English Companies Act, 1862 and 1890, with limited liability, and having its registered office at Mansion House Buildings, London, E.C., with a local office and accredited Agents at 4 Fairlie Place, Calcutta.

Provided that, if the undertaking, or any part thereof, is at any time purchased by, or transferred to, any other body, or persons, in accordance with the provisions of this license, or of the Act, such body or persons shall, from the date of such purchase or transfer, be the undertakers in relation to such undertaking, or part thereof, for the purposes of this license, in lieu of the undertakers abovementioned.

The undertakers shall not, at any time, without the previous consent, in writing, of the Local Government, purchase, or acquire the undertaking of, or associate themselves with, any other Company or persons supplying, or intending to supply, energy within the City of Calcutta, and before applying for such consent, the undertakers shall give one month's notice of the application to every local authority, both in the undertakers' area of supply, and also in the area or district in which such other Company, or person supplies, or intends to supply, energy, and every such local authority shall be entitled to be heard with respect to the application.

If the undertakers purchase, or acquire, any undertaking, or associate themselves with any other Company, or person, in contravention of the provisions of this clause, the Local Government may revoke this license upon such terms as it may think just.

Area of supply.

5. Subject to the provisions of this license, the area of supply shall be the whole of the area included in the first schedule, which said area is more particularly delineated upon the deposited map, and thereon coloured red.

6. The undertakers shall not, at any time after the commencement of this license, supply energy, or erect, or lay down, any electric lines, or works, beyond the area of supply, otherwise than under a license granted by the Local Government under the Act.

If the undertakers supply energy, or erect, or lay down, electric lines, or works, in contravention of this section, the Local Government may revoke this license on such terms as it may think just.

Security and Accounts.

7. The undertakers, within a period of six months after the commencement of this license, and before exercising any of the powers by this license conferred on them in relation to the execution of works, shall show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that they are in a position fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed upon them by this license throughout the area of supply.

The undertakers shall, within six months after the commencement of this license, or such extended period as may be approved by the Local Government, and before exercising any of the powers conferred on them in relation to the execution of works, deposit, or secure to the satisfaction of the Local Government, a sum equal to 10 per cent. of the probable outlay, subject to a limit of Rs. 20,000 in respect of the area of supply, or such sums, in respect of the several local authorities' districts, which are, wholly or partly, comprised in the area of supply, not exceeding in the aggregate twenty thousand rupees, as the Local Government may direct.

If, within any such period as aforesaid, the undertakers fail to show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that they are in such a position, as abovementioned, or fail to deposit, or secure, such sum, or sums, as aforesaid, this license may be revoked by the Local Government as to the whole, or, with the consent of the undertakers, any part of the area affected thereby, upon such terms as it may think just.

Any sum or sums deposited or secured by the undertakers under the provisions of this section in respect of the area of supply, or of any such district, shall be repaid or released to them, from time to time, in equal moieties, when, and so soon as, it may be certified by an inspector, to be appointed by the Local Government, that amounts equal to the sums so to be repaid or released have been expended by the undertakers upon works executed for the purposes of the undertaking in such area or district, or that distributing mains have been duly laid down, in accordance with the provisions of this license, in every street, or part of a street, specified in that behalf in the second schedule, and situate in such area or district, or at such earlier dates, and by such instalments, as may, from time to time, be approved by the Local Government.

8. The undertakers shall, except with the special approval of the Local Government, to be previously given, at all times keep accounts of the capital employed for the purposes of the undertaking, distinct from the accounts kept by them in respect of any other undertaking or business.

Nature and mode of supply.

9. Subject to the provisions of this license and the Act, the undertakers may supply energy within the area of supply for all public and private purposes as defined by the Act, provided as follows:—

(a) Such energy shall be supplied only by means of some system which shall be approved of by the Local Government, and subject to such regulations and conditions for securing the safety of the public, and for insuring a proper and sufficient supply of energy, as the Local Government may, from time to time, impose.

(b) The undertakers shall, in the use of electric power for the working of any tramway under the provisions of this license, employ either insulated metallic returns, or uninsulated metallic returns of low resistance, save in the case of any tramways or tramroads worked by the undertaking in which the motive power may be entirely self-contained.

(c) The undertakers shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, placing, and maintaining their electric lines and circuits, and other works of all descriptions, and also in working their undertaking so as not injuriously to affect, by fusion, or electrolytic action, any gas- or water-pipes, or other metallic pipes, structures, or substances.

(d) The exercise of the powers by this license conferred, with respect to the use of electric power, shall be subject to the regulations set forth in this license, or under the said Act, and to any regulations which may be added thereto, or substituted therefor, respectively, by any order which the Local Government may make, from time to time, as, or when, they may think fit, for regulating the employment of insulated metallic returns of low resistance, for preventing fusion, or injurious electrolytic action of, or on, gas- or water-pipes or other metallic pipes, structures, or substances, and for minimising, as far as is reasonably practicable, injurious interference with the electric wires, lines, and apparatus of other parties, and the currents therein, whether such lines do, or do not, use the earth as a return.

(e) The undertakers using electric power contrary to the provisions of this license, or to any of the regulations set forth in the said Act, or to any regulation added thereto, or substituted therefor, by any order made by the Local Government, under the authority of this license, or of the said Act, shall, for every such offence, be subject to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 100, and also, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding Rs. 50, for every day during which such offence continues after conviction thereof:

Provided, always, that, whether such penalty has been recovered or not, the Local Government, in case in their opinion the undertakers in the use of electric power under the authority of this license, have made default in complying with the provisions of this license, or of the said act, or with any of the regulations aforesaid, may, by order, direct the undertakers to cease to use electric power, and thereupon the undertakers shall cease to use electric power, and shall not again use the same unless with the authority of the Local Government.

(f) The undertakers shall take all reasonable and proper precautions in constructing, placing, and maintaining their electric lines, circuits and other works of any description, and in using their electric lines, circuits and other works, so as not injuriously to interfere with the working of any wire, line, or apparatus from time to time used for the purpose of transmitting electric power, or of telegraphic, telephonic, or electric signalling communication, or the currents in such wire, line, or apparatus;

Provided, always, that the undertakers shall be deemed to take all such reasonable and proper precautions, as aforesaid, if, and so long as, they adopt, and employ at the option of the undertakers, either such insulated returns, or such uninsulated metallic returns of low resistance, and such other means of preventing injurious interference with the electric wires, lines, and apparatus of other parties, and the currents therein, as the Local Government shall direct; and in giving such directions, the Local Government shall have regard to the expense involved, and to the effect thereof upon the commercial prospects of the undertaking:

Provided, also, that, at the expiration of two years from the date on which the undertakers commence the public supply of electric power under the terms of this license, nothing in this sub-clause shall operate to give any right of action in respect of, or to protect any electric wires, lines, or apparatus, or the currents therein, unless, in the construction, erection, maintaining and working of such wires, lines, and apparatus, all reasonable and proper precautions, including the use of an insulated return, have been taken to prevent injurious interference therewith, and with the currents therein, by or from other electric currents.

If any difference arises between the undertakers and any other party with respect to anything in this sub-clause contained, such difference shall, unless the parties otherwise agree, be determined by the Local Government, or at the option of the Local Government, by an arbitrator to be appointed by the Local Government, and the costs of such determination shall be in the discretion of the Local Government, or of the arbitrator, as the case may be.

(g) Nothing in this sub-section shall apply to the use of any electric wire, circuit, or work, of the undertakers used, or intended to be used, for the supply of energy for electric lighting purposes, or for the purpose of providing motive power for domestic use, so far as such use is limited to such purposes.

Works.

Powers for execution of works.

10. Subject to the provisions of this license and the Act, the undertakers may, from time to time, exercise all or any of the powers conferred on them by this license and the Act, and may break up such streets not repairable by the Local Government or by the local authority, and such railways, tramways, and bridges (if any), as are specified in the third schedule, and open and break up any sewers, drains or tunnels, within, or under, such streets, railways, tramways and bridges, so far as such streets, railways, tramways and bridges may, for the time being, be included in the area of supply, and be, or be upon, land dedicated to public use: provided, however, as respects any such railway, that the powers hereby granted shall extend only to such parts thereof as pass across, or along, any highway on the level.

Subject, as aforesaid, the undertakers may also, from time to time, construct distributing boxes in any street for the purpose of supplying energy. Every such distributing box shall be for the exclusive use of the undertakers, and under their sole control, except so far as the Local Government may otherwise order, and shall be used by the undertakers only for the purpose of leading off service lines and other distributing conductors, or for examining, testing, regulating, measuring, converting, directing or controlling the supply of energy, or for examining or testing the condition of the mains or other portions of the works, or for other like purposes connected with the undertaking, and the undertakers may place therein meters, switches, and any other suitable and proper apparatus for any of the above purposes, and may maintain and use the same All work in connection with such distributing boxes shall be done at such times, and in such manner, as will cause as little obstruction and inconvenience as circumstances permit.

Prohibition of overhead wires.

11. The undertakers shall not, without the express consent of the Local Government, place any electric line above ground, along, over, or across any street.

If the undertakers place any electric lines in contravention of this section, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such offence continues

11A. Whenever the undertakers shall, with such consent as aforesaid, place any electric line above ground along, over, or across any street, they shall pay to the Corporation of Calcutta for every pole whereon such line shall be supported or carried along, over, or across such street, the annual rent of one rupee; and for every tripod whereon such line shall be so supported or carried, as aforesaid, the annual rent of two rupees; such rent to be paid on the first day of January in every year without deduction.

Notice of works with plan to be served on the Local Government and local authority.

12. Where the exercise of any of the powers of the undertakers in relation to the execution of any works (including the construction of distributing boxes) will involve the placing of any works in, under, along or across any street or public bridge, repairable by the Local Government or by the local authority, the following provision shall have effect :—

(a) One month before commencing the execution of such works (not being the repairs, renewals or amendments of existing works of which the character and position are not altered), the undertakers shall serve the notice upon the Local Government or the local authority, prescribed by section 7 of the Act, describing the proposed works, together with a plan of the works, showing the mode and position in which such works are intended to be executed, and the manner in which it is intended that such street or bridge, or any sewer, drain or tunnel therein or thereunder, is to be interfered with, and shall, upon being required to do so by the Local Government or the local authority, from time to time, give it, or them, any such further information in relation thereto as it or they, may desire.

(b) The Local Government or the local authority may, in its, or their, discretion, approve of any such works or plan, subject to such amendments or conditions as may seem fit, or may disapprove the same, and may give notice of such approval or disapproval to the undertakers.

(c) If the Local Government or the local authority fail to give any such notice of approval or disapproval to the undertakers within one month after the service of the notice upon them, it, or they, shall be deemed to have approved such works and plan.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this license or the Act, the undertakers shall not be entitled to execute any such works as above specified, except so far as the same may be of a description, and in accordance with a plan, which has been approved, or is to be deemed to have been approved, by the Local Government and the local authority as abovementioned, under this license: but where any such works and such plan are so approved, or to be deemed to be approved, the undertakers may cause such works to be executed in accordance with such plan, subject, in all respects, to the provisions of this license and of the Act.

(e) If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of this license or the Act) make full compensation to the Local Government and the local authority for any loss or damage which it, or they, may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties as aforesaid if the court, having cognizance of the case, shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

For the purposes of this license the word "plan" shall be held to mean a plan drawn to a horizontal scale of at least 1 inch to 100 feet, and a section drawn to a vertical scale of at least 1 inch to 10 feet, with such detail, plan, and section as may be necessary.

As to breaking up streets not repairable by Local Government or local authority, railways and tramways.

13. Where the exercise of the powers of the undertakers in relation to the execution of any works will involve the placing of any works in, under, along, or across any street, or part of a street, not repairable by the Local Government or the local authority, or over or under any railway, tramway or canal, the following provisions shall have effect, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested:—

(a) Fourteen days before commencing the execution of any such works (not being the repairs, renewals or amendments of existing works of which the character and position are not altered), the undertakers shall, in addition to any other notices which they may be required to give under this license or the Act, serve a notice upon the body or person liable to repair such street, or part of a street, or the body or person for the time being entitled to work such railway or tramway, or the owners of such canal (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "owners," describing the proposed works, and stating the amount of compensation (if any) proposed to be made in respect thereof, and the manner in which such compensation is proposed to be paid or secured, together with a plan of the works, showing the mode and position in which such works are intended to be executed and placed, and shall, upon being required to do so by any such owners, from time to time give them any such further information in relation thereto as they may desire.

(b) Every such notice shall contain a reference to this section, and direct the attention of the owners to whom it is given to the provisions thereof.

(c) Within one month after the service of any such notice and plan upon any owners, such owners may, if they think fit, serve a requisition upon the undertakers requiring that any question in relation to such works and any other question arising upon such notice or plan as aforesaid shall be settled by arbitration; and thereupon such question shall be settled by arbitration accordingly.

(d) In settling any question under this section, an arbitrator shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owners may be under in respect of such street, railway, tramway, or canal, and may, if he thinks fit, require the undertakers to execute any temporary or other works, so as to avoid any interference with any traffic, so far as may be possible.

(e) Where no such requisition, as in this section mentioned, is served upon the undertakers, or where, after any such requisition has been served upon them, any question required to be settled by arbitration has been so settled, the undertakers may, upon paying or securing any compensation which they may be required to pay or secure in the manner proposed by them, or settled by arbitration as aforesaid, cause to be executed the works specified in such notice and plan as aforesaid, and may, from time to time, repair, renew, and amend the same (provided that their character and position are not altered), but subject, in all respects, to the provisions of this license and the Act, and only in accordance with the notice and plan so served by them as aforesaid, or such modifications thereof, respectively, as may have been settled by arbitration, as hereinbefore mentioned, or as may be agreed upon between the parties.

(f) If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of this license or the Act) make full compensation to the owners affected thereby for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto they shall be a liable to penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties, as aforesaid, if the court, having cognizance of the case, shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section, so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

14. The undertakers may, from time to time, alter the position of any pipes (not forming part of any main sewer of the local authority), or any wires, being under any street or place authorised to be broken up by them, which may interfere with the exercise of their powers under the Act or this license; and any body or person may, in like manner, alter the position of any electric lines or works of the undertakers, being under any such street or place, as aforesaid, which may interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in such body or person in relation to such street or place, subject to the following provisions, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested—

(a) Fourteen days before commencing any such alteration, the undertakers, or such body or person (as the case may be), in this section referred to as "the operators," shall serve a notice upon the body or person for the time being entitled to such pipes, wires, electric lines, or works (as the case may be), in this section referred to as "the owners," describing the proposed alteration, and stating the amount of compensation (if any) proposed to be made in respect thereof, and the manner in which such compensation (if any) is proposed to be paid or secured, together with a plan showing the manner in which it is intended that such alterations shall be made, and shall, upon being required to do so by any such owners, from time to time, give them any such further information in relation thereto as they may desire.

(b) Within seven days after the service of any such notice and plan upon any owners, such owners may, if they think fit, serve a requisition upon the operators requiring that any question in relation to such works, or any other question arising upon such notice or plan, as aforesaid, shall be settled by arbitration, and thereupon such question shall be settled by arbitration accordingly.

(c) In settling any question under this section, an arbitrator shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owners may be under in respect of such pipes, wires, electric lines or works, and may, if he thinks fit, require the operators to execute any temporary or other works, so as to avoid interference with any purpose for which such pipes, wires, electric lines or works are used, so far as may be possible.

(d) Where no such requisition, as in this section mentioned, is served upon the operators, the owners shall be held to have agreed to the notice or plan served on them as aforesaid, and in such case, or where, after any such requisition has been served upon them, any question required to be settled by arbitration has been so settled, the operators, upon paying or securing any compensation which they may be required to pay or secure in the manner proposed by them, or settled by arbitration, as aforesaid, may cause the alterations specified in such notice and plan, as aforesaid, to be made, but subject, in all respects, to the provisions of this license and the Act, and only in accordance with the notice and plan so served by them, as aforesaid, or such modifications thereof, respectively, as may have been settled by arbitration, as hereinbefore mentioned, or as may be agreed upon between the parties.

(e) At any time, before any operators are entitled to commence any such alterations as aforesaid, the owners any serve a statement upon the operators, stating that they desire to execute such alterations themselves, and where any such statement has been served upon the operators, they shall not be entitled to proceed, themselves, to execute such alteration, except where they have notified to such owners that they require them to execute such alterations, and such owners have refused or neglected to comply with such notification, as hereinafter provided.

(f) Where any such statement, as last aforesaid, has been served upon the operators, they shall, not more than forty-eight hours, and not less than twenty-four hours before the execution of such alterations is required to be commenced, serve a notification upon the owners, stating the time when such alterations are required to be commenced, and the manner in which such alterations are required to be made.

(g) Upon receipt of any such notification as last aforesaid, the owners may proceed to execute such alterations as required by the operators, subject to the like restrictions and conditions as the operators would themselves be subject to in executing such alterations, so far as the same may be applicable.

(h) If the owners decline, or, for twenty-four hours after the time when any such alterations are required to be commenced, neglect to comply with such notification, the operators may, themselves, proceed to execute such alterations, in like manner as they might have done if no such statement, as aforesaid, had been served upon them.

(i) Expenses incurred by any owners in complying with any notification of any operators under the last preceding sub-sections shall be repaid to them by such operators, and may be recovered through a court of competent jurisdiction.

(j) Any owners may, if they think fit, by any statement served by them upon any operators under this section, require the operators to give them such security for the repayment to them of any expenses to be incurred by them in executing any alterations as abovementioned as may be agreed upon between such owners and operators, or, in default of agreement, as may be determined by arbitration, and where any operators have been so required to give security, they shall not be entitled to serve a notification upon the owners requiring them to execute such alterations until such security has been duly given.

(k) If the operators make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of this license or the Act) make full compensation to the owners affected thereby for any loss, damage, or penalty which they may incur by reason thereof, and, in addition thereto, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the operators shall not be subject to any such additional penalties, as aforesaid, if the court, having cognizance of the case, shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the operators complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

Laying of electric lines, &c., near pipes for Gas or Water, and near sewers, drains, &c.

15. Whenever the undertakers require to dig or sink any trench for laying down any new electric lines (other than service lines), or other works, near to which any pipe, sewer, drain, water-course, defence, or work under the jurisdiction or control of the Local Government, or of any local authority, or belonging to any duly authorised Company, or any branch, or service pipe for the supply of gas or water, has been lawfully placed, or where any duly authorised Company requiries to dig, or sink, any trench for laying down any new mains or pipes other than service pipes, or other apparatus, near to which any lines or works of the undertakers have been lawfully placed, the undertakers, or such duly authorised Company (as the case may be) in this section referred to as the "operators," shall, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested, gave to the Local Government or local authority, or to such duly authorised Company, or to the undertakers (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "owners," not more than forty-eight hours, and not less twenty-four hours' notice before commencing to dig or sink such trench as aforesaid, and such owners shall be entitled, by their officer, to superintend the digging or sinking of such trench, and the operators shall conform with such reasonable requirements as may, from time to time, be made by the owners, or such officer, for the protection of every such sewer, drain, water-course, defence, pipe, electric line, or work, and for securing the same from injury, and they shall also, if required to do so by the owners thereof, repair any damage that may be done thereto.

If the operators make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall make full compensation to all owners affected thereby for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and, in addition thereto, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the operators shall not be subject to any such penalty if the court, having cognizance of the case, shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the operators complied with the requirements and restrictions of this section, as far as was reasonable under the circumstances, or that the default in question was due to the fact that the operators were ignorant of the position of the sewer, drain, water-course, defence, pipe, electric line or work affected thereby, and that such ignorance was not owing to any negligence on the part of the operators.

16. Seven days before commencing to lay down, or place, any electric line, or to use any electric line in any manner, whereby the work of telegraphic, or telephonic, or electric signalling communication through any wire or line, lawfully laid down, or placed in any position, may be injuriously affected, the undertakers shall, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested, give to the owner of such wire or line, notice in writing, specifying the course, nature and gauge of such electric line, and the manner in which such electric line is intended to be used, and the amount, and nature of the currents intended to be transmitted thereby, and the extent to, and manner in which (if at all), earth returns are proposed to be used, and any owner entitled to receive such notice, may, from time to time, serve a requisition on the undertakers, requiring them to adopt such precautions as may be therein specified in regard to the laying, placing, or user of such electric line, for the purpose of preventing such injurious affection; and the undertakers shall conform with such reasonable requirements as may be made by such owner for the purpose of preventing the communication through such wire or line from being injuriously affected, as aforesaid.

If any difference arises between any such owner and the undertakers with respect to the reasonableness of any requirements so made, such difference shall be determined by arbitration:

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to repairs or renewals of any electric line, so long as the course, nature, and gauge of such electric line, and the amount and nature of the current transmitted thereby, are not altered.

If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall make full compensation to the body or person entitled to any such wire or line, for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and, in addition thereto, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees for every such default, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every day after the first day during which such default continues: provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties as aforesaid if the court, having cognizance of the case, shall be of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements and restrictions of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances, or that the default in question was due to the fact that the undertakers were ignorant of the position of the wires or lines affected thereby, and that such ignorance was not owing to any negligence on the part of the undertakers.

Compulsory works.

Mains, &c., to be laid down in streets specified in second schedule.

17. The undertakers shall, within a period of two years after the commencement of this license, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout every street, or part of a street, specified in that behalf in the second schedule, and shall thereafter maintain the same.

Mains to be laid down in remainder of area of supply.

18. In addition to the mains specified in the last preceding section, the undertakers shall, at any time after the expiration of eighteen months after the commencement of this order, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains, for the purposes of general supply, throughout every other street, or part of a street, within the area of supply, upon being required to do so in manner by this license provided.

All such mains as last abovementioned shall be laid down by the undertakers within six months after any requisition in that behalf served upon them in accordance with the provisions of this license has become binding upon them, or such further time as may, in any case, be approved of by the Local Government.

If undertakers fail to lay down mains, &c., license may be revoked.

19. If the undertakers make default in laying down any mains in accordance with the provisions of this license within the periods prescribed in that behalf, respectively, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees in respect of each such default for each day during which such default continues, and, if the Local Government are of opinion in any case, that such default is wilful, and unreasonably prolonged, they may themselves, or upon the application of the local authority, revoke this license as to the whole, or with the consent of the undertakers, any part of the area of supply, or, if the undertakers so desire, may, after having given an opportunity to the local authority to make representations and objections with reference thereto, suffer the same to remain in force as to such area or part thereof, subject to such conditions as they may think fit to impose, and any conditions so imposed shall be binding on, and observed by, the undertakers, and shall be of the like force and effect in every respect as though they were contained in this license.

Manner in which requisition is to be made.

20. Any requisition requiring the undertakers to lay down distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout any street, or part of a street, under the last preceding sections, may be made by six or more owners or occupiers of premises along such street, or part of a street, or, where the Local Government or the local authority has the control and management of the public lamps in such street, or part of a street, by the Local Government or the local authority.

Every such requisition shall be signed by the owners and occupiers making such requisition, or by the Local Government or the local authority (as the case may be), and shall be served upon the undertakers.

Forms of requisition shall be kept by the undertakers at their office, and a copy shall be supplied, free of charge, to any owner or occupier of premises within the area of supply, and to the Local Government and the local authority, on applying for the same, and any requisition so supplied shall be deemed valid in point of form.

Provisions on requisition by owners or occupiers.

21. When any such requisition is made by any such owners or occupiers, as aforesaid, the undertakers (if they think fit) may, within fourteen days after the service of the requisition upon them, serve a notice on all the persons by whom such requisition is signed, stating that they decline to be bound by such requisition, unless such persons, or some of them, will bind themselves to take a supply of energy for three years, of such amount in the aggregate (to be specified by the undertakers in such notice) as will, at the rates of charge for the time being charged by the undertakers for a supply of energy from distributing mains to ordinary consumers within the area of supply, produce, annually, such reasonable sum as shall be specified by the undertakers in such notice: provided that, in such notice, the undertakers shall not be required to specify any sum amounting to less than twenty per centum upon the expense of providing, and laying down, the required distributing mains, and any other mains, or additions to existing mains, which may be necessary for the purpose of connecting such distributing mains with the nearest available source of supply.

Where such notice is served, the requisition shall not be binding on the undertakers unless, within fourteen days after the service of such notice on all the persons signing the requisition has been effected, or, in the case of difference, the delivery of the arbitrator's award, there be tendered to the undertakers an agreement, severally executed by such persons or some of them, binding them to take, for a period of three years at the least, such specified amounts of energy, respectively, as will, in the aggregate, at the rates of charge above specified, produce an annual sum amounting to not less than twenty per centum upon the expense of providing and laying down such distributing mains, or other mains, as above-mentioned, nor unless sufficient security for the payment, to the undertakers, of all moneys which may become due to them from such persons under such agreement, is offered to the undertakers (if required by them by such notice, as aforesaid) within the period limited for the tender of the agreement as aforesaid.

If any difference arises between the undertakers and any persons signing any such requisition as to the reasonableness of the amount specified by the undertakers in their notice, or as to the sufficiency of any security offered to them under the section, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Provisions on requisition by Local Government or local authority.

22. Where any such requisition is made by the Local Government or the local authority, it shall not be binding on the undertakers unless, at the time when such service is effected, or within fourteen days thereafter, there be tendered to the undertakers (if required by them) an agreement executed by the Local Government or the local authority, and binding them to take, for a period of three years at the least, a supply of energy for lighting such public lamps in the street, or part of a street, in respect of which such requisition is made, as may be under their management or control.

Map of area of supply to be made.

23. The undertakers shall forthwith, after commencing to supply energy under this license, cause a map to be made of the area of supply on a horizontal scale of at least 1 inch to 100 feet, and shall cause to be marked thereon the line of all their then existing mains, service lines, and other underground works and distributing boxes, and shall, once in every year, cause such map to be corrected, and such additions to be made thereto, as will show the line of all their then existing mains, service lines, and other underground works and distributing boxes.

Deposit and inspection of maps.

24. Every map so made, or corrected, for the undertakers, or a copy thereof, with the date expressed thereon of the last time when it was so corrected, shall be kept by the undertakers at their principal office within the area of supply, and a copy of every such map shall, within one month after such map is made or corrected, be served by the undertakers upon the Local Government and upon the local authority.

Every copy of the said map, as last corrected, which may be served upon the local authority, shall be kept by them at their office, and shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the inspection of all applicants, and such applicants may take copies of the same or any part thereof. The local authority may demand, and take from every such applicant, as aforesaid, such fee, not exceeding one rupee, for each inspection of such map or copy, and such further fee, not exceeding one rupee, for each copy of the same, or any part thereof, taken by such applicant, as they may, from time to time, prescribe.

Penalty on undertakers in respect of maps, &c.

25. If the undertakers fail to comply with any of the requirements of the last preceding sections of this license with respect to maps, they shall, for every such offence, be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees, and to a further penalty not exceeding twenty rupees for every day, after the first day, during which such offence continues.

Testing.

Appointment of electric inspectors by Local Government.

26. The Local Government shall, from time to time, appoint, and keep appointed, one or more competent and impartial persons to be electric inspectors for the purpose of inspecting electric lines and works, and of certifying meters under this order.

Remuneration of electric inspectors.

27. The Local Government shall pay to every electric inspector appointed under this license such reasonable remuneration (if any) as they may, from time to time, determine, and such remuneration may be in addition to, or in substitution for, any fees which are directed to be paid to electric inspectors for services rendered by them under this license, as may be settled by the authority by whom such remuneration is determined: provided that, where any such remuneration is settled to be in substitution for such fees as aforesaid, such fees shall, in lieu of being paid to such electric inspector for his own use, be due, and paid to him on behalf, and for the use of the Local Government, and shall be deposited by them in the public treasury.

28. Every electric inspector, if and when required to do so by the authority by whom he is appointed, shall, from time to time, test, for insulation and conductivity, any portion of any main of the undertakers within the area of supply through which energy is, or is intended to be, supplied by them : provided that such testings shall not be made in regard to any particular portion of a main oftener than once in any three months, unless in pursuance of a special order in that behalf made by the Local Government.

Testing of mains.

29. Every electric inspector, if and when required to do so by any person supplied with energy by the undertakers, shall, from time to time, test, for insulation and conductivity, any service lines by which such energy is supplied, and the efficiency of any joints in such service lines and make such other tests in relation to such service lines as may, from time to time, be approved of by the Local Government.

Testing of service lines.

30. Notice shall be given to the undertakers before the commencement of any testing by an electric inspector, and such testing shall be carried out at such suitable hours as, in the opinion of such inspector, will least interfere with the supply of energy by the undertakers, and in such manner as such inspector may think expedient, but, except under the provisions of a special order in that behalf made by the Local Government, he shall not be entitled to have access to, or interfere with, the mains of the undertakers at any points other than those at which the undertakers have reserved for themselves access to the said mains : provided that the undertakers shall not be held responsible for any interruption in the supply of energy which may be occasioned by, or required by such inspector for the purpose of any such testing as aforesaid.

Mode of testing.

31. Every electric inspector shall, on the day immediately following that on which any testing has been completed by him under this license, make, and deliver, a report of the results of his testing, to the authority or person by whom he was required to make such testing, and to the undertakers, and such report shall be receivable in evidence.

Report of results of testing.

If the undertakers or any authority, company, or person are, or is, dissatisfied with any report of any electric inspector, they may appeal to the Local Government against such report, and thereupon the Local Government shall enquire into, and decide upon, the matter of any such appeal, and their decision shall be final and binding on all parties.

32. The undertakers shall, at such places within a reasonable distance from any distributing main, establish, at their own cost, such reasonable number of testing stations as the Local Government shall deem sufficient, for testing the supply of energy by the undertakers through such main, and shall place thereat proper and suitable instruments of a pattern to be approved by the Local Government, and shall connect such stations by means of proper and sufficient electric lines, with such mains, and supply energy thereto, for the purpose of such testing.

Undertakers to establish testing stations.

33. The undertakers shall set up, and keep upon all premises from which they supply energy by any distributing mains, such suitable and proper instruments of such pattern and construction as may be, from time to time, approved of, or prescribed by, the Local Government, and shall, from time to time, take, and record, and keep recorded, such observations as the Local Government, from time to time, prescribe, and any observations so recorded shall be receivable in evidence.

Undertakers to keep instruments on their premises.

34. The undertakers shall keep in efficient working order all instruments which they are required by, or under, this license, to place, set up, or keep at any testing station, or on their own premises, and any electric inspector appointed under this license may, from time to time, examine and record the readings of such instruments at such times, and in such manner, as he may be directed by the authority by whom he is appointed, and any readings so recorded shall be receivable in evidence.

Readings of instruments to be taken.

35. Any electric inspector appointed under this license shall have the right to have access, at all reasonable hours, to the testing places and premises of the undertakers, for the purpose of testing the electric lines and instruments of the undertakers, and ascertaining if the same are in order, and in case the same are not in order, he may require the undertakers forthwith to have the same put in order.

Electric inspector may test undertakers' instruments.

36. The undertakers may, if they think fit, on each occasion of the testing of any main or service line, or the testing or inspection of any instruments of the undertakers by any electric inspector, be represented by some officer or other agent, but such officer or agent shall not interfere with the testing or inspection.

Representation of undertakers at testings.

37. All expenses of testing by an electric inspector, including such reasonable fees to the electric inspector as may, from time to time, be prescribed in that behalf by the local authority, with the approval of the Local Government, shall be paid by the undertakers, unless the report of the electric inspector, or, in the case of an appeal, the decision of the Local Government, shows that the local authority, or any body or person supplied with energy, was guilty of any default or negligence, and in such case the expenses of the testing, including such fees as aforesaid, shall be ascertained by a court of competent jurisdiction and paid by such local authority, body, or person as the court shall direct.

Undertakers to give facilities for testing.

38. The undertakers shall afford all facilities for the proper execution of this license with respect to testing and the readings and inspection of instruments, and shall comply with all the requirements of or under this license in that behalf, and in case the undertakers make default in complying with any of the provisions of this section, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding ten rupees for every day, after the first day, during which such offence continues.

Remedying of defects in main, &c.

39. If, at any time, it appears to the Local Government that any mains, electric lines, or works of the undertakers are defective, and not in accordance with the regulations and conditions subject to which the undertakers are, for the time being, authorised to supply energy under this license, the Local Government may, by order in writing, require the undertakers to remedy such defect, so as to comply with such regulations and conditions, within such period as may be therein limited in that behalf, and, if the undertakers make default in remedying such defect within the time so limited, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred rupees for every day during which such default continues; provided that if such defect is, in the opinion of the Local Government, dangerous to public safety, they may also, by any such order, as aforesaid, forbid the use of such main, electric line, or work, from such date as may be specified in that behalf, until the defect is remedied, and, if the undertakers make use of any such main, electric line or work, while the use thereof is so forbidden, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand rupees for every day during which such uses continue.

Supply.

Undertakers to furnish sufficient supply of energy to owners and occupiers within the area of supply.

40. The undertakers shall, upon being required to do so by the owners or occupier of any premises situate within fifty yards from any distributing main of the undertakers in which they are, for the time being, required to maintain a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply to private consumers under this license, or any regulations and conditions subject to which they are authorised to supply energy under this license, give, and continue to give, a supply of energy for such premises, in accordance with the provisions of this license, and of all such regulations and conditions, as aforesaid, and they shall furnish, and lay, any electric lines that may be necessary for the purpose of supplying the maximum power with which any such owner or occupier may be entitled to be supplied under this license, subject to the conditions following (that is to say), the cost of so much of any electric line for the supply of energy to any owner or occupier as may be laid upon the property of such owner or in the possession of such occupier, and of so much of any such electric lines as may be laid for a greater distance than sixty feet from any distributing main of the undertakers, although not on such property, shall be defrayed by such owner or occupier.

41. Every owner or occupier of premises requiring a supply of energy shall—

(a) serve a notice upon the undertakers, specifying the premises in respect of which such supply is required, and the maximum power required to be supplied, and the day (not being an earlier day than a reasonable time after the date of the service of such notice) upon which such supply is required to commence: and

Provided, always, that the undertakers may, after they have given a supply of energy for any premises, by notice in writing require the owner or occupier of such premises, within seven days after the date of the service of such notice, to give to them security for the payment of all moneys which may, from time to time, become due to them in respect of such supply, in case such owner or occupier has not already given such security, or in case any security given has become invalid, or is insufficient; and in case any such owner or occupier fail to comply with the terms of such notice, the undertakers may, if they think fit, discontinue to supply energy for such premises so long as such failure continues:

Provided, also, that if the owner or occupier of any such premises, as aforesaid, uses any form of lamp or burner, or uses the energy supplied to him by the undertakers for any purposes, or deals with it in any manner so as to unduly or improperly interfere with the efficient supply of energy to any other body or person by the undertakers, the undertakers may, if they think fit, discontinue to supply energy to such premises so long as such user continues:

Provided, also, that the undertakers shall not be compelled to give a supply of energy to any premises unless they are reasonably satisfied that the electric lines, fittings, and works therein are in good order and condition, and not calculated to affect, injuriously, the use of energy by the undertakers or by other persons:

Provided, also, that in the event of any alterations of, or additions to, any electric lines, fittings, or works within such premises, as aforesaid, all such alterations or additions shall be notified to the undertakers by the occupiers before being connected to the source of supply, with a view to their being examined and tested.

If any difference arises between any such owner or occupier and the undertakers as to the reasonableness of the amount of any security required to be given, or as to the sufficiency of any security offered under this section, or as to the improper use of energy, or as to any alleged defect in any lines, fittings, or works, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Maximum power.

42. The maximum power with which any such consumer shall be entitled to be supplied shall be of such amount as he may, from time to time, require to be supplied with, not exceeding what may be reasonably anticipated as the maximum consumption on his premises:

Provided that, where any consumer has required the undertakers to supply him with a maximum power of any specified amount, he shall not be entitled to alter that maximum, except upon one month's notice to the undertakers, and any expenses incurred by the undertakers in respect of the service lines by which energy is supplied to the premises, of such consumer, or any fittings, or apparatus of the undertakers upon such premises, consequent upon such alteration, shall be paid by him to the undertakers, and may be recovered summarily as a civil debt.

If any difference arises between any such owner or occupier and the undertakers as to what may be reasonably anticipated as the consumption on his premises, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Supply of energy to public lamps.

43. The undertakers, upon receiving reasonable notice from the Local Government or the local authority, requiring them to supply energy to any public lamps within the distance of seventy-five yards from any distributing main of the undertakers in which they are, for the time being, required to maintain a current of energy for the purposes of general supply under this license, or any regulations and conditions subject to which they are authorised to supply energy under this license, shall give, and continue to give, a supply of energy to such lamps in such quantities as the Local Government or the local authority may, from time to time, require to be supplied.

Penalty for failure to supply.

44. Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy to any owner or occupier of premises to whom they may be, and are, required to supply energy, under this license, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees in respect of every such default for each day during which any such default occurs.

Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy to the public lamps to which they may be, and are, required to supply energy, under this license, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees in respect of every such default for each such lamp, and for each day during which any such default occurs.

Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy in accordance with the terms of any regulations and conditions subject to which they are authorised to supply energy under this license, they shall be liable to such penalties as may, by such regulations and conditions, be prescribed in that behalf:

Provided, always, that when such default is due to cyclones, or floods, or storms, or other causes not under the control of, or due to default of, the undertakers, no penalty shall be enforced if the undertakers show due diligence in resuming the supply:

Provided that the penalties to be inflicted on the undertakers under this section shall in no case exceed, in the aggregate, the sum of five hundred rupees in respect of any defaults not being wilful defaults on the part of the undertakers for any one day, and provided, also, that in no case shall any penalty be inflicted in respect of any default if the court, having cognizance of the case, shall be of opinion that such default was caused by inevitable accident, or force majeure, or was of so slight or unimportant a character as not materially to affect the value of the supply.

Price.

Methods of charging

45. The undertakers may charge for energy supplied by them to any ordinary consumer (otherwise than by agreement)—

(1) by the actual amount of energy so supplied; or

(2) by the electrical amount contained in such supply; or, unless the Local Government, from time to time, otherwise direct;

(3) by the number of hours during which the supply of energy is actually used by such consumer, and the maximum power with which he is, for the time being, entitled to be supplied;

Provided that, before commencing to supply energy through any distributing main for the purposes of general supply, the undertakers shall give notice to the Local Government, and to the local authority, by what method they propose to charge for energy supplied through such main; and where the undertakers have given any such notice, they shall not be entitled to change such method of charging, except after one month's notice of such change has been given by them to the Local Government, and the local authority, and to every consumer of energy who is supplied by them from such main:

Provided, also, that when the undertakers have given notice to any consumer of charging him by the number of hours, and the maximum power, in manner above described, such consumer, if he objects to that method of charge, may, by one month's notice in writing, require the undertakers to charge him by the actual quantity of energy supplied to him, and thereafter the undertakers shall not, except with the consumer's consent, charge him by any other method.

Maximum prices.

46. The prices to be charged by the undertakers for energy supplied by them shall not exceed those stated in that behalf in the fourth schedule, in the first, second, and third sections thereof, respectively: Provided that, if the Local Government are of opinion that, or the local authority, or the undertakers shall, at any time after the expiration of seven years after the commencement of this license, make a representation to the Local Government that the prices, or methods of charge stated in the said schedule ought to be altered, the Local Government, after such enquiry as they may think fit, may make an order varying the prices, or methods of charge, in lieu thereof, and the prices, or methods of charge so varied, or substituted, shall have effect on, and after, such day as may be mentioned in the order, as if they had been stated in the said schedule: Provided, also, that the prices, and methods of charge for the time being in force, may be altered, in like manner, at any time after the expiration of any, or every, period of seven years after the same were last altered.

Other charges by agreement.

47. Subject to the provisions of this license and of the principal Act, and the right of the consumer to require that he shall be charged according to some one or other of the methods abovementioned in cases where he is entitled to require a supply, the undertakers may make any agreement with a consumer as to the price to be charged for energy, and the mode in which such charges are to be ascertained, and may charge accordingly

Price to public lamps.

48. The price to be charged by the undertakers, and to be paid to them for all energy supplied to the public lamps, and the mode in which such charges shall be ascertained, shall be settled by agreement between the Local Government or local authority and the undertakers, as the case may be, and, in the event of difference, by arbitration, regard being had to the circumstances of the case, and the distributing, or other mains (if any) which may have to be laid for the purpose, and the prices charged to ordinary consumers in the district.

Meters and Apparatus.

Meters to be used except by agreement.

49. The energy supplied by the undertakers to any ordinary consumers under this license, or the electrical quantity contained in such supply (according to the method by which the undertakers elect to charge), in this license referred to as "the value of the supply," shall, except as otherwise agreed between such consumer and the undertakers, be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter, duly certified under the provisions of this license.

Meters to be certified.

50. A meter shall be considered to be duly certified under the provisions of this license if it be certified by an electric inspector, appointed under this license, to be of some construction and pattern, and to have been fixed, and to have been connected with the service lines, in some manner approved of by the Local Government, and to be a correct meter; and every such meter is, in this order, referred to as a "certified meter:" Provided that where any alteration is made in any certified meter, or where any such meter is unfixed, or disconnected from, the service lines, such meter shall cease to be a certified meter, unless, and until, it be again certified as a certified meter under the provisions of this license.

51. Every electric inspector, who may be required by the undertakers, or by any consumer, to examine any meter for the purpose of certifying the same as a certified meter under the provisions of this license, shall be entitled to demand, from the undertakers, or consumer, so requiring him, and to be paid, such fees as may, from time to time, be determined, in that behalf, by the Local Government, before commencing such examination, and every electric inspector shall, upon being required so to do by the undertakers, or any such consumer, as aforesaid, examine any meter situate within the district for which he is appointed, if such fees are offered to him, as aforesaid, and shall certify the same as a certified meter if he considers it entitled to be so certified.

Undertakers to supply meters if required to do so.

52. Where the value of the supply is, under this license, required to be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter, the undertakers shall, if required so to do by the consumer, supply him with an appropriate meter, and shall, if required so to do, fix the same upon the premises of the consumer, and connect the service lines therewith, and procure such meter to be duly certified under the provisions of this license, and, for such purposes, may authorise and empower any officer or person to enter upon such premises, and execute all necessary works, and do all necessary acts: Provided that, previously to supplying any such meter, the undertakers may require such consumer to pay to them a reasonable sum in respect of the price of such meter, or to give security therefor, or may require him to enter into an agreement for the hire of such meter as hereinafter provided, and also to pay to them a reasonable sum in respect of the expenses of fixing such meter, and connecting it with the service lines, and procuring the same to be certified under this license.

If any difference arises between the undertakers and any consumer under this section, such difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Meters not to be connected or disconnected without notice.

53. No consumer shall connect any meter used, or to be used, under this license, for ascertaining the value of the supply, with any electric line through which energy is supplied by the undertakers or disconnect any such meter from any such electric line, unless he has given, to the undertakers, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention so to do, and if any person acts in contravention of this section, he shall be liable, for each offence, to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees

Consumer to keep his meter in proper order.

54. Every consumer of energy supplied by the undertakers shall, at all times, at his own expense, keep all meters belonging to him, whereby the value of the supply is, under this license, to be ascertained, in proper order for correctly registering such value, and, in default of his so doing, the undertakers may cease to supply energy through such meter.

The undertakers shall have access to, and be at liberty to take off, remove, test, inspect, and replace, any such meter at all reasonable times: Provided that all reasonable expenses of, and incident to, any such taking off, removing, testing, inspecting and replacing, and the procuring such meter to be again duly certified where such recertifying is thereby rendered necessary, shall, if the meter be found to be not in proper order, be paid by the consumer, but if the same be in proper order, all expenses connected therewith shall be paid by the undertakers.

Power to the undertakers to let meter.

55. The undertakers may let for hire any meter for ascertaining the value of the supply, and any fittings thereto, and any other apparatus required for their undertaking, for such remuneration in money, and on such terms, with respect to the repair of such meter, or apparatus, and fittings, and for securing the safety and return, to the undertakers, of such meter, or apparatus, and fittings, as may be agreed upon between the hirer and the undertakers, or, in case of difference, be decided by the Local Government, and such remuneration shall be recoverable by the undertakers summarily as a civil debt.

Undertakers to keep meter let for hire in repair.

56. The undertakers shall, unless the agreement of hire otherwise provides, at all times, at their own expense, keep all meters, let for hire by them to any consumer, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained, in proper order for correctly registering such value, and, in default of their so doing, the consumer shall not be liable to pay rent for the same during such time as such default continues. The undertakers shall, for the purposes aforesaid, have access to, and be at liberty to remove, test, inspect, and replace, any such meter at all reasonable times: Provided that the expenses of procuring any such meter to be again duly certified, where such recertifying is, thereby, rendered necessary, shall be paid by the undertakers.

Differences as to correctness of meter to be settled by inspector, or Local Government officer.

57. If any difference arises between any consumer and the undertakers as to whether any meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained (whether belonging to such consumer or the undertakers) is, or is not, in proper order for correctly registering such value, or as to whether such value has been correctly registered, in any case, by any meter, such difference shall be determined, upon the application of either party, by an electric inspector, or, where the Local Government are the consumers, by an officer to be appointed by the Local Government, who shall also order by which of the parties the costs of the proceedings before him shall be paid, and the decision of such inspector or officer shall be final and binding on all parties. Subject, as aforesaid, the register of the meter shall be conclusive evidence, in the absence of fraud, of the value of the supply.

Undertakers to pay expenses of providing new meters where method of charge altered.

58. Where any consumer who is supplied with energy by the undertakers from any distributing main is provided with a certified meter for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply, and the undertakers change the method of charging for energy supplied by them from such main, the undertakers shall pay to such consumer the reasonable expenses to which he may be put in providing a new meter for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply according to such new method of charging, and such expenses may be recovered by the consumer from the undertakers summarily as a civil debt.

Undertakers may place meters to measure supply, or to check measurement thereof.

59. In addition to any meter which may be placed upon the premises of any consumer to ascertain the value of the supply, the undertakers may, from time to time, place upon his premises such meter, or other apparatus, as they may desire, for the purpose of ascertaining or regulating either the amount of energy supplied to such consumer, or the number of hours during which such supply is given, or the maximum amount of such supply, or any other quantity, or time, connected therewith: Provided that such meter shall be of some construction and pattern, and shall be fixed and connected with the service lines in some manner approved by the Local Government, and shall be supplied and maintained entirely at the cost of the undertakers, and shall not, except by agreement, be placed otherwise than between the mains of the undertakers and the terminals on the consumer's premises at which the supply is given.

Notices, &c.

Notices, &c., may be printed or written.

60. Notices, orders, and other documents under this license may be in writing or in print, or partly in writing and partly in print, and where any notice, order, or document requires authentication by the local authority, the signature thereof by the Chairman or Secretary to the local authority shall be sufficient authentication.

Service of notices, &c.

61. Any notice, order, or document, required or authorised to be served upon any body or person under this license or the Act, may be served by the same being addressed to such body or person, and being left at, or transmitted through the post to, the following addresses, respectively :—

(a) In the case of the Local Government, the office of the Secretary in the Public Works Department.

(b) In the case of any local authority, the office of such local authority.

(c) In the case of the undertakers, or any other Company having a registered office, the registered office of the undertakers, or such Company.

(d) In the case of a Company having an office, or offices, but no registered office, any such office.

(e) In the case of any other person, the usual or last known place of abode of such person.

Where any notice is served by post, it shall be deemed to have been served at the time when the letter, containing the notice, would be delivered in the ordinary course of post, and, in proving such service, it shall be sufficient to prove that the letter containing the notice was properly addressed and put into the post.

A notice, order, or document, by this license required, or authorised, to be served on the owner, or occupier, of any of the premises, shall be deemed to be properly addressed if addressed by the description of the "owner" or "occupier" of the premises (naming the premises) without further name or description.

A notice, order, or document, by this license required, or authorised, to to be served on the owner, or occupier, of premises, may be served by delivering the same, or a true copy thereof, to some person on the premises, or, if there is no person on the premises to whom the same can, with reasonable diligence, be delivered, by fixing the notice on some conspicuous part of the premises.

Termination of license by effluxion of time.

61A. If this license shall not be renewed at the end of the period for which it is hereby granted, the following provision shall have effect :—

(a) The local authority, or the Local Government, if they think fit, may, by notice in writing, require the undertakers to sell, and thereupon the undertakers shall sell to them the undertaking, or such part of it as is within the area of supply, upon terms of paying the then value of all lands, buildings, works, materials, and plant of the undertakers, suitable to and used by them, for the purposes of the undertaking within such area, or part thereof; such value being agreed, or estimated by arbitration, on the basis of the value of the undertaking as a going concern.

(b) If no purchase is effected by the Local Government or the local authority under the provisions aforesaid, the undertakers shall be at liberty to sell and dispose of the said undertaking, and all lands, buildings, works, materials, and plant, of the undertakers, to such persons, and in such manner, as to the undertakers, may seem fit, in their absolute discretion.

(c) If no purchase or sale shall be effected, the provisions of clause 65, (e) & (f), shall take effect, so far as they are applicable to the circumstances of this present clause (61A).

Revocation of License.

Revocation of license where undertakers are insolvent.

62. If, at any time, after the commencement of this license, the local authority make a representation to the Local Government, or the Local Government themselves are of opinion that the undertakers have made any default in executing works or supplying energy in accordance with the terms of the license, and that such default is in consequence of the insolvency of the undertakers, and that by reason of such insolvency the undertakers are unable, fully and effectually, to discharge the duties and obligations imposed upon them by this license, the Local Government shall enquire into the truth of such representation, and if, upon such enquiry, they are satisfied of the truth of such representation, they shall, upon the application of the local authority, or at their own discretion, revoke this license as to the whole, or, with the consent of the undertakers, as to any part of the area of supply.

Revocation of order where undertaking cannot be carried on with profit.

63. If, at any time, after the commencement of this license, the undertakers represent to the Local Government, or the Local Government are of opinion that the undertaking cannot be carried on with profit, and ought to be abandoned, the Local Government shall enquire into the truth of such representation, and if, upon such enquiry, they are satisfied of the truth of such representation, they may, if, in their discretion, they think fit, revoke this license as to the whole, or (with the consent of the undertakers and of the local authority) as to any part of the area of supply.

Revocation of order with consent.

64. In addition to any other powers which the Local Government may have in that behalf, they may revoke this license at any time with the consent and concurrence of the undertakers and the local authority of the area (if any) upon such terms as the Local Government may think just.

Provision where order revoked.

65. If the Local Government at any time revoke this license as to the whole, or any part, of the area of supply, under any of the provisions of this license, the following provisions shall have effect :—

(a) The Local Government shall serve a notice of such revocation upon the undertakers, and upon the local authority of the area (if any), and shall, in such notice, fix a date at which such revocation shall take effect, and, from and after such date, all the powers and liabilities of the undertakers under this license for the supply of energy, within such area, or part thereof, as aforesaid, shall absolutely cease and determine.

(b) Within one month after the service of such notice by the Local Government, the local authority, or the Local Government, if they think fit, may, by notice in writing, require the undertakers to sell, and thereupon the undertakers shall sell to them the undertaking, or such part of it as is within such area, or part thereof, as aforesaid, upon terms of paying the then value of all land, buildings, works, materials and plant, of the undertakers, suitable to, and used by, them for the purposes of the undertaking, within such area, or part thereof; such value being agreed or estimated by arbitration, on the basis of the value of the undertaking as a going concern.

(c) Where no purchase is effected by the Local Government or the local authority under the provisions of the last sub-section, and any other local authority, Company, or person, is willing to purchase the undertaking, or such part of it, as aforesaid, the Local Government, if they think fit, may, with the consent of the undertakers, or without the consent of the undertakers, in case the price is not less than that for which the Local Government, or the local authority, might have purchased the same under this section, direct that the undertaking, or such part thereof, as aforesaid, shall be so transferred.

(d) Where any purchase is effected, or any transfer is directed under the preceding provisions of this section, the undertaking, or part thereof, so purchased or transferred, shall vest in the purchasers or transferees thereof, freed from any debts, mortgages, or similar obligations of the undertakers, or attaching to the undertaking; and the revocation of this license, as to the whole of the area of supply or such part thereof, as aforesaid, shall extend only to the revocation of the rights, powers, authorities, duties and obligations of the undertakers from whom the undertaking, or such part thereof, as aforesaid, is purchased or transferred, in relation to the supply of energy within such area, or part thereof, and, save as aforesaid, this license shall remain in full force within such area, or part thereof, in favour of the Local Government, or local authority, Company, or person, by, or to, whom such undertaking, or part thereof, is purchased or transferred, as aforesaid.

(e) Where no purchase has been effected, and no transfer has been directed under the preceding provisions of this section, the Local Government, the local authority, or any body or person, who may be liable to repair any street, or part of a street, in which any works of the undertakers may have been placed, may forthwith remove such works with all reasonable care, and the undertakers shall pay, to the Local Government, the local authority, or other such body or person, as aforesaid, such reasonable costs of such removal, and of the reinstatement of such street, or part of a street, as may be specified in a notice to be served on the undertakers by the Local Government, the local authority, or other body or person, or (if so required by the undertakers, within one week after the service of such notice upon them) as may be settled by arbitration.

If the undertakers fail to pay such reasonable costs, as aforesaid, within one month after the service upon them of such notice, or the delivery of the award of the arbitrator (as the case may be), the Local Government, the local authority, or other such body or person, as aforesaid, may, without any previous notice to the undertakers (but without prejudice to any other remedy which they may have for the recovery of the amount) sell and dispose of any such works, as aforesaid, either by public auction, or private sale, and for such sum or sums, and to such person or persons, as they may think fit, and may, out of the proceeds of such sale, pay and reimburse themselves the amount of the costs so specified or settled, as aforesaid, and of the costs of sale, and the balance (if any) of the proceeds of the sale shall be paid over by them to the undertakers.

(f) In case the Local Government, the local authority, or any body or person, may be entitled to compensation for any damage sustained by them by reason, or in consequence of the execution of any works within such area, or part thereof, as aforesaid, or the exercise of any powers, by this license granted to the undertakers, or for any expenses to which such local authority, body, or person, may have been put in removing any works of the undertakers within such area, or part thereof, under the provisions of this license, such compensation shall be a first charge on any money that may have been deposited or secured, by the undertakers, under the provisions of this license, in respect of such area, or part thereof, and which may not have been repaid or released to the undertakers, and such money shall be applied rateably in satisfying such claims, and in every such case the amount of compensation to be paid, in respect of the various claims, and the persons to whom it is to be paid, shall be determined by arbitration.

General.

66 Where any consumer is required, under this order, to give security to the undertakers, such security may be by way of deposit, or otherwise, and of such amount as he and the undertakers agree on, or as in default of agreement, may be determined, on the application of either party, by a court of competent jurisdiction, which may also order by which of the parties the costs of the proceedings shall be paid, and the decision of the said court shall be final and binding on all parties: Provided, that, where any such security is given by way of deposit, the undertakers shall pay interest at the rate of five rupees per centum per annum on every sum of ten rupees so deposited for every six months during which the sum remains in their hands.

Proceedings where approval of Local Government is required.

67. Where the approval or consent of the Local Government is given in any case, or where the Local Government makes any order, or gives any notice, under the provisions of this license, or revokes this license, such approval or consent shall be signified, or such order shall be made, or notice given, or revocation made, by writing, under the hand of one of the Secretaries or Under-Secretaries of the Local Government.

Costs of applications for approval or consent of Local Government.

68. All costs and expenses of, or incident to, application for any approval, consent or order of the Local Government, including the cost of the tests (if any) which may be required to be made by the Local Government for the purpose of determining whether the same should be given or made, shall be borne and paid by the applicant or applicants therefor: Provided, always, that where any approval is given by the Local Government to any plan, pattern, or specification, they may require such copies of the same, as they may think fit, to be prepared, and deposited at their office, at the expense of the said applicant or applicants, and may, from time to time, as they think fit, revoke any approval so given, or permit such approval to be continued, subject to such modifications as they may think necessary.

Notice of approval of Local Government, &c., to be given by advertisement.

69. Where the Local Government, upon the application of the undertakers, give any approval, or grant any extension of any time, limited for the performance of any duties by the undertakers, or where the Local Government, at their own discretion, or upon the application of the local authority, revoke this license, as to the whole, or any part of the area of supply, notice that such approval has been given, or such extension of time granted, or such revocation made, shall be published, by public advertisement, once, at least, in each of two successive weeks, in some one and the same local newspaper, by the body by whom such application is made, as aforesaid.

Notice of application for extension of time, &c., to be given to local authority.

70. Where any application is made to the Local Government to extend any time, limited for the performance of any duties by the undertakers, notice of such application shall be served on the local authority of the area (if any) by the undertakers, and an opportunity shall be given to such local authority to make representations or objections with reference thereto.

Recovery of penalties

71. All penalties under this license, the recovery of which is not otherwise specially provided for, may be recovered through a court of competent jurisdiction.

72. The undertakers shall be answerable for all accidents, damages and injuries, happening through the act or default of the undertakers, or of any persons in their employment, by reason of, or in consequence of, any of the undertakers' works, and shall save harmless all authorities, bodies and persons, by whom any street is repairable, and all other authorities, companies and bodies, collectively and individually, and their officers and servants, from all damages and costs, in respect of such accidents, damages and injuries.

73. The undertakers shall not be at liberty to sell the undertaking, or any part, or parts thereof, without the sanction of the Local Government, who shall be entitled to call for, and shall be furnished with all information they may desire to have relating to, or connected with, any proposed sale, or the negotiations therefor: Provided that nothing in this clause shall affect the provisions of clause 65 or 74.

As to mortgages.

74. Nothing in this license shall prevent the undertakers borrowing money on the security of mortgages of the undertaking, or shall make the consent or approval of the Local Government or local authority necessary to the validity or effect or any such mortgage: Provided that every mortgage of the undertaking shall be deemed to comprise all purchase-money, which may be paid to the undertakers in the event of any sale or transfer of the undertaking, or of any part thereof, under this license, and that any mortgage granted by the undertaker shall not be a charge upon the undertaking, or any part thereof, in the event of the undertaking or such part, being purchased, or transferred as aforesaid, and that every mortgage-deed granted by the undertakers shall be endorsed with notice to that effect.

Saving clause as to River Hooghly.

75. Nothing in this license shall authorise the undertakers to lay or place any electric line or works in the River Hooghly, or affect in any manner the powers or privileges of the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta.

Undertakers not exempted from proceedings for nuisance.

76. Nothing in this license shall exonerate the undertakers from any indictment, action or other proceedings, for nuisance, in the event of any nuisance being caused by them.

Provision as to general Acts.

77. Nothing in this license shall exempt the undertakers or their undertaking, from the provisions of, or deprive the undertakers of, the benefits of any general Act relating to electricity, which may be passed by the Bengal or Imperial Legislative Council

78. All questions which, under the terms of this license, are to be submitted to arbitration at any time during the subsistence of the license, shall be decided by any one person who may be agreed upon by the parties in difference, but if they cannot so agree, then by a committee of three persons, one to be nominated by the undertakers, a second by the other party to the difference, and the third being an independent person selected by the two nominees. The decision of the majority shall prevail, and be final, when all three members are appointed. If either party shall neglect or fail to appoint its member of the committee within 30 days after the happening of the difference, or if the two members appointed by the parties hereto, shall neglect, or fail, within the next succeeding 15 days after the expiration of the aforesaid 30 days, to appoint the third member, then all questions which would have been raised, or have come before the said committee for decision, shall be decided by such person as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may nominate, and the decision of such person shall, in that case, be final, and binding, absolutely, on both parties.

FOURTH SCHEDULE.

The term "unit," as used in this schedule, shall be deemed to mean the energy contained in a current of one thousand ampères flowing under an electro-motive force of one volt during one hour.

Section 1.

Where the undertakers charge any consumer by the actual quantity of energy supplied to him, they shall be entitled to charge him at the following rates per quarter:—For any quantity up to twenty units, rupees twenty only, and for each unit over twenty units, annas twelve only.

Section 2.

Where the undertakers charge any consumer by the electrical quantity contained in the supply given to him, they shall be entitled to charge him according to the rates set forth in section 1 of this schedule, the quantity of energy supplied to him being taken to be the product of such electrical quantity and the standard pressure at the point of junction of the, distributing mains and the service lines by which he is supplied:

Provided that, where the undertakers' system involves a transformation of the energy supplied on the consumers' premises, the quantity of energy supplied to him may be taken to be the product of such electrical quantity and the standard pressure on the undertakers' mains, divided by the number expressing the ratio of the transformation employed.

Section 3.

Where the undertakers charge any consumer by the number of hours during which he actually uses his supply, they shall be entitled to charge him at the rates specified in section 2 of this schedule, the quantity of energy supplied to him being calculated on the supposition that the consumer uses the maximum power specified by him under the provisions of this license during all the hours that he has used the supply.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

HIGH COURT, ORIGINAL SIDE.

NOTIFICATION.

Dated 7th September 1900.

THE Honourable the Chief Justice of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal has appointed W. J. Vandenbergh, Esq., of 31 and 32 The Exchange (first floor), Pirie Street, Adelaide, Barrister-at-Law, Solicitor, Attorney and Notary Public, a Commissioner within all parts of South Australia to take affidavits or affirmations or declarations in all suits, matters and proceedings in the Calcutta High Court and also the acknowledgments of married women in respect of property in India.

By order,
W. R. FINK, Registrar.

HIGH COURT, ORIGINAL SIDE.

THE rules published at page 979, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of 5th September 1900 and republished below, are applicable to the Original Side of the High Court.

Rules under the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899, applicable to the High Court, Original Side.

IT is ordered that the following rules be read and passed as rules of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal to take effect from the 10th day of August 1900 :—

I.—Every application—

(1) for revocation of a submission to arbitration under section 5 of this Act,

(2) for the appointment of an arbitrator or umpire under sub-section 2 of section 8 of this Act,

(3) to set aside, under the proviso to section 9, any appointment made in pursuance of clause (b) of the said section 9,

(4) for enlargement of time, under section 12 or under clause 2 of section 13, to make an award,

(5) for the removal, under section 16, of an arbitrator or umpire on the ground of misconduct,

(6) for stay, under section 19, of proceedings in any suit instituted by any party to a submission to which this Act applies or any person claiming under him against any other party to the submission in respect of any matter agreed to be referred to arbitration, shall be made to a Judge in Court on motion, and four days' notice thereof shall be given to the opposite party. The application shall be supported by evidence on affidavit, and copies of all affidavits and grounds to be used by the party moving shall be served with the notice of motion. The notice of motion with affidavit of service and original grounds shall be filed in Court before the day for which notice of motion has been given; and all affidavits and grounds on which the application is to be opposed or cause to be shown must be filed on or before the sitting of the Court on the day of showing cause.

Special case.

II.—The arbitrators or umpire under the powers contained in section 10, clause (b), may, before the conclusion of any reference before them or him or by their or his award, state a special case for the opinion of the Court. Every case stated under this section shall be divided into consecutively numbered paragraphs and shall concisely state such facts and documents as may be necessary to enable the Court to deliver its opinion thereon.

III.—The special case shall be presented to a Judge in Chambers by or on behalf of one or more of the parties claiming to be interested, and if framed in accordance with this rule, shall be filed. When so filed, it shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the party or parties by or on whose behalf it shall be presented as plaintiff or plaintiffs and the other or others of them as defendant or defendants, and notice shall be given to all the parties to the reference other than the party or parties by whom the special case was presented.

IV.—The case shall be set down for hearing, and the Court shall, after hearing the parties on the matters contained in the special case, pronounce judgment thereon.

V.—If the special case be stated before the conclusion of the reference, the opinion of the Court shall be returned to the arbitrators or umpire, as the case may be, and shall be added to and shall form part of the award.

VI.—If the special case be stated on the conclusion of the reference and if the award of the arbitrators or umpire under the reference made to them or him be made or stated in the form of a special case, judgment shall be pronounced and entered according to the opinion of the Court, and upon the judgment so given a decree shall follow and shall be enforced in the manner provided in the Code of Civil Procedure for the execution of decrees.

Filing of award.

VII.—When any matter has been submitted to arbitration under the provisions of this Act and an award has been made thereon and the arbitrators or umpire having been requested by any party to the submission or any person claiming under him to file the award or a signed copy thereof, shall desire to file such award or signed copy in Court, he or they shall forward such award or signed copy thereof, together with the minutes of proceedings had before them or him and the evidence, oral and documentary, recorded by them or him under a sealed cover addressed to the Registrar of this Court on its Original Side with a letter requesting that the award be filed and notice thereof shall be given to the parties by the arbitrators or umpire.

VIII.—The Registrar shall enter the award with the date of receipt thereof in a register to be kept for the purpose, but shall not file the same without an order of Court, to be obtained on the application of one or other of the parties interested therein.

IX.—Any person interested in the award may apply on petition to the Court that the award be filed. The petition shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants, and the Court shall direct notice to be given to the parties to the arbitration other than the applicant, requiring them to show cause within a time to be specified why the award should not be filed.

X.—If no ground be shown against the award, the Court shall order it to be filed, and such award shall then take effect as an award made under the provisions of this Act.

No. 1808E.B.—The following Proclamation is republished for general information and guidance:—

"THE LONDON GAZETTE."
Tuesday, August 7th, 1900.
By the Queen.
A PROCLAMATION.

Victoria R.

Whereas by "The Exportation of Arms Act, 1900," section 1, it is enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty by Proclamation to prohibit the exportation of all or any of the following articles, namely, arms, ammunition, military and naval stores, and any article which Her Majesty shall judge capable of being converted into or made useful in increasing the quantity of arms, ammunition, or military or naval stores, to any country or place therein named, whenever Her Majesty shall judge such prohibition to be expedient, in order to prevent such arms, ammunition, military or naval stores being used against Her Majesty's subjects or forces, or against any forces engaged or which may be engaged in military or naval operations in co-operation with Her Majesty's forces:

And whereas We, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, judge it expedient to prohibit the exportation to China of arms and ammunition in order to prevent their being used as in the said Act stated:

Now, We, by and with the advice aforesaid, do hereby prohibit the exportation to China of arms and ammunition from and after the date hereof.

Given at Our Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, this seventh day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred, and in the sixty-fourth year of our reign.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Faridpur, will be put up to sale at the Faridpur Collectorate on the 24th September 1900, corresponding with 8th Aswin 1307

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Dacca will be put up to sale at the Dacca Collectorate on Thursday, the 20th September 1900, corresponding with Bengali 4th day of Aswin 1307.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale —

Conditions of Sale

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase money do not exceed Rs 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Collector's Office, Dacca, the 8th August 1900. J. T. RANKIN, Collector.

Notice under Rule 19, Part III, of the Revised Rules for the grant of leases of waste lands in Saugor Island.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lease of the land specified in the Schedule hereunto annexed, and of which the plan is open to inspection at the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, has been applied for by Upendra Nath Ghashmal, and will be sold at 12 o'clock noon on the 7th December 1900, Friday, the 22nd Agrahayan 1307 B.S., at the Sundarbans Commissioner's office at Alipore, unless meantime the sale is stopped or postponed in consequence of claims or objections under Act XXIII of 1863 (to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands), or owing to any other cause.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general terms annexed to the revised rules for the sale of leases of waste lands in Saugor Island, under Bengal Government Notification No. 1377L.R., dated 29th March 1897:—

Conditions.

That the land shall be subject to all existing rights of way and water and other easements.

That the right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable, and of fishing in the same, shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of land for towpaths, not less than 25 feet in width, on each side of every such stream and channel.

That no charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land; but for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied at such rate and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by Government.

That the Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals in, under, or on the land, together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting and carrying away such minerals. It also retains its proprietary right in the land, and only confers on the lessee an occupancy right, which shall be hereditary and transferable.

AUSTRALIA—North-west and north coasts.

Shoals—Examination of and search for—.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 494 of 1900) that information, dated 30th May 1900, has been received from Commander J. W. Combe, H.M. Surveying Vessel Penguin, respecting the examination of the undermentioned shoals, and the unsuccessful search for others off the north-west and north coasts of Australia:—

1. Monkey shoal is of coral formation, very flat, extending 3¾ miles E.N.E. and W.S.W. by 1¾ miles wide, with a general depth of 5 to 6 fathoms over it. There are several patches of 18 feet on its eastern edge, the easternmost being in approximately lat. 10° 21′ 25″ S., long. 132° 45′ 50″ E.

   During fresh easterly winds the shoal was seen to break.

2. Marie shoal, composed of sand and coral, is 2 miles long N.N.W. and S.S.E., and 1 mile broad, with a general depth of from 5 to 7 fathoms over it. The least depth is 30 feet, situated about the middle of its western edge, in approximately lat. 10° 55′ 20″ S., long. 130° 06′ 15″ E.

This shoal is surrounded by depths of 25 and 35 fathoms.

3. BROWSE ISLET. The position of this islet (centre) is approximately in lat. 14° 07′ 0″ S., long. 123° 33′ 25″ E.

4. VULCAN SHOAL is of live coral formation, 3 miles long W. by N. and E. by S., and 1 mile wide, with general depths of from 8 to 12 fathoms over it, the least depth being 5 fathoms situated near the western end in approximately lat. 12° 49′ 5″ S., long. 124° 16′ 15″ E.
This shoal is surrounded by depths of 50 and 90 fathoms.

5. HEYWOOD SHOAL is also of live coral, 3¾ miles long N.W. and S.E., and 2 miles broad, with general depths over it of from 9 to 15 fathoms. The least depths of 6 fathoms is situated near its south-east end in approximately lat. 13° 28′ 55″ S., long. 124° 03′ 25″ E.
Deep water of from 30 to 50 fathoms surrounds the bank.

The above two shoals (4 and 5) were discovered in 1801 by Captain P. Heywood, H.M. Bomb Vulcan, and do not appear to have been seen since that date.

The undermentioned shoals have been searched for without success:—

(a) INDUS SHOAL in approximately lat. 10° 17′ S., long. 131° 06′ E. An area of 120 square miles in this vicinity was sounded over in fine weather, the general depths obtained being from 45 to 52 fathoms mud bottom, without any indication of shoal water. The original report of this shoal being somewhat vague, it is considered that it does not exist, and it has in consequence been erased from the Charts.

(b) LYNHER REEF in approximately lat. 15° 26′ S., long. 121° 55′ E. This position was sounded over, a depth of 21 fathoms being obtained near the spot; P.D. has therefore been placed against this reef on the Chart, pending further investigations.

(d) The shallow line of soundings reported by "LE SCORFF" in approximately lat. 10° 37′ S., long. 139° 27′ E.

(e) The shallow line of soundings reported by "DURANCE" in approximately lat. 10° 53′ S., long. 138° 45′ E. (Notice No. 494 of 1900.)

(Variation 2° Easterly in 1900.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Australia, northern portion, No. 2759a. North-west coast of Australia, No. 475; Cape Ford to Buccaneer Archipelago, No. 1047; Gulf of Carpentaria, Nos. 1043, 1044; Western approaches to Torres strait, No. 447: Also, Australia Directory, vol. Exhibition of light on East island, near East Cape.

WITH reference to Notices to Mariners No. 239, dated 12th November 1898, and No. 13, dated 20th January 1900, the Government of New Zealand has given further notice (No. 36 of 1900) that on and after Thursday, the 9th August 1900, a light will be exhibited from sunset to sunrise from the lighthouse which has been erected on East Island, near East Cape, on the east coast of the North Island of New Zealand. The position and characteristics are as follows:—

The site of the light is in latitude 37° 4′ south, and longitude 178° 36′ east, as measured from the Admiralty chart.

The tower is constructed of cast iron. The total height from the bottom of the base to the top of the lantern is 69 ft, and it is painted white.

The light will be 362 ft. above the level of the sea at high water. It is a dioptric revolving white light of the second order, showing a white flash at intervals of ten seconds. It will be visible seaward over an arc of 280 degrees of the horizon, or as far round as the land will allow, and in ordinary clear weather it will be seen twenty-two nautical miles from the deck of a vessel 15 ft. above sea-level.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ORISSA PORTS FOR 1899-1900.

No. 1770Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 10th September 1900.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 877C., dated 10th July 1900, from the Commissioner, Orissa Division, submitting the Annual Report on the Administration of the Orissa Ports for 1899-1900.

PARTICULARS.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Port dues on vessels ...	3,841	874	...	2,941
Ditto on mail steamers ...	14,964	9,132	...	5,832
Miscellaneous ...	100	108	...	18
Government contributions ...	2,500	...	...	2,500
Total receipts ...	21,405	10,114	...	11,291

2. There has been a heavy fall in the receipts, and the decrease has affected each of three ports, as shown below :—

	Rs.
False Point	5,840
Balasore	4,174
Puri	1,277

The main cause of this heavy decrease is the opening of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, which has given so many facilities to the trade by land that the sea-trade fell off, and consequently the number of steamers and country vessels plying between Calcutta, Balasore and Puri, diminished considerably. It is also, perhaps, due to the famine which has tended to draw the rice traffic towards the western side of India.

In consequence of this heavy fall in revenue, which entails a corresponding contribution from Provincial revenues, the Commissioner of the Division was called upon to submit suggestions as to the manner in which reduction of expenditure might be effected.

From the figures of revenue shown above, it appears, however, that the largest decrease has been in the port of False Point, and the only reason given is that the exportation of rice was on a smaller scale than in the previous year, owing to the famine in the Central Provinces and other parts of India, which took away a large quantity of rice to these places by railway. This is no doubt correct, but it is probable that the railway will continue to carry a large portion of the trade of the district, and under these circumstances, it is unlikely that the sea-trade of False Point will ever fully recover itself, and if expenditure is maintained at the same rate, the Local Government will be required to make annual contributions for the up-keep of the port. It has been decided that the port of Puri shall pay a contribution of Rs. 600 a year towards the salary of the Port Officer, but this will not help much towards reducing the deficit.

3. The expenditure of the ports during the year, as compared with the previous year, is shown below :—

Particulars.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Establishment	8,148	8,404	256	...
Lighthouse establishment ...	4,114	3,796	...	318
Vessels and boats ,, ...	1,763	1,892	129	...
Dockyard services and supplies ...	5,292	6,522	1,230	...
Miscellaneous	3,555	2,638	...	917
Total charges ...	24,872	23,252	1,615	1,235

The expenditure, on the whole, shows a small increase of Rs. 380, but on looking at the details it is observed that there was a large increase under "Dockyard services and supplies." In the port of False Point the expenditure under this head shows a reduction of Rs. 756, while Balasore shows an increase of Rs. 1,986, and the only explanation afforded is that this large increase is due to the large amount of dockyard stores indented for by the Port Officer of Chandballi. The explanation is insufficient. The Lieutenant-Governor does not understand why the Port Officer was permitted to indent so largely for stores, especially when, in the report for the previous year, it was stated that he had been directed to prepare indents on a reduced scale, and the Commissioner will report further on the matter. The circumstances of the ports are permanently affected by the competition of the railway, and rigid economy in the management is necessary. The Lieutenant-Governor was much impressed with the air of decay in Balasore, tidy and trim but deserted.

4. The following table shows the number and tonnage of vessels that entered and cleared during the year, as compared with those of the preceding year :—

Port.	Year.	Entered.		Cleared.
		Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage.
1	2	3	4	5	6
False Point ...	1898-99 ...	44	82,186	44	82,186
	1899-1900 ...	28	45,613	28	45,613
Balasore ...	1898-99 ...	364	91,697	356	89,803
	1899-1900 ...	272	66,560	254	62,153
Puri ...	1898-99 ...	26	36,531	26	36,531
	1899-1900 ...	11	15,909	11	15,909

This large reduction in the number of vessels visiting the port is, as stated before, chiefly due to the opening of the railway.

Three hundred and eleven vessels in all entered the ports during the year, of which 279 were steamers, and all of them were engaged in the coasting trade. Of the 32 sailing vessels, 2 were engaged in the foreign trade and 30 in the coasting trade.

5. The following figures show the value of the trade of the ports during the years 1898-99 and 1899-1900:—

	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899-1900.
	1	2	3	4	5	6
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Exports ...	76,17,717	36,90,616	22,471	19,90,787	76,40,188	56,81,403
Imports ...	96,84,559	63,01,867	4,12,935	89,168	1,00,97,494	63,94,035
Total ...	1,75,02,276	99,92,483	4,35,406	20,79,955	1,77,37,682	1,20,75,438

The total value of the trade shows a heavy decrease of Rs. 56,62,244 on the previous year, and this is mainly due, as already explained, to the competition by the railway.

6. The figures below give the number of passengers carried during the last two years between Calcutta and Chandbalii:—

Year.	Arrivals.	Departures.	Total.
1898-99 ...	86,806	98,830	185,636
1899-1900 ...	50,155	56,219	106,374

This shows a total decrease of 79,262 passengers, due to the opening of the railway.

7. The erosion at Shortt's Island still continues, and the question will shortly have to be considered whether the lighthouse should be removed or abandoned altogether. In his last inspection report the Port Officer, Calcutta, states:—

"The erosion to the east-south-east of the lighthouse continues and is a matter of grave importance; for should the island cut away, as it did last year, the lighthouse will have to be moved. In November 1896, the high-water line in an east-south-easterly direction from the edge of the bund was 1,250 feet off, in November 1897 it was 1,100 feet, on the 23rd April 1899 it was 885 feet, and on the 10th January 1900 the high-water line was found to be only 451 feet from the bund. The last two measurements give a total erosion for the past eight months of 434 feet."

In order to ascertain whether any protective measures would be effective to stop these rapid erosions, an estimate amounting to Rs. 6,703 was sanctioned for making a stone revetment as an experimental measure and was completed shortly after the close of the year, but it has since been reported that the work has nearly all been washed away, and that a deep channel has been formed behind the place where the revetment was. It is doubtful, therefore, whether similar revetments will be of any value.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. B. BUCKLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore; and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about ⊖0·6 higher; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF AUGUST 1900.

General weather conditions from day to day.—On the 1st of August the cyclonic storm, which had formed at the head of the Bay, passed inland in the neighbourhood of Balasore. The distribution of pressure was naturally irregular, but the mean pressure was below the normal, except in the north-east of the province. The depression passed quickly to the north-west, but was accompanied by comparatively little rain in the districts through which it passed, while the parts of the province which were distant from its path were for the time being rainless. The influence of the storm had ceased by the 3rd of the month, and ordinary monsoon conditions then prevailed. Pressure on that date was everywhere below the normal, and though a general rise took place, continued to be so till the 6th, when the whole province came once more under the influence of high pressure. With the re-establishment of ordinary monsoon conditions rainfall became fairly general, though for the most part light. Temperature had in the meantime varied irregularly, and on the morning of the 6th the deviation from the normal was nowhere great, though there was a slight excess in the northern parts of the province. After the 6th pressure began to give way, and weather conditions becoming unsettled again at the head of the Bay, finally led to the formation of a small cyclonic storm off the Orissa coast. The storm developed but slowly and did not reach its greatest intensity before the morning of the 11th, when its centre was in the immediate vicinity of False Point. It crossed the coast on the same day and passed rapidly inland in the direction of the Central Provinces. Pressure distribution owing to the storm became again very irregular, and pressure fell of course largely below the normal in the immediate vicinity of the depression. Even in those parts of the province more remote from its influence it continued comparatively low, and on the morning of the 12th was below the normal everywhere, except in the extreme north-east of the province. During this period the rainfall, except in Orissa, was exceedingly light. The effect of the storm was to divert the monsoon current to the extreme south-west of the province; and as the depression passed through Orissa, the greater part of Bengal escaped its influence altogether. Owing to the lightness of the rainfall, temperature also rose considerably, and on the 10th was in excess over the whole province. A slight reaction then took place; but though the temperature reverted generally to the normal by the 12th, it still continued in moderate excess in North Bengal and Assam. On the 13th ordinary monsoon conditions had again re-established themselves, and pressure was only in slight defect—a defect which by the next day had for the most part disappeared. Though the gradient was, however, normal over the Bay itself, over the province the pressure was very uniform, and rainfall continued to be light. On the 15th weather again became unsettled at the head of the Bay, and a cyclonic storm gradually formed which reached its greatest intensity on the morning of the 18th, when at 8 A.M. its centre was slightly to the south-west of Saugor Island and moving in the direction of Balasore. The storm proved to be one of exceptional severity for the period of the year, the lowest recorded pressure being at Balasore, near which station the centre passed at about 5 P.M. on the 18th, the barometer then reading 28·874. From the records obtained from the various light-ships, it would appear, moreover, that a calm area existed in the central region of the storm, a characteristic usually absent from the cyclonic storms which form during the rainy season. The storm was not beneficial as far as the rainfall of the province was concerned; for, with the exception of Orissa, where heavy rain fell for many days in succession, and Chota Nagpur and South-West Bengal, which received moderate rain during the passage of the depression inland, the remainder of the province both during the development of the storm and while it was moving across the land area was almost entirely rainless. The effect also on the temperature was very marked. From the 13th a general rise began, which was arrested and converted into a fall first in Orissa on the 15th and in South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur on the 16th, but which in the rest of the province continued unchecked till the 19th. On this date temperature was in general excess, except in South-West Bengal, Orissa and the eastern half of Chota Nagpur. Pressure fell throughout during the development of the depression, and on the 18th was everywhere in large defect. On the 19th, as the storm passed eastward, a sharp recovery took place in the eastern districts, which was followed on the 20th by an equally sharp recovery in the west of the province. The result of these changes was that pressure which on the morning of the 14th had been nearly normal was on the 20th almost everywhere in slight to moderate defect, the defect being greatest in Bihar. From this date till the 23rd pressure, though varying irregularly, generally showed an upward tendency, and on the latter date was in slight excess over the province, with the exception of the eastern districts, where there was a slight defect. Though ordinary monsoon conditions again prevailed, there had been a sharp re-action from the effects of the storm, and the gradient in the Bay was not so steep as in the early part of the month. Rainfall was very light and scattered over the province, and in consequence temperature rose generally and continued high until the 23rd, when a fall took place. Except in Bihar, however, the temperature was everywhere on this date in slight to moderate excess. Signs of an approaching disturbance again began to appear about this time, a diffused area of comparatively low pressure overlying the province. For several days these conditions remained unchanged, but the area of lowest pressure gradually shifted to the south; and though the depression was very diffused and shallow and there was at no time any well-marked centre, one or two small foci of disturbance seem to have been created within the large area covered by it. The most important of these formed in the neighbourhood of Saugor Island on the 26th, and, passing inland about noon of that day, proceeded through Chota Nagpur on the 27th into the North-West Provinces. Though extremely shallow, the depth not exceeding ·15 inch, it was accompanied by very good rain in the regions through which it passed. Pressure fell during the development of this storm, and though a sharp recovery took place as it passed westwards, there was general defect on the morning of the 28th—slight in the eastern districts and increasing towards the north-west, where it amounted to one-tenth of an inch. Rainfall was chiefly confined to South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur, but showers were also received in other parts of the country. Till the depression passed inland, temperature for the most part rose and continued high, but on the 27th there was a general fall, which resulted in reducing the readings either to normal or below the normal in all parts of the province, except North Bengal, where temperature still remained in excess. During the last days of the month the weather was of ordinary monsoon character. Pressure recovered still further, and on the 31st was nearly normal throughout. Rainfall was confined practically to the east and north of the province. Temperature in sympathy with the rainfall rose in the south-west of the province, and changed but slightly elsewhere. On the 31st, however, a fall took place in the south-western districts, with the result that at the end of the month readings were nearly normal throughout the province.

General features of the weather.—An unusual number of storms formed during the month at the head of the Bay. None of them, however, exercised a beneficial influence on the rainfall. Three of the storms crossed the Orissa coast in the neighbourhood of Balasore, while the fourth passed inland somewhat further to the south near False Point. In no case were they accompanied by very heavy rain during their passage inland, while during their development, which was in almost every case slow, the rainfall was naturally diverted from the greater part of the province. Orissa, which was not only near the seat of formation, but also in the direct track of each of the storms, received rain in large excess, while Chota Nagpur and South-West Bengal, though affected directly, did not quite receive their normal amount. In the rest of the province the rainfall fell far short of the ordinary: hence though during almost the whole month the gradient in the Bay was steeper than in July, the rainfall in the latter was much more near the normal than in the former month.

Pressure summary.—It will be noticed from the above report that during the greater part of the month the pressure was below the normal. A sharp recovery, it is true, took place after each storm, but it was in each case shortly followed by a fresh decline preluding the advance of a new disturbance. The average pressure for the month is in consequence below the normal over the whole province, the defect being very slight in North Bengal, but increasing towards the south and reaching a maximum of 0·65 inch at Saugor Island.

Temperature summary.—Owing to the uneven distribution of the rainfall, mean temperature has been nearly normal in Orissa, and very slightly above the normal in Chota Nagpur and South-West Bengal. Elsewhere there has been general excess, especially in North-East Bengal, where it amounts to 3° at Jalpaiguri. Both day and night temperatures contribute to this excess, but the day temperatures have been more affected than the night by the abnormal conditions.

Rainfall.—As already pointed out, the rainfall has not been evenly distributed as was the case last month, but has been largely localised by the influence of the cyclonic storms which formed at the head of the Bay. South-West Bengal received 91 per cent. of the normal, there having been considerable defect in the northern portions of the division, while in the southern there was excess. North and East Bengal and Bihar all fell largely short of the normal, the rainfall in the first-named division being only 47 per cent. of the normal. All the districts shared in the deficiency. In Chota Nagpur, taken as a whole, the rainfall was nearly normal, but this was due to an excess fall of over 30 per cent. in Singhbhum, the other districts all reporting a slight deficiency. In Orissa alone was there superabundant rainfall, amounting to 74 per cent. above the normal.

The comparison of the actual rainfall in the various large divisions of the province with the normal is most accurately and conveniently shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month, calculated in this way, are included in the table below under the heading of August. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first eight columns giving the actual average rainfalls in each division in each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the ninth column gives the total rainfall for the first eight months expressed as a percentage of the normal rainfall for that period :—

The following table gives full data for comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of August in all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance or weight being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 25 years: the second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district: the tthird column expresses the ratio of the actual distric rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage: the fourth column states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied from the normal:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed at the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; o, over cast.

NOTIFICATION—No. 1622T.R.

The 10th September 1900.—Whereas a settlement of land revenue is about to be made in respect of Government Estate Paikhatty, in pargana Paikhatty, in the Sadar subdivision, bearing No. 875 in the tauzi roll of the 24-Parganas Collectorate :

Under the powers conferred upon him by section 101 (2) (d) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as amended by the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1898, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased to direct that a survey shall be made and a record of rights prepared in respect of all lands included within the boundaries of the said estate.

The particulars to be recorded shall be the following :—

(a) The name of each tenant or occupant.

(b) The class to which each tenant belongs, that is to say, whether he is a tenure-holder, raiyat holding at fixed rates, settled raiyat, occupancy raiyat, non-occupancy raiyat or under-raiyat, and if he is a tenure-holder, whether he is a permanent tenure-holder or not, and whether his rent is liable to enhancement during the continuance of his tenure.

(c) The situation and quantity and one or more of the boundaries of the land held by each tenant or occupier.

(d) The name of each tenant's landlord.

(e) The rent payable at the time the record of rights is being prepared.

(f) The mode in which that rent has been fixed, whether by contract, by order of a Court, or otherwise.

(g) If the rent is a gradually increasing rent, the time at which, and the steps by which, it increases.

(h) The special conditions and incidents, if any, of the tenancy.

(i) If the land is claimed to be held rent-free, whether or not rent is actually paid, and if not paid, whether or not the occupant is entitled to hold the land without payment of rent, and, if so entitled, under what authority.

NOTIFICATION—No. 3224L.R.

The 15th September 1900.—With reference to Notification No. 1231T.R., dated the 3rd July 1900, published at page 740, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 11th idem, it is hereby notified for general information that the estimate of the probable expenses to be incurred in respect of the repairs, maintenance and works connected therewith of the Gandak Takavi Embankment, in the district of Saran, for a period of another 20 years, commencing from the 1st April 1900, on the termination of the 20-years' contract which expired on the 31st March 1900, amounts, at the rate of Rs. 200 per mile, or Rs. 23,900 per annum, for the 119½ miles of the embankment, to Rs. 4,78,000, and that the Lieutenant-Governor proposes, under section 63 of Act II (B.C.) of 1882, to issue an order fixing the aforesaid total sum of Rs. 4,78,000 as payable during the said 20 years by the zamindars of the estates benefited by such repairs, maintenance and works, should no valid objection thereto be preferred.

Any person interested who desires to object to the abovementioned order is required to prefer, within three months of the date of its first publication in the Calcutta Gazette, such objection as he may think proper to the Collector of Saran for consideration by the Lieutenant-Governor.

F. A. SLACKR,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION—No. 3225L.R.

The 18th September 1900.—Whereas the preparation of a survey and record-of-rights by a Revenue Officer is calculated to settle or avert serious disputes, existing and likely to arise, between the tenants and their landlords generally in the villages in the district of Gaya named in the subjoined list, marked Appendix A.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 101 (2) (b) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as amended by the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1898, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased to direct that a survey shall be made and a record of rights prepared in respect of all lands included within the boundaries of the said villages. The particulars to be recorded in the said survey and record-of-rights shall be the following, namely:—

(a) The name of each tenant or occupant.

(b) The class to which each tenant belongs, that is to say, whether he is a tenure-holder, raiyat holding at fixed rates, settled raiyat, occupancy raiyat, non-occupancy raiyat or under-raiyat; and if he is a tenure-holder, whether he is a permanent tenure-holder or not, and whether his rent is liable to enhancement during the continuance of his tenure.

(c) The situation and quantity, and one or more of the boundaries of the land held by each tenant or occupier.

(d) The name of each tenant's landlord.

(e) The rent payable at the time the record-of-rights is being prepared.

(f) The mode in which that rent has been fixed, whether by contract, by order of a Court or otherwise.

(g) The special conditions and incidents, if any, of the tenancy.

(h) The existence of any common or pasture lands, and the rights of the tenants in respect to them.

(i) The name of each proprietor, with the character and extent of his interest, and the situation, quantity, and one or more of the boundaries of each proprietor's private lands as defined in Chapter XI of the Act.

(j) If the land is claimed to be held rent-free, whether or not rent is actually paid, and if not paid, whether or not the occupant is entitled to hold the land without payment of rent, and if so entitled, under what authority.

(k) The customs of the village regulating the methods of ascertaining produce-rents, the tenure of homestead lands, the improvement, sub-letting, alienation and abandonment of holdings, the kists for the payment of rents, the methods of irrigation, and the duties and rights of both landlords and tenants with respect to the use and maintenance of the means of irrigation.

is required within the aforesaid village of Hajipur.

This declaration is made, under the provisions of section 6 of Act I of 1894, to all whom it may concern.

A plan of the land may be inspected in the office of the Collector of Monghyr.

J. A. BOURDILLON,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF SUB-INSPECTORS OF POLICE.

THE next divisional examination of candidates to fill vacancies in the rank of Sub-Inspector of Police will be held on the 5th and 6th November 1900 at the following centres:—at Calcutta (Senate House) for the Presidency, Rajshahi and Burdwan Divisions; at Bankipore for the Patna, Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions; at Dacca for the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions and at Cuttack for the Orissa Division. The following classes of candidates will be admissible to the examination:—

(a) Persons who have passed the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta, Allahabad or Punjab University, provided they are not less than 21 nor more than 25 years of age on the 30th June.

(b) Persons now serving as head-constables and writer-constables in the police who have obtained the permission of the District Magistrate to appear at the examination, provided that they are not more than 30 years of age, and are of not less than two years' standing in the Department. This permission will only be given to persons who satisfy the conditions laid down in Rule 2.

2. No person will be deemed qualified who does not satisfy the following conditions :—

I. [redacted] or bodily deformity unfitting him, [redacted] up to the physical [redacted] dated the 7th [redacted] engineering" is a constitutional defect, and represents a physical disqualification.

II. [redacted] of good moral character.

III. [redacted] belongs to a respectable family.

IV. [redacted] produces a certificate of ability to ride signed by a District Officer.

3. [redacted]ions for permission to appear at the examination must be submitted, not later than [redacted] month before the date fixed, to the Magistrate of the district in which the candidate [redacted], stating the place at which he desires to appear for examination. Each application from a class (a) candidates must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 5. All candidates will be required to satisfy the conditions specified in Rule 2 above. The certificate of health should be given either by the Civil Surgeon of the district in which the candidate ordinarily resides, or by a Calcutta by one of the Professors of the Calcutta Medical College. Forms of application are available in the offices of District Superintendents of Police.

The Magistrate should require a personal identification of each candidate by some known person, whose name should be recorded, and satisfy himself that the certificate of respectability and moral character refers to the individual applying for permission to appear at the examination, and that these certificates are given by responsible and competent persons, whose opinion may be trusted. It is particularly important that candidates be of reputable parentage and antecedents. The candidate should be sent to the District Superintendent for a certificate as to physical fitness. This certificate should contain the applicant's descriptive roll, thumb impression, signature and address for purposes of identification. The District Superintendent will then obtain a health certificate, the fee for which will in all cases be Rs. 4, from the Civil Surgeon, and after seeing that all the certificates are in order send the applicant with his certificates to the Magistrate, who will, after subjecting the candidate to an examination in riding and noting the fact, grant a written permission to appear at the examination. To ensure thorough enquiry regarding a candidate's antecedents, the District Superintendent should issue verification rolls in the form prescribed in the Bengal Police Code, and the candidate should be informed that his appointment will be contingent on enquiries proving satisfactory.

BENGAL POLICE.

"I hereby certify that I have known [redacted] for [redacted] years and from my own personal knowledge of his character and disposition I am of opinion that he is a sober and well-behaved young man and I know him to be of good moral character.

Place [redacted] Signature [redacted]

Date [redacted] Designation or profession [redacted]

As these certificates form the verification rolls of candidates, they should be very carefully examined and enquiries made when necessary. A note should be taken of the names of candidates whose certificates do not cover the period immediately preceding the examination.

The above papers with the Treasury receipt for the examination fee, which should be paid into the Treasury, will be forwarded without delay by the Magistrate of the district in which the candidate resides to the Magistrate of the centre at which the candidate wishes to be examined.

Candidates who have been permitted to appear will attend before the Examination Committee on the day preceding the examination : the place and hour of attendance should be ascertained from the Magistrate of the centre at which the candidate will appear. The Examination Committee will then compare the descriptions, thumb impressions (duplicate impressions being taken for the purpose, if necessary), and signatures, and satisfy itself about the identity of the person appearing.

At the examination a candidate will be required to sign the papers in every subject, writing his father's name and his own address on them to avoid confusion arising out of a similarity of names.

After the result of the examination is known, the certificates of passed candidates will be forwarded to the Principal of the Police Training School, Bhagalpur, and will then be entered in the selection rolls.

The certificates of unsuccessful candidates will be returned, if asked for, within two months, or destroyed at the end of that period.

4. The subjects of examination will be as follows :—

I.—Composition, Letter-drafting, Precis-writing, and a short translation from Bengali, Oriya or Hindi into English. Europeans and Eurasians will be allowed to choose one out of these three languages to be examined in. GOVERNMENT OF BURMA reports Puket in Siamese territory infected with plague.

The 17th September 1900.

No. 159 Marine.—The following Regulations received from the Government of India for British Ports in East Africa are published for general information.

R. B. BUCKLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Regulations made by Her Majesty's Commissioner and Consul-General for the East Africa Protectorate, with the approval of the Secretary of State, under Article 45 of "The East Africa Order in Council, 1897.

PLAGUE.

PART I.

Article 1.—In these Regulations—

The term "ship" includes every vessel or boat, buggalow, or other native craft.

The term "Master" used in relation to a ship includes the officer or person for the time being in charge or command of the ship, and includes a pilot.

The term "Medical Officer of Health" includes any duly qualified medical practitioner appointed or employed to act in the execution of these Regulations.

The term "Port Officer" includes any person acting for or on behalf of the Port Officer.

The term "infected ship" means any ship with a case of plague on board, or on board which there has been a case of plague within twelve days: the term "suspected ship" means any ship on which there has been during the voyage, or during the stay of such ship in the port of departure, a case of plague, but on board which there has been no such case within twelve days.

Provided that any ship to which a person has been transhipped from an infected or suspected ship shall by reason thereof be deemed to be infected or suspected, as the case may be, the period of twelve days being for this purpose reckoned from the date of the last case of plague on board the ship from which the said person is so transhipped.

The term "Sanitary station" means the place at Zanzibar appointed and prescribed by the Government of Zanzibar as and for a Sanitary station for plague purposes, and also any place at or near any port of the Protectorate which may hereafter be appointed and prescribed by the Commissioner as a Sanitary station for the purposes of these Regulations.

The term "observation" means isolation either on boardship or at a Sanitary station.

Article 2.—Where these Regulations provide that a person may be permitted to proceed to his place of destination subject to surveillance, such permission shall be granted upon the following conditions:—

(a) He must satisfy the Medical Officer of Health as to his name, intended place of destination, and his address at such place.

(b) He must agree to submit himself and must submit himself to medical supervision at that place during the prescribed period.

(c) The place must, in the opinion of the Medical Officer of Health, be conveniently situated for the medical supervision.

In case of non-compliance with any of these conditions, the Medical Officer of Health may, by order in writing, prohibit the said person to depart from the ship, or direct him to return thereto, or to proceed to any convenient place, to be specified in the order, and there remain under medical supervision during the prescribed period; and if any such order of the Medical Officer of Health is not obeyed forthwith, it shall be carried into effect by any officers of police as if it were the warrant of a duly authorised Court.

PART II.

Arrival of Ships.

Article 3.—An infected or a suspected ship, or a ship arriving from an infected port, shall not communicate with any ship, nor with any port or place in the Protectorate except Mombasa, Lamu or Kismayu, until it has received pratique at one of the three ports aforesaid, or at the port of Zanzibar.

Article 4.—The master of any such ship shall, on arriving at a port in the Protectorate, and before entering the harbour, if by day, hoist a yellow flag, and indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come, or if by night, exhibit two red lights, one above the other, at the main. The said flag and signal shall be hoisted and kept hoisted, and the said lights shall be exhibited and kept exhibited by day and night, respectively, until permission is given to remove them. The said flag and lights are in these Regulations referred to as "plague signals."

Article 5.—The master shall bring his ship to anchor in the position indicated by the Port Officer, and shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, except orally or by signal, with the shore, or with any other ship or boat, except the Pilot's, Medical Officer's, Health Officer's, or Port Officer's boat. The pilot on coming on board shall proceed straight to the bridge.

Article 6.—The Medical Officer of Health having been informed by the Port Officer of the arrival of the ship, shall, as soon as possible, visit the ship and make such enquiries and inspection as he thinks necessary for determining whether the ship is an infected or a suspected ship, and for this purpose may require a declaration in writing from the medical officer of the ship, or the master, or both, with respect to any material facts within their knowledge. If he is satisfied that the ship is either an infected or a suspected ship, he shall forthwith give a certificate to that effect in duplicate, and shall give one copy to the master and retain the other.

PART III.

Infected Ships.

Article 7.—Every infected ship shall be directed to take up her position at the Sanitary station, and such ship shall remain there until the requirements in force at that station have been duly fulfilled: Provided that should the Medical Officer of Health consider, either on account of there being no cases on board, and of the ship having on board a duly qualified medical officer, and a disinfecting stove, or for such other reason as he may consider sufficient, that it is not necessary for the ship to proceed to the Sanitary station, he shall certify such his opinion in writing, and the ship so certified shall take up the position that may be appointed by the Port Officer, and in such case the provisions of this Part shall, so far as the Medical Officer of Health may direct, apply in like manner as if the position so appointed were a Sanitary station.

Article 8.—On arrival at the Sanitary station the sick shall be immediately disembarked and isolated under the orders of the Medical Officer of Health, and no person so isolated shall leave such place of isolation until the Medical Officer of Health shall have certified that such person is free from plague.

Article 9.—The other persons on board, except such members of the crew as are required for the care of the ship, shall also be disembarked, and, when necessary, kept under observation at the Sanitary station for a period varying according to the sanitary condition of the ship and the date of the last case: such period must not exceed ten days from the date of the last case, whether that occurred on boardship or during the period of observation on shore. It is also in the discretion of the Medical Officer of Health to allow any such persons to proceed to their respective places of destination, subject to surveillance for a period not exceeding in any case ten days from the arrival of the ship.

Article 10.—The master shall disinfect or destroy any clothing and bedding and other articles of personal use on board which are likely to retain infection and shall cleanse and disinfect any part of the ship likely to retain infection, and if the master shall have neglected to do so before the ship arrives in port, the Medical Officer of Health shall direct or cause the same to be disinfected, destroyed, or cleansed, as the case may require.

Article 11.—The bilge water shall be pumped out after disinfection, and a wholesome supply of drinking water shall be stored on board.

Article 12.—When the Regulations in this Part, so far as they relate to any ship, have been fully complied with, the Medical Officer of Health shall, by an order in writing under his hand, to be delivered to the master, permit the plague signals to be removed and grant pratique.

PART IV.

Suspected Ships.

Article 13.—Articles 7, 10 and 11 shall apply to suspected ships in like manner as they apply to infected ships.

Article 14.—Every passenger and member of the crew may be subjected to surveillance for a period not exceeding in any case ten days from the date of the arrival of the ship.

Article 15.—When the Regulations in this Part, so far as they relate to any ship, have been fully complied with, the Health Officer shall, by an order in writing under his hand, to be delivered to the master, permit the plague signals to be removed and grant pratique.

PART V.

Ships free from plague.

Article 16.—Every ship which arrives from an infected port, or is otherwise likely to be carrying infection, although she is neither an infected nor a suspected ship within the meaning of these Regulations, may, at the discretion of the Medical Officer of Health, be subjected to the measures prescribed in Article 10 (so far as relates to clothing, bedding and articles of personal use) and Article 11.

Article 17.—Every passenger and member of the crew of such a ship as last mentioned may be subject to surveillance for a period not exceeding ten days from the date on which the ship left the port of departure.

Article 18.—When the Regulations in this Part, so far as they relate to any ship, have been fully complied with, the Medical Officer of Health shall, by an order in writing under his hand, to be delivered to the master, permit the plague signals to be removed and grant pratique.

PART VI.

Miscellaneous.

Article 19.—The Medical Officer of Health, for the purpose of exercising any of the duties imposed upon him under these Regulations, may medically examine any and every person on board any ship arriving at any port of the Protectorate.

Article 20.—Where a ship is not certified to be suspected or infected, but has passengers on board who are in a filthy or otherwise unwholesome condition, or is overcrowded with passengers, emigrants or otherwise, the Medical Officer of Health may, if in his opinion it is desirable with a view to checking the introduction or spread of plague, and on his certifying to that effect, order such ship to proceed to the Sanitary station or to such place as he may direct, and may detain, under observation or surveillance, the passengers and crew for such period, not exceeding ten days from the arrival of the ship, as he may direct.

Article 21.—The Medical Officer of Health shall in the case of every such ship give directions and take such steps as to cleansing and disinfection as may appear to him to be necessary.

Article 22.—The master of any ship or any other person shall answer truly, and, if required, in writing and on oath, all questions put to him by, and give all such information to, any officer appointed for that purpose by Her Majesty's Commissioner as may be necessary for any purposes of these Regulations.

Article 23.—Any ship which uses a port of the Protectorate as a port of call merely may, instead of submitting to these Regulations, at the choice of the master, remain at such anchorage as may be appointed by the Port Officer during its stay in port. Such ship shall only have such communication with the shore as may be authorised by the Medical Officer of Health.

Article 24.—Any person on board any ship arriving at a port of the Protectorate who is ascertained by the Medical Officer of Health to be suffering from any illness which such officer suspects may prove to be plague, may either be detained on board the ship, or be taken to some hospital or other suitable place appointed for that purpose by the authority, and detained there for a period not exceeding three days in the case of a ship carrying a medical officer, and not exceeding five days in the case of a ship not so provided, in order that it may be ascertained whether the illness is or is not plague.

Article 25.—Where any person is found to be suffering from plague, he shall immediately be, as far as possible, isolated, and shall not be removed from one place to another except by order and under the direction of the Medical Officer of Health, and shall not depart from the place where he is, until the Medical Officer of Health certifies that he is free from plague.

Article 26.—Nothing in these Regulations shall render liable to detention, disinfection or destruction, any article being part of any mails (other than a parcel mail) conveyed under the authority of the postal administration of any Government, or shall prejudicially affect the delivery in due course of any such mail (other than a parcel mail) to the post office.

Article 27.—The introduction into any port of the Protectorate, as merchandize, of clothing, sacks, and bedding which have been used, or hides which have not been either cured by arsenical preparations or dry salted, whether the same are imported from any infected port or come from any infected place, is prohibited.

Article 28.—Merchandize from infected ports shall be disembarked under such precautions, other than disinfection, as the officer appointed by Her Majesty's Commissioner may direct to prevent the introduction of rats, etc., which may be infected.

Article 29.—Nothing in these Regulations shall affect the execution of any powers with respect to the prevention of any diseases other than plague.

Article 30.—These Regulations may be cited as "The East Africa Plague Regulations, 1899."

J. A. REUTHER,
Inspector of Schools, Orissa Circle.

CUTTACK,
The 1st September 1900.

NOTICE.

Entrance Examination.

A TEST examination of private students and school-masters for admission to the ensuing Entrance Examination will be held at the Office of the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, 4, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, on Monday, the 7th, and Tuesday, the 8th January 1901. Such candidates only as reside in any of the districts of the Presidency Division, including Calcutta, will be admitted to the examination.

2. Candidates who do not appear from any school, i.e., who have not been in any school since the 1st of September next preceding the examination, will be treated as private students. They will be required to furnish satisfactory proof that they have not read in any school from that date. They must also produce certificates of conduct and progress in studies from the authorities of the last school where they read, or, in the case of those who have not been in any school for more than a year, from some other reliable authorities. The transfer certificates granted to them by the authorities of the schools in which they studied last, or the Registrar's receipt for the fee paid in the case of those candidates who previously appeared at the Entrance Examination, must be submitted in original along with the application for permission to appear at the test examination.

3. Bonâ fide teachers employed in any of the schools in the Presidency Circle may be admitted to the examination if they can produce certificates of service and character from their employers, or from the Deputy Inspector of the district concerned.

4. Each candidate should submit to this Office, not later than the 22nd December 1900, his application for admission to the test examination, stating the following particulars:—

(1) Age; (2) residence; (3) father's name; (4) second language besides English; and (5) whether he appeared at any previous Entrance Examination.

5. The admission-fee for the examination is Rs. 4 for each candidate, and is to be remitted with the application within the prescribed date, after which a fine of Rs. 2 is to be imposed for each week's delay.

6. No private student will be admitted to the test examination unless accompanied, for the purpose of identification, by some person known to this Office.

7. Candidates who are sent up by this Office must appear at the Calcutta Examination Centre.

8. Those that reside at a distance from Calcutta may present themselves at the test examination held by the head-master of the nearest zilla or Government high school within the Presidency Division, on condition that they appear at the centre selected by the candidates from that institution. The head-master of such school is hereby authorised to sign the applications from these students, which must afterwards be countersigned by the Inspector. The fees and fines paid by such students, as per paragraph 5 above, should be utilized in meeting the cost of the examination.

F.A. and B.A. Examinations.

Deputy Inspectors, Sub-Inspectors, and bonâ fide teachers of recognized English schools in the Presidency Circle who have served as such for full two academical years, or for six months in the case of those who were admitted to a former examination of the same class, will be admitted to the above examinations on production of certificates of character and length of service (with dates) from their employers. Their applications must reach this Office on or before the 2nd January 1901.

2. Candidates for the B.A. Examination must send in their F.A. Certificates, and candidates for the F.A. Examination, their Entrance Certificates.

3. Candidates should carefully read the printed form of application and supply all the information required by the University, including the Registrar's receipt in the case of those school-masters who were admitted to a previous examination of the same class.

E. R. T. TIERY,

Offg. Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle.

6. Jalpaiguri „ ...	Jalpaiguri ditto
7. Darjeeling „ ...	Darjeeling High School ...
8. Malda „ ...	Malda Zilla School

The examinations will begin as stated above, and each private student will pay a fee of Rs. 2 to the head of the institution at which he appears for examination. The balance after payment of expenses (stationery, etc.) will go as remuneration to the examiners.

3. Applications for permission to appear must be sent so as to reach this office not later than the 1st December with the following information, etc. :—

From private candidates proper.

(a) The name of the school in which the candidate last studied.

(b) The transfer certificate (in original) granted to the candidate from the same; or

(c) In the case of a candidate who previously appeared at the Entrance examination the Registrar's receipt (in original) for the fee paid.

(d) Age of the candidate.

From School-masters.

(e) A certificate from the Secretary or Proprietor of the school in which the candidate is serving to the effect that he has been a bonâ fide paid teacher of the school in which he teaches, and has been so ever since the 1st June 1900. In case of a school-master who has served in more than one school, he must produce certificates from the several schools in proof of his having been a bonâ fide paid teacher all along since the 1st June 1900.

Failing to produce the above certificate or certificates, a school-master will be subject to the rules applicable to bonâ fide private candidates, as given above.

4. If this office is satisfied that all is in order, the Inspector will countersign and return the application, and this then will be the candidate's passport for admission to the test examination.

5. The Head Master of an institution (one of those named above) should direct private students to appear before him not later than the 2nd January with their applications for admission to the Entrance examination, and in the case of those candidates who have satisfied the test, he will cause them to sign their application forms in his presence, and will grant the necessary certificates, and then forward the applications to this office for countersignature, after which they will be sent by the Inspector direct to the candidates.

6. Expedition is necessary in carrying out all these instructions, and candidates should be most careful to give their names and addresses written legibly and distinctly, so that no mistake may be likely to occur.

7. Under no circumstances should the entrance fee be sent to this office.

8. Private students will understand that the test examination of any schools other than those named above will not be accepted by this office.

9. Addresses of private students should be supplied to this office.

SASI BHUSHAN SEN,
Offg. Inspector of Schools, Rajshahi Circle.

OFFICE MEMO.

RULES FOR APPEARING AT THE F.A. AND B.A. EXAMINATIONS FOR CANDIDATES FROM THE RAJSHAHI CIRCLE, WHO ARE NOT STUDENTS OF ANY AFFILIATED INSTITUTION.

DEPUTY INSPECTORS of Schools, Sub-Inspectors of Schools, and bonâ-fide masters of English schools, who have served as such for the full period of two academical years, or of six months after the examination of the same class last held by the University, in the case of those only who were admitted to a former examination of that class, will be admitted to the above-mentioned examinations. The applications of school-masters should be accompanied by a certificate of length of service from the Secretaries or Managers of the schools in which they are employed, and should reach this office not later than the 6th January 1900. The application of a school-master for permission to appear at the F.A. or B.A. examination should be signed by him in the presence of the Secretary or a Member of the Managing Committee of the school in which he is employed. The application should be forwarded to this office for countersignature, together with the Registrar's certificate, to prove, if this be the case, that the candidate has appeared at the examination in a previous year, and the certificate in proof of his having passed the Entrance or F.A. examination, as the case may be, and it will be sent back to him (the candidate) who will have to send it, together with the examination fee, to the Registrar of the University direct. School-masters are not required to pay any fee for getting their application for permission to appear at either of the above-mentioned examinations countersigned by this office.

2. Candidates should read carefully the form of the certificate which this office is required to sign, and should be careful to supply all information and documents required, including the Registrar's receipt in the case of those school-masters who have been admitted to a former examination of the same class, without which the Inspector must decline to sign the certificate.

3. By bonâ-fide masters of schools are to be understood masters who hold regularly paid appointments in English schools, teaching at least the M. E. course.

2. No person will be deemed qualified who shall not satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners—

(i) that he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty;

(ii) that he had attained the age of twenty-one, and had not attained the age of twenty-three, on the first day of the year in which the Examination is held.

[N.B.—In the case of Natives of India it will be necessary for a Candidate to obtain a certificate of age and nationality signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides, or should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides.]

(iii) that he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India;

(iv) that he is of good moral character.

3. Should the evidence upon the above points be primâ facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the Candidate, on payment of the prescribed fee, will be admitted to the Examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries, in the case of any Candidate, should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and if already selected, will be removed from the position of a Probationer.

4. The Open Competitive Examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge :—

		Marks.

Under the head of "English Law" shall be included the following subjects, viz:—(1) Law of Contract; (2) Law of Evidence; (3) Law of the Constitution; (4) Criminal Law; (5) Law of Real Property; and of these five subjects Candidates shall be at liberty to offer any four, but not more than four		500

(a) A Syllabus, defining the character of the Examination in the various subjects, may be obtained on application to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission.

Candidates are at liberty to name any or all of these branches of knowledge.(a) None is obligatory.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks; and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (b) in order to secure that no credit be allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

7. The Examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the branches in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained, after the deduction above-mentioned, a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates, will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected Candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case, the Candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected Candidate. A Candidate entitled to be deemed a selected Candidate, but declining to accept the nomination as such, which may be offered to him, will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

9. Selected Candidates before proceeding to India will be on probation for one year, at the end of which time they will be examined, with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects (c):—

[N.B.—Some changes may possibly be made in this Regulation before the Competitive Examination of 1901 is held.]

		Marks.
Compulsory—
(1)	Indian Penal Code	250
(2)	Code of Criminal Procedure	250
(3)	The Indian Evidence Act	250
*(4)	The principal Vernacular Language of the Province to which the Candidate is assigned	400
Optional.	[Not more than two of the following subjects.]

†(4	Arabic	400
(5)	Persian	400
(6)	History of British India	350
(7)	Chinese (for Candidates assigned to the Province of Burma only)	400

In this Examination, as in the Open Competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the Open Competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it. The Examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary. This Examination will be held at the close of the year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination."

If any candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending such examination, the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the Final Examination to be held in the following year, or at a special examination.

10. The selected Candidates will also be tested during their probation as to their proficiency in Riding.

The examinations in Riding will be held as follows:—

(1) Shortly after the result of the Open Competitive Examination has been declared, or at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary year.

(2) Again, at the time of the Final Examination, Candidates who may fully satisfy the Commissioners of their ability to ride well and to perform journeys on horseback, shall receive a Certificate which shall entitle them to be credited with 200 or 100 marks according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the Final Examination.

(a) A Syllabus, defining the character of the Examination in the various subjects, may be obtained on application to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission.

(b) No deduction will be made from the marks assigned to Candidates in Mathematics or English Composition.

(c) Instructions, showing the extent of the Examination, will be issued to the successful Candidates as soon as possible after the result of the Open Competition is declared.

* The principal Vernacular Language prescribed for each Province to which Candidates are assigned, is as follows:—

For the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces...	Hindustani.
For Burma	Burmese.
For Bombay	Marathi.
For Madras	Tamil or Telugu	At the option of the Candidate.
For the Lower Provinces of Bengal ...	Hindustani or Bengali

In Hindustani the Candidate will be required to be acquainted with both the Persian and the Nagari character; and in the case of the last two Provinces mentioned above, a Candidate whose Vernacular Language is either of the language shown against his Province, must offer the other for examination.

† These subjects may not be offered by any Candidate who has offered them at the Open Competition.

(3) Candidates who fail to obtain this Certificate, but who gain a Certificate of minimum proficiency in Riding, will be allowed to proceed to India, but will be subjected on their arrival to such further tests in Riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and shall receive no increase to their initial salary until they have passed such tests to the satisfaction of that Government. A Candidate who fails at the end of the year of probation to gain at least the Certificate of minimum proficiency in Riding will be liable to have his name removed from the list of Selected Candidates.

11. The selected Candidates who, on examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, conduct during the period of probation, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service.

12. Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, S.W.," at any time after the 1st December, in the year previous to that in which the Examination is to be held. The Forms must be returned so as to be received at the office of the Civil Service Commissioners on or before the 1st July (or, if that date should fall upon a Sunday or public holiday, then, on or before the first day thereafter on which their office is open) in the year in which the Examination is to be held.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcement:—

(i) Selected Candidates will be allotted to the various Provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes; but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration.

(ii) An allowance amounting to £100 will be given to all Candidates who pass their probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz., the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrews and Aberdeen; Victoria University, Manchester; University College, London; and King's College, London: provided such Candidates shall have passed the Final Examination to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have conducted themselves well and complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected Candidates. The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same Institution. Migration will not be permitted, except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State.

(iii) The allowance of £100 will not be paid to any Selected Candidate until he has been certified by the Civil Service Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India: and every Certificated Candidate must, before receiving his allowance, give a written undertaking to refund the amount in the event of his failing to proceed to India.

(iv) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(v) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the Selected Candidates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open Competitive and Final Examinations

(vi) Selected Candidates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificate of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(vii) Candidates rejected at the Final Examination held in any year, will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination.

N.B.—A Manual of Rules and Regulations applicable to members of the Covenanted Civil Service of India has been compiled by permission of the Government of India and may now be procured either from Messrs. A. Constable & Co., 2, Whitehall Gardens, S. W., or from Mr. E A. Arnold, 37, Bedford Street, Covent Garden. Price 2*s.* 6*d.*

The Commissioners have been requested by the Secretary of State for India to draw the attention of Selected Candidates to the prefatory note attached to this manual, as it is considered important that it should be clearly understood that this compilation is not to be regarded in any other light than that of a collection, made for facility of reference, of certain information and rules, that it is by no means exhaustive, and that it is liable to such modifications as may from time to time be sanctioned by competent authority.

CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

OPEN COMPETITION OF 1901.

FORM TO BE FILLED UP BY CANDIDATES FOR EXAMINATION.

 The order for admission to the Examination will not be issued unless this Form, filled up by the Candidate himself, is received by the Secretary of the Civil Service Commission on or before the 1st July 1901.

*Date*_____

SIR,

I beg to inform you that I wish to be a Candidate at the Examination for the Civil Service of India, which is appointed to commence in London on the 1st of August 1901.

I hereby declare that I was born on the day of 18 , and that therefore I had attained the age of 21 years and had not attained the age of 23 years on the 1st of January 1901; I also declare that I have no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting me, or likely to unfit me, for the Civil Service of India; and that I am of good moral character, and otherwise eligible under the Regulations; and I undertake that, if I am successful, I will conform, during my period of probation, to such rules respecting the conduct of Public Servants, as have been laid down, or may hereafter be laid down, by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

This should be given on the form attached.

I send herewith a statement of the subjects in which I desire to be examined.

I also send herewith a Certificate of my Birth issued under Notification of the Government of India, No. 2252, dated 21st August 1888, as amended by Notification No. 404, dated 19th May 1898.

Candidates who are not Natives of India should strike out this paragraph.

Candidates not born within the British Dominions should state this fact in a separate letter.

I have also to state, with reference to Section 2, Clause (i) of the Regulations, that I am a natural-born subject of Her Majesty.

I beg further to add that I have*_____ been examined under the directions of the Civil Service Commissioners in the year 18_____ † as a Candidate for the situation of_____.

* If you have never been examined, insert here the word "never."

† If you have been examined, give the date, etc., of the last occasion.

I am, SIR,

Your obedient Servant,

*Name in full*_____

‡ If a London address, state postal district; if a country, state the post town.

Address to which it is desired that the Order for Examination should be sent‡_____

*Date*_____

To the Secretary,
Civil Service Commission.

No Certificates of age, health, and character, except as mentioned above, should be supplied until the result of the Examination is known.

☞ If Candidates who fill up and return this Application Form do not receive an acknowledgment of it within four complete days, they should write to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, 68, Victoria Street, London, S.W.

N.B.—Attention is drawn to the annexed Form, which must be filled up by every Candidate.

EVIDENCE OF AGE TO BE REQUIRED FROM CANDIDATES FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

I. Every Candidate born in the United Kingdom should be prepared to produce, when required, a Certificate from the Registrar-General of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, or from one of his provincial Officers. This Certificate may be obtained from the Registrar-General in London, Dublin or Edinburgh, or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.

II. A Candidate born of European parents in India should be prepared to produce, when required, a Certificate of Baptism from the district in which he was baptised. If this does not also mention the date of birth, it should be accompanied by a statutory declaration by one of the Candidate's parents, stating the date and place of birth. When such certificates are not in the possession of the candidates, an Extract from the Registers kept at the India Office will probably be obtainable.

III. A Candidate who is a Native of India must, before he can be admitted to the Competition, have his age and nationality certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which he may have resided.

[No Certificates except those issued under Notification of the Government of India, No. 2252, dated 21st August 1888, as amended by Notification No. 404, dated 19th May 1898, will be accepted for this competition.]

Except as noted in paragraphs II and III, every Candidate who proves to be successful is expected to produce a certificate of Birth. The Civil Service Commissioners will not in ordinary cases accept a Certificate of Baptism, or other testimony, unless they are first satisfied that a Certificate of Birth cannot be procured.

Official Certificates of Birth may generally be obtained as follows:—

(a) For persons born in England or Wales.—From the Registrar-General, Somerset House, London, or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.

(b) For persons born in Scotland.—From the General Register Office, Edinburgh; or from the Registrar of the parish or district in which the birth took place.

(c) For persons born in Ireland.—From the General Register Office, Dublin; or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.

(d) For persons of English, Scottish, or Irish parentage born on board British ships.—From the General Register Office, London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, according to parentage.

(e) For persons born in India of European parents.—From the Director of Funds, India Office, London, S.W. [These are Certificates of Baptism, but they usually furnish the date of birth and are then accepted as Certificates of Birth.]

Any Candidate who cannot produce a Certificate of Birth from one of the authorities named should, if possible, procure a Certificate of Baptism, and should then apply to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, for further instructions.

CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA;

CLERKSHIPS (CLASS I) IN THE HOME CIVIL SERVICE; AND EASTERN CADETSHIPS.

Syllabus showing the extent of the Examination in certain subjects.

English Composition.—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper.

English Language and Literature.—The Examination will be in two parts. In the one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature, as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III. and the accession of Queen Victoria:

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats.

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Cowley, Bunyan, Dryden, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Macaulay (Essays and Biographies).

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination, which will, however, test how far the Candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English Language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax, and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other year by year in the order indicated:—

1.	A.D. 1600 to A.D. 1709.
(1901)	[Shakespeare to Dryden.]
2.	A.D. 1700 to A.D. 1800.
(1902)	[Pope to Cowper.]
3.	A.D. 1800 to A.D. 1832.
(1903)	[Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott.]
4.	A.D. 1360 to A.D. 1600.
(1904)	[Chaucer to Spenser.]

The Examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners.* The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1700; all the works of Swift within the period 1700 to 1800; all the works of Scott and Wordsworth, and all the works of Macaulay within the period 1800 to 1832.

French Language and Literature.—Translation from French into English, and from English into French. Critical questions on the French Language and Literature.

German Language and Literature.—Translation from German into English, and from English into German. Critical questions on the German Language and Literature.

Latin Language and Literature.—Translation from Latin into English, Composition in Prose and Verse, or (as an alternative for Verse-Composition) a Latin Essay or Letter. Critical questions on the Latin Language (including questions on Philology) and Literature.

* The books for 1901 are:
Shakespeare: English Historical Plays.
The Two Noble Kinsmen.
Milton: Paradise Regained.
Samson Agonistes.
Jonson: Sejanus.
Cowley: Poems.
Butler: Hudibras.
Harrington: Oceana.
Evelyn: Diary.

Greek Language and Literature.—Translation from Greek into English, Composition in Prose and Verse, or (as an alternative for Verse-Composition) a Greek Dialogue or Oration. Critical questions on the Greek Language (including questions on Philology) and Literature.

Sanskrit Language and Literature.—Translation from Sanskrit into English, and from English into Sanskrit. History of Sanskrit Literature (including knowledge of such Indian history as bears upon the subject); Sanskrit Grammar; Vedic Philology Arabic Language and Literature.—Translations as in Sanskrit; History of Arabic Literature (including knowledge of such Arabic History as bears upon the subject); Arabic Grammar; Arabic Prosody.

English History. General questions on English History from A.D. 800 to A.D. 1848; questions on the Constitutional History of England from A.D. 800 to A.D. 1848.

General Modern History.—Candidates may, at their choice, be examined in any one of the following periods:—

1. From the accession of Charlemagne to the Third Crusade.
[A.D. 800 to A.D. 1193.]
2. From the Third Crusade to the Diet of Worms.
[A.D. 1193 to A.D. 1521.]
3. From the Diet of Worms to the death of Louis XIV.
[A.D. 1521 to A.D. 1715.]
4. From the accession of Louis XV. to the French Revolution of 1818.
[A.D. 1715 to A.D. 1848.]

Periods 3 and 4 will include Indian History.

Greek History.—Questions on the General History of Greece to the death of Alexander; questions on the Constitutional History of Greece during the same period.

Roman History.—Questions on the General History of Rome to the death of Vespasian; questions on the Constitutional History of Rome during the same period.

In Greek and Roman History candidates will be expected to show a knowledge of the original authorities.

Mathematics.—Pure Mathematics:—Algebra, Geometry (Euclid and Geometrical Conic Sections), Plane Trigonometry, Plane Analytical Geometry (less advanced portions), Differential Calculus (Elementary), Integral Calculus (Elementary).

Applied Mathematics:—Statics, Dynamics of a Particle, Hydrostatics, Geometrical Optics; all treated without the aid of the Differential or Integral Calculus.

Advanced Mathematics.—Pure Mathematics:—Higher Algebra, including Theory of Equations, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Differential Calculus, Integral Calculus, Differential Equations, Analytical Geometry, Plane and Solid.

Applied Mathematics:—Statics including Attractions, Dynamics of a Particle, Rigid Dynamics, Hydrodynamics, the Mathematical Theory of Electricity and Magnetism.

Political Economy and Economic History.—Candidates will be expected to possess a knowledge of economic theory as treated in the larger text books, also a knowledge of the existing economic conditions, and of statistical methods as applied to economic inquiries, together with a general knowledge of the history of industry, land tenure and economic legislation in the United Kingdom.

Logic and Mental Philosophy (Ancient and Modern).—Logic will include both Deductive and Inductive Logic. Mental Philosophy will include Psychology and Metaphysics.

Political Science—The Examination will not be confined to Analytical Jurisprudence, Early Institutions, and Theory of Legislation, but may embrace Comparative Politics, the History of Political Theories, etc.

Candidates will be expected to show a knowledge of original authorities.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1647T.M.—The 15th September 1900.—Whereas a notification No. 2051M., dated the 30th June 1900, was published at pages 144 and 145, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 4th July 1900, declaring the intention of the Lieutenant-Governor to make the following bye laws under the provisions of section 350A of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, as amended by Act I (B.C.) of 1900, in its application to Darjeeling, and whereas no objection has been raised to the proposal within one month from the date of the publication of the above notification within the Municipality, it is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor confirms the bye-laws in exercise of the power vested in the Local Government by section 351 of the aforesaid Act :—

1. Except with the written permission of the Deputy Commissioner and subject to such conditions as he may impose not inconsistent with this Act or any other law—

(i) No person shall make any excavation or cut into any jhora, hillside or bank, or remove any soil from any jhora, hillside or bank.

(ii) No person shall quarry in any jhora, hillside or bank.

(iii) No person shall remove any loose stone or stones from any hillside, bank, or jhora except in cases where there is an immediate danger from the falling of such stone or stones. But in all such cases immediate notice of the removal having been effected shall be given to the Deputy Commissioner.

For the purposes of this rule "loose stone" means any stone which can be removed without quarrying.

(iv) No person shall permit or cause any cattle under his control to graze or stray on any hillside or bank.

(v) Within such local limits as may be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner, no person shall permit or cause any poultry under his control to stray on any hillside or bank.

(vi) No person shall cut, prune or destroy any tree, bamboo, or shrub.

(vii) No person shall dig out of any jhora, hillside or bank the roots of any tree, bamboo, or shrub which has fallen down or been cut down.

(viii) No person shall make a garden or garden-terrace.

(ix) No person shall disturb the existing surface of the soil or make a hole or bed around the base of any tree, shrub, or bamboo.

It shall be lawful for the Deputy Commissioner by written notice to call upon the owner of any holding to fill up any hole or bed made around the base of any tree, shrub, or bamboo to the level of the surrounding soil.

2. It shall be lawful for the Deputy Commissioner by written notice to call upon the owner of any holding to cut, trim, prune or remove therefrom any trees, shrubs, bamboos, bushes or hedges bordering on, overhanging or obstructing any road or drain, or causing or being likely to cause damage to any road or drain, or causing or being likely to cause damage to any person using any road.

3. It shall be lawful for the Deputy Commissioner by written notice to call upon the owner of any holding to trim, coppice, prune or cut any trees, shrubs, or bamboos, which in his opinion should be so treated, in order to protect more efficiently the bank or hillside upon which such trees, shrubs, or bamboos stand.

4. It shall be lawful for the Deputy Commissioner by written notice to call upon the owner of a holding to plant trees, shrubs, bamboos or other plants on any portion of his holding in cases where such planting is in his opinion necessary for the safety of a bank or hillside or site of a landslip.

The Deputy Commissioner may prescribe the kind of trees, shrubs, bamboos or other plants required to be planted, the distance apart of such trees, shrubs, bamboos or other plants, and the time of year at which they are to be planted.

5. Nothing contained in the foregoing bye-laws shall apply to the following operations:—

(a) bonâ fide pruning, trimming or otherwise altering shrubs, bamboos, trees or other plants for horticultural purposes;

(b) digging or other petty excavations or removal of soil in the ordinary process of gardening in land already cultivated;

(c) other petty acts, such as cutting twigs, digging ferns and the like, from which no material harm of any kind to person or property is likely to result.

6. The penalty for a breach of any of the foregoing bye-laws shall be a fine which may extend to Rs. 50.

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1655T.—M.—The 17th September 1900.—Whereas a notification No. 27T.—M., dated the 24th April 1900, was published at pages 78 and 79, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd May 1900, declaring the intention of the Lieutenant-Governor to make certain rules and impose certain conditions, subject to which the Commissioners of the Berhampore Municipality may allow the owners and occupiers of holdings paying a water-rate to lay down communication pipes from the service pipes of the Commissioners for the purposes of leading water to their premises for domestic purposes, and whereas no valid objection has been raised to those rules, except to Rule 10, within one month from the date of the publication of the above notification within the Municipality, it is hereby notified for general information that, in the exercise of the power vested in the Local Government by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, III of 1884, as modified up to 1st November 1896, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the said rules and conditions, Rule 10 being modified as shown below:—

(1) The owner or occupier of any house or land, requiring water to be laid on for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to the existing water-supply, must apply for the same in a printed form, to be supplied to him free of cost at the Commissioners' office. A specimen of the printed form is given in the Schedule annexed hereto.

(2) Each holding shall have a separate connection, and extensions from the communication pipe of one holding to another will not be allowed.

(3) A house connection shall comprise the following parts:—

(a) The brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply pipe.

(b) The galvanized iron communication pipe from the ferrule to the meter.

(c) The stop-cock and its surface-box.

(d) The meter.

(e) The service pipes from the stop-cock to the taps.

(f) The taps.

(4) All the fittings enumerated in the preceding paragraph shall be stamped duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners and approved by them in meeting. All fittings shall be tested and stamped by an officer of the Corporation before being fixed.

(5) The size of the ferrule will be decided by the Commissioners, but its diameter shall not differ from that of the communication pipe by more than $\frac{1}{4}$ inch.

(6) The diameter of the communication pipe will be determined with regard to the average pressure in the main supply pipe at the stand-post nearest the house for which a connection is required, and to the quantity of water to be supplied according to the provisions of section 295; the diameter of the pipe shall be such that it will be competent to deliver half the daily supply in six hours.

(7) The stop-cock and its surface-box shall be placed as near as practicable to the points where the service pipes enter the house or premises to be supplied, but must not be within any private premises. The surface-box shall rest on brickwork foundations and shall be so designed that it can be locked, and the key of it shall remain under the control of the Commissioners.

(8) The meter shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined at all times. No meter shall be fixed underground except in a brick well or chamber. No meter shall be disconnected or in any way interfered with except with the permission of the Commissioners.

(9) The Commissioners shall depute some authorised person to read every meter not less than once a quarter, and shall give notice to the occupier at least 24 hours before the reading is recorded. If the quantity of water consumed in any quarter exceeds that to which the occupier is entitled, written notice to that effect shall be served upon him.

(10) The number of taps in a house or holding shall be fixed according to the annual valuation of the premises as follows :—

Annual valuation of holding.	Number of taps.
Under Rs. 100	1
From „ 100 to Rs. 199	2
„ „ 200 to „ 499	3
„ „ 500 to „ 1,500	5
and for every Rs. 500 or part thereof in excess of Rs. 1,500 ...	1 additional tap.

(11) The house connection when fitted in position must be capable of standing a pressure of 100 feet, and no water shall be supplied until this test has been applied by the Commissioners.

(12) No ferrule shall be inserted in the main supply pipe except in the presence of an officer appointed for the purpose.

(13) The repair, alteration, removal or extension of all communication pipes and fittings shall be undertaken with the permission of the Commissioners and under the inspection and direction of the officer authorised by them in that behalf, and not otherwise.

SCHEDULE.

LIBERALITY OF NAWAB ABDUS SOBHAN CHOWDHURY.

No. 1603T.—M., dated Darjeeling, the 14th September 1900.

From—E. N. BAKER, Esq., C.S.I., Secy. to the Govt of Bengal, Municipal Dept.,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your endorsement No. 426Met., dated the 28th August 1900, with which you submit a copy of a letter from the Magistrate of Bogra reporting that, in order to commemorate the visit of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor to Bogra, Nawab Abdus Sobhan Chowdhury has offered Rs. 5,000 for a park in that town for the recreation of the public to be called "the Woodburn Altafannesa Park," and also to add landed property of the annual income of Rs. 300 to his already existing endowment for the support of the Bogra Tahirannesa Female Hospital on the same terms and conditions as his former gift. You recommend that both the proposals of the Nawab be sanctioned by Government.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in accepting these liberal offers, subject to the condition that the Park is named the "Altafannesa Park," and not as proposed in your letter, and I am to request that His Honour's thanks may be conveyed to the donor for his public spirit and liberality. As the landed property now offered for the Female Hospital should be vested in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments in the same manner as in the case of the original endowment, I am to request that you will be so good as to revise the scheme sanctioned in Government Notification No. 312Medl., dated the 28rd January 1894, a copy of which was forwarded to you with Government order No. 313Medl., dated the 25th idem, and submit it for the approval of Government.

3. I am to add that this letter will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

RESOLUTION ON THE STATISTICAL RETURNS OF VACCINATION IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—SANITATION.

Darjeeling, the 11th September 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 1861T.—M.

READ—

The Statistical Returns of Vaccination in Bengal for the year 1899-1900, with brief notes by the Sanitary Commissioner.

THE returns are two months late, and no explanation of the cause of this delay has been furnished. In future the Sanitary Commissioner must arrange to submit his returns by the prescribed date, viz., the 15th June. The Western Circle was in charge of Assistant Surgeon Gopal Chandra Mukerji throughout the year. The other two circles were practically left without any officer in charge, Captains Clemesha and Hayward having been employed almost entirely on plague work.

2. Strength of the Inspecting and Working Staff.—The following table compares the strength of the supervising and working staff during the last two years:—

	Year.	Inspecting Staff.						Operations.

	Decrease ..	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...

The reorganisation of the Vaccination Department of the Corporation accounts for the increase of one Inspector and decrease of two head vaccinators and two paid vaccinators in Calcutta. The rise in the inspecting staff is attributed to the appointment of three head vaccinators in the Tributary States of Orissa, while the increase in the number of operators is mainly due to the entertainment of a larger number of paid vaccinators in Puri and of licensed vaccinators and apprentices in some of the other districts.

3. Number of operations and average per operator.—The total number of vaccinations performed rose from 2,147,452 to 2,252,521 and the average per operator from 577 to 587. The increase is shared by 20 districts, and was highest in the following:—

District.	Increase.
Mymensingh	26,242
Sonthal Parganas	23,226
Bankura	22,852
Saran	14,689
Ranchi	11,249
Backergunge	9,734

These results reflect credit on the officers concerned. A larger number of operations than in the previous year was also performed in Calcutta and in municipal municipalities and dispensaries. Twenty-one districts show a falling off, the decline being most marked in the following:—

				Decrease.
[illegible]	...	...	...	8,586
[illegible]	...	...	...	6,229
[illegible]	...	...	...	7,904
[illegible]	...	...	...	6,956
Chittagong	...	...	...	6,189
Dinajpur	...	...	...	5,648

The decrease is attributed in most cases to the prevalence of cholera, malarial fever, and plague and to the general unhealthiness of the year. In Jessore it is also due to the difficulty in realising the fees. In some districts the work was retarded by the alarm occasioned by plague.

4. Protection afforded to infants.—Calculating the birth-rate for the province at 50 per mille, the total number of infants under one year available for vaccination was 3,076,043, of whom 619,008, or 201·25 per mille, were successfully vaccinated, against 502,300 in the previous year. The improvement is marked, but we are still very far from affording complete protection to the infant population. As in the previous year, Darjeeling, Ranchi, and Malda show the best results, while Patna, Puri, Shahabad, and Cuttack have very low percentages, which is attributed to the strong opposition to vaccination, especially on infants.

In accordance with the orders of the Government of India, a statement has for the first time been submitted showing the protection afforded to infants in each town in the province. The proportion of successful operations per mille was 443, which is more than double the provincial average. Many towns, however, show disgracefully bad results. This is particularly noticeable in the minor municipalities of the 24-Parganas, especially Basirhat, Baduria, and Taki, in all those of Nadia, in all those of Hooghly except Kotrung, and in all those of Midnapore except Tamluk. Others might be mentioned which are nearly as bad. As the Compulsory Vaccination Act is in force in these towns, there is no excuse for this, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that Magistrates and Civil Surgeons will show more activity in the matter. It is not stated whether the Sanitary Commissioner drew their attention to it from time to time as the monthly returns reached him. If not, it would be well if this were regularly done in future.

5. Primary operations.—There was an increase of 116,699 primary vaccinations during the year 1899-1900 as compared with the previous year. The percentage of successful operations is given as 97·67 as against 97·99. The system of six-puncture vaccination has been generally introduced into the province, and satisfactory results have been obtained in almost every place except Calcutta.

6. Secondary operations.—The number of secondary operations decreased from 60,167 to 48,537, of which 21,345 were performed in rural areas. Dinajpur returns the largest decrease, viz., 11,997, which is stated to be due to the unwillingness of the people to resort to revaccination. That the Sanitary Commissioner should have reproduced this explanation without comment shows that he has not troubled to examine his own figures. The number of revaccinations in Dinajpur since 1893-94 has been as follows:—

1894-95 ...	489	1897-98 ...	23,032
1895-96 ...	849	1898-99 ...	14,205
1899-1900	2,208

These extraordinary fluctuations, if real, would indicate some special cause at work, which should have attracted the Sanitary Commissioner's attention. But probably they mean nothing more than errors of classification. The Sanitary Commissioner is requested to ascertain and report the true facts. Calcutta and mufassal municipalities show an increase of 7,561 and 2,154 respectively. The percentage of successful cases was 49·59 against 87·34.

7. Recess work.—The number of operations performed during the recess chiefly in connection with small-pox epidemics and the upkeep of lymph for emergencies fell from 102,356 to 94,832. This deduction was in rural areas only.

8. Vaccination at the expense of District Boards.—The number of vaccinators employed by the District Boards and paid from District Funds increased from 41 to 87, and the number of persons vaccinated by them from 31,748 to 41,077. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Sanitary Commissioner in thinking that the increase of work done as compared with the number of operators employed is unsatisfactory, and that the attention of the Civil Surgeons should be drawn to this matter. The contributions made by District Boards towards vaccination in rural areas rose from Rs. 3,320 to Rs. 3,623. The largest contributions were made by the District Boards of Chittagong (Rs. 963) and Puri (Rs. 831). A comparison of the work done by the Licensed, Government, District Board and Municipal agencies shows an increase in the number of operations performed by all these agencies.

9. Cost of vaccination.—The total cost of vaccination during the year was Rs. 1,84,111 against Rs. 1,73,875 in 1898-99, the average cost of each reported successful vaccination being the same as in the previous year, viz., 1 anna and 1 pies.

10. Death-rate from small-pox.—The diagram attached to the report illustrates the death-rate from small-pox in each district as compared with the proportion of population protected by vaccination. The total number of deaths from small-pox during the year was 14,514, giving a ratio of ·19 per thousand of the population against 13,044 and a ratio of ·17 in 1898-99. The following districts which had the highest mortality from small-pox show a very low ratio of population protected.—

District	Protected per 10,000.	Death-rate from small-pox per 10,000.
Puri . . .	1,700	37
Cuttack . . .	1,200	30
Balasore . . .	3,000	5
Calcutta . . .	1,500	4

Darjeeling with 6,200 persons protected per 10,000 of population had 15 deaths; the lowest number of deaths from small-pox is reported from Tippera, where only one person is said to have died of the disease.

11. Method of vaccination.—The number of operations performed direct from the calf shows an increase of 35,000 primary vaccinations and a decrease of over 11,000 revaccinations as compared with the figures of the preceding year. This increase is noticeable in the districts of Midnapore, Murshidabad, Mymensingh, and the Santhal Parganas. The cause of the slow progress in calf vaccination in some districts is attributed to difficulty in procuring calves.

12. Supply of lanoline lymph to Nepal.—Seven hundred and seventy-six grains of lanoline vaccine paste were supplied to the Nepal Durbar. Only one return showing the result of operations performed with the lymph was received, and it was found that 70 cases proved successful and 9 were failures. Four hundred and five grains of lymph were also supplied to the Sikkim State, where during the last epidemic of small-pox vaccination was carried on with success.

13. Inspections.—The Deputy Sanitary Commissioners could not as usual do any inspection work, as two of them were employed on plague work and the third on inspecting the health condition of the riparian municipalities north of Calcutta. Assistant Surgeon Gopal Chandra Mukherji, who was in charge of the Western Bengal Circle throughout the year, visited 508 villages and inspected 12,592 operations. The Civil Surgeons showed greater activity in this respect than in the preceding year. The Civil Surgeons of Bankura, Muzaffarpur, Backergunge, and Champaran, who stood low in the last year's list, now occupied the first four places. In no less than 21 districts the number of villages visited was under 100, while in Cuttack and Murshidabad the numbers fell as low as 11 and 8 respectively, a result which is hardly creditable to the officers concerned. The percentage of inspections performed by Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors shows an improvement on previous years, falling in very few cases below the prescribed standard of 30 and 50 per cent., respectively.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 13th September 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 1260T. - F.

The Report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1899-1900.

The Report of the previous year and the Government Resolution thereon.

No change of importance was made in the tariff during the year under review. It marked, however, the coming into force of the orders issued at the close of the preceding year imposing countervailing duties on bounty-fed sugar. Certain changes were made in the rates of these duties during the year. All power machinery, irrespective of the use for which it was designed, was exempted from duty during the year, but so many exemptions for specified industries had previously been made, that the effect of the change on revenue was trifling. Basic slag was exempted from duty, and the duty on certain classes of steel imports was reduced from 5 to 1 per cent.

2. The following statement compares the gross and net customs duty collected during the last five years:—

The total net duty collected during the year rose from Rs. 3,98,13,193 in 1898-99 to Rs. 4,18,88,726, showing an increase of Rs. 20,75,533, or 5 per cent. The import duty on general merchandise increased by Rs. 12,40,531 and that on salt by Rs 9,85,723. There was a decrease of Rs. 1,50,721 under export duty. The charges for the year, inclusive of refunds and drawbacks, amounted to Rs. 14,23,497 against Rs. 13,36,370 in the previous year. The total net receipts, including receipts other than duty, improved from Rs. 3,93,02,058 to Rs. 4,13,92,207 in the year under review, showing an increase of Rs. 20,90,149 or 5 per cent.

In import duty there was an increase under every head, except Arms and Ammunition (Rs. 19,776), Provisions (Rs. 1,679) and Metals (Rs. 66,308), the increase being most marked under cotton goods (Rs. 4,14,141), bullion (Rs. 3,26,329), woollen goods (Rs 1,57,916), and oil (Rs. 1,37,487).

4. The value of Trade.—The following table shows the value of the import and export trade of the province, both foreign and coasting, in the past two years under the three main heads of Merchandise, Treasure, and Government Transactions:—

The total net value of the foreign import trade in merchandise showed an increase of Rs. 1,80,98,404, or 6 per cent. The increase occurred mainly in dutiable merchandise. Owing to heavy importations of gold from Australia, Ceylon, and Cape Colony, and of silver from the United Kingdom, there was an increase of Rs. 1,98,35,573, or 54 per cent., in the imports of treasure. The value of stores imported on behalf of Government rose from Rs. 1,80,77,447 in the previous year to Rs. 2,55,21,289, showing an increase of Rs. 74,43,842, or 41 per cent. This increase is ascribed to heavy receipts of railway material, in which, owing to the rise in prices in England, the receipts during the previous year had been smaller than usual. The total value of the foreign export trade in Indian produce shows an increase of Rs. 4,31,21,824, or 9 per cent. The improvement was exclusively in free goods, owing to heavy shipments of hides, raw jute, tea, and opium. Owing to restricted shipments of silver to Ceylon and Mauritius, the exports of treasure fell by Rs. 36,37,121, or 47 per cent. The value of exports of Government stores shows an increase of Rs. 2,73,037, due to extensive shipments of apparel, arms and ammunition, and copper. As in previous years, there were no exports of treasure on account of Government. In the coasting trade there was a decline of 5 per cent. in the value of imports of merchandise, while the value of exports of merchandise improved by 14 per cent. owing to the demand for grain for the famine-stricken districts of Western India. Including Government transactions, the total value of the trade of the province stood at Rs. 1,05,89,94,754 against Rs. 95,10,54,241 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 10,79,40,513, or 11 per cent.

5. Trade of Calcutta with foreign countries.—The following table shows the total value of the foreign trade of Calcutta with the several countries with which commercial transactions were maintained and the proportion in which it was divided between them during the past five years :—

The value of the United Kingdom is still more than half that of the total foreign trade of the port. During the year under review it increased in value by 7·59 per cent., and was greater than it has ever been except in 1896-97; but owing to the still larger increase in the total trade, its proportion to the remainder fell to the lowest figure ever recorded. The increase in value occurred in both imports and exports. The increase under the former head is chiefly due to the larger imports of cotton goods, railway carriages and trucks, metals, machinery for jute, tea, paper and wool mills and steam-engines, woollen goods and hardware. There was a decided advance in exports of tea, raw jute, raw silk, rice, pulse, lac and jute manufactures, while wheat, linseed and indigo show on the other hand a considerable falling off. The United States have once more passed Germany, and occupy the second place in the list. The total value of trade with the United States, in pite of a large decline in the imports of mineral oil, is the largest ever recorded, and has increased since the previous year by 31·1 per cent. It has been stimulated by the establishment of a direct line of steamers. Exports of hides and raw jute have risen enormously, and tea shows an increase of 4½ lakhs. The trade with Germany shows a slight advance of ·7 per cent. during the past year. The noticeable feature in the imports from Germany is the great falling off in the value of imports of German sugar. This trade, which had already been seriously affected by Austrian competition, has, since the imposition of the countervailing duties, suddenly become almost extinct. The advance in exports from Calcutta to Germany of raw jute and the fall in exports of jute manufactures seem to indicate that the jute-manufacturing industry in Germany is developing, and that she is able more largely to supply her own requirements. As in the previous year, China occupies the fourth place, her share in the trade being 5·78 against 5·86 per cent. in the previous year. The total value of trade, however, shows a considerable advance (8·9 per cent.) on the total value of the previous year's trade. The value of opium despatched to China stood at Rs. 2,99,67,525 against Rs. 2,55,47,785 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs. 44,19,740. The most remarkable feature of the China trade is an increase of eight lakhs in the value of imported sugar. The Straits Settlements come next, and have changed places with Ceylon. The total value of the trade with the Straits shows an increase of 10·3 per cent. during the year, and is the highest ever recorded. It should be borne in mind, however, that statistics of trade with the Straits are deceptive, and that much of it is due to the fact that Singapore is an important port of transhipment. The value of trade with Ceylon was slightly higher than that of the previous year, showing an increase of ·9 per cent. The increase was in imports, and was entirely due to larger importations of treasure, which consisted mostly of Australian gold transhipped at Colombo. The increase of 27·3 per cent. in the trade with Australia is attributable mainly to the larger importation of treasure and to the increased shipments from Calcutta of jute manufactures and of Indian tea. The most noticeable feature of the trade with Australia was the importation into Calcutta, for the first time, of a considerable amount of wheat. The trade with France increased by 46 per cent. This is due to the demand for raw jute for France, created by the recent establishment of a jute factory at Marseilles, and to an increase in the exports of hides and skins, linseed, raw silk and indigo. Imports direct from France are not important and consist chiefly of articles of luxury. The increase of 6·2 per cent. in the total value of the trade with Austria-Hungary, in spite of a falling off of 12¼ lakhs in the value of sugar imported from that country, is accounted for mainly by the larger shipments of raw jute and raw hides. The trade with Belgium fell off by 10·2 per cent. owing principally to the smaller receipts of metals and to a fall of 11 lakhs in the exports of rapeseed. There was, however, an increase of 6½ lakhs in exports of Indian wheat. The trade with Italy increased by 25·2 per cent., owing chiefly to an increase in the value of cotton goods imported from that country. The exports of Indian produce to Italy also increased. The falling off of 29 per cent. in the Mauritius trade is attributed to the smaller exports of treasure, grain and pulse, and to the diminution in the value of sugar imported from that country.

6. Shipping in Calcutta.—The proportion which the trade of Calcutta carried through the Suez Canal during the year under review bore to its tota foreign trade was 74·3 per cent. against 72·6 per cent. in the previous year.

The table below compares the shipping for foreign ports entering inwards and clearing outwards and their aggregate tonnage in the past two years:—

		1898-99.		1899-1900.
		Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage.

Native craft	...	18	2,757	14	1,993
Total	...	1,072	2,270,831	1,012	2,262,946

This table excludes all that portion of foreign trade which calls on its way at any Indian port, and is not intended to represent the total foreign trade of Calcutta.

It will be seen that there was a decrease of two steam vessels, 54 sailing vessels, and four native vessels, representing a falling off of 7,885 in tonnage.

7. Imports into Calcutta.—The total value of imports, including treasure, but excluding Government transactions, into Calcutta from foreign countries rose from Rs. 31,46,65,272 to Rs. 35,26,69,224, showing an increase of Rs. 3,80,03,952, or 12·1 per cent. The increase occurred under both Treasure (Rs. 1 98,85,573, or 54·7 per cent.) and Merchandise (Rs. 1,81,68,379, or 6·5 per cent.). The total values of the principal articles of merchandise imported into the port during the last two years are shown below:—

	1898-99.	1899-1900.
	Rs.	Rs.
Cotton goods	18,76,60,884	15,05,27,811
Twist and yarn	74,84,700	67,41,137
Metals	2,23,55,071	2,32,09,951
Mineral oil	1,61,90,957	1,75,33,055
Machinery (excluding railway plant)	99,90,071	96,97,528
Sugar	1,06,49,885	81,23,337
Woollen goods	53,03,524	73,93,728
Hardware and cutlery ...	47,81,677	56,55,034
Salt	51,80,519	52,91,562
Liquor	48,10,527	46,17,271

The total imports of cotton goods, including twist and yarn, exceeded those of the year 1898-99 by about 121 lakhs of rupees, or 8 per cent. The marked fall in the value of imports under twist and yarn is attributed chiefly to over-supplies in 1897-98, and partly to the larger shipments of cheap cloth to India, due to the low prices of American cotton. As regards the increase under cotton goods, the Collector of Customs writes:—

"The leading factors which contributed to this satisfactory result were cheap cotton and a stable exchange. As was anticipated last year, the Lancashire industry has shown profitable results, it being well known that the majority of manufacturers took advantage of the price at which the raw material ruled at the close of 1898 to book a large and satisfactory business for shipments extending over 1899 on orders transmitted from Calcutta. One result of these increasingly large orders, however, has been overbooking in Lancashire, followed by delayed shipments, which has formed the subject of a joint remonstrance from the Indian Chambers of Commerce. At the close of 1899 the famine, which rapidly developed in the interior, suddenly shut off outlets for consumption, and it is not surprising that excessive stocks are being indicated. This is likely to seriously affect the trade in 1900-1901. It may be remarked that the importation of American piece-goods fell off by 69·5 per cent.; but the trade in these is comparatively insignificant."

The increase of 3·8 per cent. in the value of metals in spite of a decrease of 2·3 in quantity is ascribed to the very high prices which prevailed in England on account of scarcity of raw material and dearness of coal. There was an increase of 6·3 per cent. in quantity and 8·2 per cent. in value of imports of mineral oil as compared with the previous year. This was mainly due to the re-appearance in the market, after an interval of two years, of Russian oil from Novorussick, and to larger importations from Batoum and the countries grouped as "Other countries." Oil from Sumatra has now altogether disappeared, the wells that were working there having been exhausted. Machinery and mill-work fell off by 2·9 per cent. in value, the decrease being ascribed to the absence of demand for new machinery, although the imports of steam engines and boilers advanced considerably. Although importations of cotton-mill machinery show a decrease, the paper and flour industries, which had stood still for some time, are now showing signs of activity, imports of this machinery having increased by 163·6 and 230 per cent., respectively. The imports of sugar show a decrease of 24·1 per cent. in quantity. The imposition of countervailing duties on bounty-fed sugar appears to have stimulated the shipment of sugar from China, Java, and Ceylon, against a corresponding decrease in the imports from Austria, Germany, and Belgium. There was also a decline in the imports from Mauritius. In woollen goods there was a further improvement of 39·4 per cent. in the value of the importations in the past year as compared with the previous year. The Collector of Customs observes that the wool production of the world during the current year is expected to be less than last year, with a consequent tendency to a rise in price of the manufactured articles. The importations of hardware and cutlery increased by 18 per cent. in value owing to a general rise in prices of metals. The imports of salt show an increase of 4·97 per cent. against a falling off of 13·9 per cent. in the previous year.

The decrease of 9·4 per cent. in the importation of ale, beer, and porter is ascribed to the withdrawal of troops from India to South Africa. Imports of spirits and liqueurs show a decrease of 3·2 per cent, due almost entirely to a decrease in methylated spirits. The Collector of Customs notices the flourishing condition of the import trade in German white spirit, intended for the concoction of spurious brandy and whisky. The total importation of wine has fallen from 109,715 gallons in 1898-99 to 103,389 gallons, showing a decrease of 5·8 per cent. Amongst other imports, apparel improved by 18·7 per cent., drugs and medicines by 5·1 per cent., agricultural implements by 12·5 per cent., and umbrellas by 13·4 per cent. in value, while matches declined by 7·3 per cent. The increase in apparel is ascribed to the growing demand for cheap hosiery and clothing, and that in agricultural implements to high prices of metal and to demands from the famine districts. The decline in matches is attributed to the surplus stocks from the preceding year.

8. Exports from Calcutta.—The total value of exports from Calcutta to foreign countries, including treasure, but excluding Government transactions, rose from Rs. 45,73,81,087 to Rs. 49,97,51,196, showing an increase of Rs. 4,23,70,109. The value of the trade in the principal exports in 1898-99 and 1899-1900 is compared in the table below:—

	1898-99.	1899-1900.
	Rs.	Rs.

Silk, raw	44,30,413	67,75,493
Raw cotton	67,69,890	50,51,459

The exports of tea increased by nearly 18½ million pounds, or 12·3 per cent. The greater portion of this increase went to the United Kingdom, but the most noticeable feature in the tea trade is an increase of 94·3 per cent. in exports to the United States, and of 85·1 in exports to Canada. The production of the last year has even surpassed that of the previous year, which was said to have been the largest on record. As in the previous year, the teas of the past year were mostly of common grades, for which there was a brisk demand; and the average price stood at 8 annas 3 pies per pound for the year against 8 annas 1 pie in 1898-99. The consumption of Ceylon tea in the United Kingdom, which was suddenly checked in the previous year, has nearly been recovered in the past year. The volume of the export trade in raw jute was almost the same as in the preceding year, but there was a rise of 19·2 per cent. in its value. Smaller shipments were made to the United Kingdom, Germany, Spain, China, Australia, and Japan, while the United States, France, Austria-Hungary, and Italy took larger supplies. In jute gunny-bags there was a falling off of 7·3 per cent. in number, but the value increased by 3·3 per cent. On the other hand, the export trade in gunny cloth increased considerably. The export of raw hides increased by 49·7 per cent. in quantity owing to great mortality among Indian cattle from drought, to the shortness of supplies from other countries, and to the large demand for leather for military purposes in South Africa. There was also an increase of 80·6 per cent. in raw skins, due to larger supplies to the United States. In the total exports of opium there was an increase of 3 per cent., due to larger shipments to all the countries except Cochin-China, Java, and the Philippines. In oilseeds there was a falling off of 7·5 per cent. in quantity. Among these, linseed, which forms the great bulk of the oilseed trade, shows a decline of 4·1 per cent. owing to restricted shipments to all the principal importing countries, except France and Egypt. Rapeseed fell off by 39·7 per cent., owing to the smaller demand for rape oil, while poppy and til, the other seeds exported, advanced by 5·3 per cent. and 131·8 per cent., respectively. In spite of the prevalence of famine, the shipments of rice and paddy to foreign ports were larger than in any year of the decade except 1898-99, and were only 5·5 less than in that year. The exports of indigo were the lowest recorded during the decade. The decrease amounted to 27·7 per cent., and was shared by all the importing countries, except France, Japan, and China. The average price, however, advanced from Rs. 168 to Rs. 203 per maund, so that the falling off in value was only 12·5 per cent. The Collector of Customs observes—

"The change which has come over the industry is illustrated by the fact that in that year (1892-93) the shortness of the crop resulted in the average price per maund being raised to Rs. 310, by far the highest in the decade, whereas in 1899-1900 the price was only Rs. 203. The production of Bengal and the North-Western Provinces in 1899 was estimated to be 38·3 per cent. less than in 1898 and 41·6 per cent. less than the quinquennial average."

The exports of shellac increased by 33·8 per cent., and were the largest for the decade. The shipments of wheat fell off by 31 per cent. owing to the heavy fall in the price of the article in the European markets, and the increased shipments from the Argentine and Australia. The quantity was, nevertheless, much larger than in any of the five years preceding 1898-99. The exports of raw silk increased by 23·5 per cent., and were higher than those of any other year in the decade. The total exports of raw cotton were 28·2 per cent. less than those of the previous year on account of the short crop in India and a reduction in the price of the American product, but this fall was accompanied by larger shipments of cotton twist and yarn.

9. Treasure.—There was an increase of 81·4 per cent. in the value of the net imports of gold and silver into Calcutta. The importation of gold increased by 58·5 per cent. and that of silver by 182·2 per cent. The exports of gold were, as usual, nominal, and there was a decrease of 47·2 per cent. in the exports of silver, owing principally to the cessation of exports to Mauritius.

10. Subordinate ports.—The total value of the foreign trade of the port of Chittagong fell from Rs. 68,25,931 to Rs. 65,41,245, showing a decline of Rs. 2,84,686, or 4·1 per cent. This too place both in imports (7·7 per cent.) and exports (3·5 per cent.), and is attributable chiefly to smaller receipts of salt from the United Kingdom, to the smaller import of kerosine oil from America, and to short shipments of raw jute to the United Kingdom and Hamburg. The imports of railway material were, however, large, and, owing to good harvests and the facilities of transport afforded by the new Assam-Bengal Railway, there was a considerable advance in the exports of rice. The imports of liquors from foreign and Indian ports fell off by 64 and 31 per cent., respectively. In the coasting trade the imports increased owing to heavy importations of Rangoon kerosine oil, while the larger shipments of country goods, viz., rice and paddy, principally to Bombay and Cochin, and raw cotton, chiefly to Narayanganj and Calcutta, caused a rise in the value of the exports.

There was a large falling off in the total value of the trade, both foreign and coasting, at the Orissa ports. The decrease was common to all three ports, and is said to have been due chiefly to the opening of new railway communication in Orissa, and to the removal by rail of large quantities of rice to the famine-stricken districts in the Central Provinces. The net amount of customs duty, inclusive of the duty on imported salt collected at the Orissa ports, fell from Rs. 6,02,704 to Rs. 3,13,734, showing a decrease of Rs. 2,88,970, or 47·9 per cent. The decline is chiefly attributed to smaller collections made on account of export duty at all the ports and import duty on salt at the port of Balasore.

The trade of Narayanganj, which is carried on with coast ports only, shows an increase of Rs. 5,15,297, or 11 per cent., and is the combined result of an increase of Rs. 6,44,502, or 15·5 per cent., in exports, and a decrease of Rs. 1,29,205, or 32·1 per cent., in imports. As in previous years, salt was the only dutiable article imported into this port, and the duty on it rose from Rs. 9,89,103 to Rs. 10,07,246. The imports of kerosine oil were less by 25 per cent. than in the previous year, in which the imports were heavy. The exports of rice and paddy were nearly the same as in the previous year. In the past year steamers appeared for the first time in the sea-borne trade of Narayanganj, and the natural consequence was a reduction in the sailing craft.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are again due to the Board of Revenue and the Collector of Customs for their supervision of the department during the year and for the present very interesting report. The names of the officers who have been favourably mentioned by the Board will be communicated to the Appointment Department of this Government.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PORT OFFICER, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

No. 1822 Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, 18th September 1900.

READ—

Letter No 2508, dated 23rd July 1900, from the Port Officer, Calcutta, submitting his Annual Report for 1899-1900.

THE Department was presided over by Commander P. J. Falle, R.I.M., until the 20th January 1900, when he went on a year's furlough, making over charge of the Department to Commander E. J. Beaumont, R.I.M.

2. The sanction of the Government of India was received during the year to the revival of the appointment of Assistant Port Officer and to the amalgamation of the post with that of the Deputy Shipping Master. Mr. H. Lindquist, Deputy Shipping Master, having retired from service on the 15th January 1900, Lieutenant W. B. Huddleston, R.I.M., was appointed to the combined post.

3. The sanctioned strength of the Pilot Service was 60, but it had been determined, in 1893, to reduce this number, gradually and automatically, to 50. The strength was reduced to this number at the end of 1898-99, but the number was increased by one during the year under review. In February 1900, a resolution was issued reducing the sanctioned strength to 50, with effect from the 8th April 1900. It was, however, expressly provided that an increase might be made, if, as seems probable, that number proves insufficient to provide, efficiently, for the service of the Port.

4. The strength of the Leadsmen Apprentices remains at 11. During the year, three Leadsmen received promotions to Mate Pilots, and their places were taken by two Apprentices appointed from England and one appointed locally.

5. The employment of the Pilots is shown in the following table:—

	Average number at work throughout the year.		Average number of vessels piloted each month.
	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899 1900.	1898 99.
Branch Pilots ...	11·54	11·3	7·85	7·47
Senior Master Pilots ...	9·65	11·02	5 92	5·79
Junior Master Pilots ...	5 89	6·12	4·45	4·43
Mate Pilots ...	6·93	7·98	3 66	3 31

From this it is observed that the number of vessels piloted by each class of Pilots shows an increase, which is due, mainly, to the smaller number of Pilots on the running list. This has had the effect of largely increasing their emoluments, and their more frequent employment must also tend to improve their efficiency.

6. The following table shows the number of arrivals and departures of vessels during the past three years:—

	Year.	Arrivals.	Departures.	Average tonnage.
	1	2	3	4
Steamers ...	1897-98 ...	1,102	1,097	2,995
	1898-99 ..	1,102	1,116	3,111
	1899-1900 ...	1,127	1,123	3,186
Sailing vessels ...	1897-98 ...	133	126	1,866
	1898-99 ...	105	107	1,757
	1899-1900 ..	73	81	1,834

This shows that, while there was an increase in the number of steamers visiting the port, there was a greater falling off in the number of sailing vessels. The number of the latter is steadily decreasing year by year.

7. Although the number of vessels visiting the port during the year shows a decline, the number of vessels delayed at the Sandheads for want of Pilots has, it appears from report by the Port Officer, risen from 5 in 1898-99 to 21 during the year under review. Of this number, 17 occurred in the months of December 1899 and January 1900. This was due to the number of vessels being much in excess of the average and the number of available pilots being temporarily reduced owing to exceptional causes. This state of affairs is not in the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor satisfactory. The Port Officer might have foreseen the possibility of such a large number of vessels arriving in port during the months in question and have taken steps to restrict the grant of leave to pilots except on medical certificate.

8. The following statement shows the number of vessels drawing over 21 feet piloted inwards and outwards during the last two years:—

	Year.	21-22 feet.		22-23 feet		23-24 feet.		24-25 feet.		25-26 feet		26-27 feet.		Total.
		Inward.	Outward.	Inward	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.	Inward	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15
Steamers	1898-99	37	86	23	114	86	121	23	178	4	126		21	159	658
	1899-1900	41	81	42	130	64	135	30	173	7	100		9	173	674
Sailing vessels	1898-99	25	15	16	25	7	7	2	1					52	58
	1899-1900	13	17	14	11	7	7		1			.	.	33	36

Compared with the previous year, there has been an increase in steamers both inwards and outwards, while under sailing ships there has been a decrease.

9. Seven vessels were neaped during the year, against one during the previous year. Of these seven, four were detained because they were too deeply laden to come up the river on their arrival, and three were detained because the Agents had not ascertained to what depth their vessels could be loaded with reference to the depth of water in the river.

10. There were 18 groundings and 8 collisions during the year, against 27 and 4, respectively, during 1898-99. Of the groundings, 7 were accidental or slight, and 4 due to alteration of channel. The remaining 7 were due to imprudence or negligence of Pilots. In the case of the collisions, one vessel, the S.S. Resolute, was sunk, and in 5 others damage was caused. The percentage of casualties to vessels was 1·08, against 1·27 and 1·66 in the two previous years. This record continues to be satisfactory.

11. Thirty preliminary enquiries into casualties to vessels were held by the Port Officer during the year, of which four were referred to Departmental Courts of Enquiry and two to Special Courts of Enquiry under Act V of 1883. Of the four cases referred to Departmental Courts, the Pilots in two cases were found to blame, and they were warned and censured. In other two cases the same Pilot was concerned, and he was found guilty of carelessness in one case; in the other, no conclusion was reached owing to the absence of witnesses.

A fifth Departmental Enquiry was held into the conduct of a Pilot who was charged with drunkenness. The Court found that he was suffering from the effects of alcohol, and he was severely reprimanded and warned that serious notice would be taken of a recurrence of such conduct.

12. Of the two enquiries by the Special Court one had reference to the loss of the Port Commissioners' despatch vessel Resolute by collision with the S.S. Scindia off Diamond Harbour. Owing to a misunderstanding of the signals each vessel starboarded and though every effort was made to avert an accident, the Scindia struck the Resolute, sinking her in a few minutes. The Special Court was of opinion that the accident was due to the want of skill and care of the Pilot of the Scindia, who was accordingly tried for this offence under Act XII of 1859. At this latter trial, however, the jury found him 'not guilty,' and he was acquitted.

13. The other case of enquiry by a Special Court was one of collision, and the Ship-master was found guilty of an error of judgment, but the Court did not consider it necessary to award any punishment. A third enquiry was held to ascertain the cause of an accident by which Mr. C. S. Bonnaud, 4th Engineer, S.S. Hyson (Arratoon Apcar), lost his life at Hongkong on or about the 15th July 1899. The Court came to the opinion that the death was due to an accident.

14. In the review of the report for last year it was stated that rules had been framed for the protection of inland vessels from collisions, and that they were then under the consideration of the Government of India. Several objections were raised to the rules as then framed, and a Committee was appointed by this Government to revise and simplify them. Revised rules were then framed, and after being published for criticism, they have been submitted to the Government of India for sanction.

15. The S.S. Guide made 28 trips during the year, 19 of these being for the purpose of towing pilot brigs and light ships to and from their station, and supplying them with stores, water and provisions.

16. The receipts and expenditure on account of pilotage for the last three years are shewn below :—

	Receipts.	Expenditure.
	Rs.	Rs.
1897-98 ...	10,45,081	8,51,887
1898-99 .	10,33,642	8,23,055
1899-1900 ..	9,91,316	8,21,682

17. The number of certificates of each class granted to Masters, Mates, Engineers and Engine-drivers after examination in Calcutta is shewn in the following table : -

18. The duties of the First Engineer and Shipwright Surveyor were conducted by Mr. G. Robertson throughout the year, assisted by Mr. E G. Venn, as Second Engineer, up to the 25th July 1899 and from 26th September 1899 to the close of the year. During the interval, Mr. Venn was on privilege leave, his duties being performed by Mr. T. W. Fish, Lloyd's Surveyor.

19. The gross receipts from fees collected for surveys during the year amounted to Rs. 34,821, and the expenditure, including travelling allowances of the Surveyors to outstations, amounted to Rs. 29,271.

DISSOLUTION OF THE BENGAL PLAGUE COMMISSION.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 17th September 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 564T.—P.

READ again—

Resolution No. 937T.—M., dated the 10th October 1896, and Plague Regulation No. 9, dated the 10th November 1897.

WHEN in 1896 apprehensions of the spread of plague to Calcutta were first aroused, it was decided to constitute a Medical Board, composed of both official and non-official gentlemen, for the purpose of assisting Government in determining the action to be taken by all executive authorities, whether official or municipal, with the object of preventing and checking plague throughout Bengal. No special law regarding plague was at that time in force, and no experience had been gained of the administration of plague in India. The Board laid down the principles which have since been generally accepted and acted on, and served as a useful and expeditious means of communication between the Government and various sections of the public.

Subsequently, the Board was reconstituted as the Bengal Plague Commission, its numbers being added to and its duties increased and more closely defined. The Commission continued the work of its predecessor, which was, until the main principles of plague administration came to be settled, of a varied and arduous nature. As experience accumulated, the occasion for active intervention by the Commission became gradually less frequent till in the end its duties came to be little more than nominal. Now that the principles to be observed have been finally settled by the recently published report of the Indian Plague Commission and by the Resolution recorded on it by the Government of India, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that the work of the Bengal Plague Commission may be held to have been accomplished, and that the Commission may now be dissolved.

In dissolving the Commission the Lieutenant-Governor desires to cordially thank the gentlemen who have served on it for the services they have rendered to the public and to Government in securing the confidence of the people in the measures which have been adopted from time to time and in advising Government and the local authorities.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be communicated to the President and Members of the Plague Commission and circulated to Commissioners of Divisions and to District Officers, and that it be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Palamau.—Rainfall 1·03. Weather seasonable. Prospects of standing crops favourable. Bhadoi harvesting has commenced. Prices at Sadar are—Rice 10 seers, sawan rice and makai 20½ seers, gram 11¼ seers, wheat 9½ seers per rupee.

Manbhum.—Rainfall at Sadar 0·33, Gobindpur 0·27. Ordinary monsoon weather. Winter rice thriving. More rain wanted in south-east of district. Cattle-disease reported from thanas Manbazar, Gurandi, and Chas. Fodder and water sufficient. Average price of common rice at Sadar 11 seers 6 chitaks and at Gobindpur 10 seers per rupee. Supply sufficient.

Singhbhum.—Rain 2·95. Weather showery. Prospects are generally good. Price of rice shows a tendency to fall everywhere. Average price of rice is 12 seers 12 chitaks in the district; at Chaibassa 12 seers.

General Summary.—General rain has fallen during the week, but it has been for the most part light and moderate. In the north of the Province some heavy falls are reported. More rain is still wanted for the winter rice crop in some parts of Bihar and of Western, Central, and Eastern Bengal. The autumn crops are being harvested, and their prospects are generally good. In Balasore only slight damage is reported to have been done by floods to the crops on low lands. Fodder is generally sufficient. Cases of cattle-disease continue to be reported from some districts. The price of rice is reported to have fallen in 23 districts and risen in 8; it is stationary in the rest.

Notice under Rule 19, Part III, of the Revised Rules for the grant of leases of waste lands in Saugor Island.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lease of the land specified in the Schedule hereunto annexed, and of which the plan is open to inspection at the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, has been applied for by Upendra Nath Ghashmal, and will be sold at 12 o'clock noon on the 7th December 1900, Friday, the 22nd Agrahayan 1307 B.S., at the Sundarbans Commissioner's office at Alipore, unless meantime the sale is stopped or postponed in consequence of claims or objections under Act XXIII of 1863 (to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands), or owing to any other cause.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general terms annexed to the revised rules for the sale of leases of waste lands in Saugor Island, under Bengal Government Notification No. 13/7L.R., dated 29th March 1897:—

Conditions.

That the land shall be subject to all existing rights of way and water and other easements.

That the right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable, and of fishing in the same, shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of land for towpaths, not less than 25 feet in width, on each side of every such stream and channel.

That no charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land; but for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied at such rate and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by Government.

That the Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals in, under, or on the land, together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting and carrying away such minerals. It also retains its proprietary right in the land, and only confers on the lessee an occupancy right, which shall be hereditary and transferable.

Notice.

THE mineral rights in the undermentioned three groups of villages in pargana Chaurasi, district Manbhum, belong to the Panchet Estate, which is at present in charge of the Deputy Commissioner of Manbhum, under the provisions of the Encumbered Estates Act, VI of 1876. The villages are situated to the east of the Panchet Hill, on the right bank of the Damudar river, close to its confluence with the Barakar river, and nearly opposite to the site of the well-known Sanctoria coal-field. A survey for a proposed branch Railway line from Murulia to Chhatatand was made in 1898 passing through some of these villages.

Applications are invited for exploring and prospecting licenses for coal and for coal-mining leases in each of the undermentioned groups. Intending applicants are requested to refer to the latest Government rules on the subject of licenses and leases for coal in Government estates, to the provisions of which the applications should conform, so far as may be practicable. Applications should be addressed, on or before the 1st November 1900, to A. T. The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1899 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the reports from 1876:—

NOTICE TO MARINERS—No. 240.

[First Publication.]

AUSTRALIA—Torres strait—Inner route.

Discoloured water between Percy and High Peak islands.

The Port Master, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 14 of 1900) that on the 11th August discoloured water was observed between the South-east Islet, Percy Group, and High Peak Island, extending in a West North-west and East South-east direction for about a mile and in a North North-east and South South-west direction for about half-a-mile.

A line drawn from the North-east extreme of the South-east Islet to High Peak Island passes over the discoloured water, from which

High Peak bears South 60° East;
South-east Islet, Northern extremity, bears North 60° West; Steep Island bears South 4° West.

The locality will be examined at an early date.

AUSTRALIA, EAST COAST—COOKS PASSAGE.

Shoal in approach reported.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 511 of 1900) that the Master of the schooner Griffin reports that his vessel when about 4 miles north-eastward of Cooks passage passed within 50 yards of a shoal patch about 70 yards long and 30 yards broad. The shoal did not appear to have more than a depth of 4 to 5 fathoms over it, but there was no sign of any break.

The bearings taken place this shoal in lat. 14° 28′ 20″ S., long. 145° 36′ 0″ E.

NOTE.—As no soundings were obtained, it seems not impossible that this shoal appearance might have been caused by marine animalculæ. (Notice No. 511 of 1900.)

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 513 of 1900) of the existence of the undermentioned rocks between Gogo sima and the main land :—

1. A rock with a depth of 2½ fathoms over it, situated with Take sima, Horiyé Bay, bearing N. 81° E., distant 9¾ cables, and Skumo sima S. 10° E.
2. A rock named Kyonoishi, with a least depth of 2¾ fathoms over it, situated with Si Sima bearing N. 42° E., distant 9¼ cables, and south point of Gogo Sima N. 71° W.
3. A rock named Taka yama ishi, with a least depth over it of 3• fathoms, situated with Si Sima bearing N. 34° E , distant 9 cables, and south point of Gogo Sima N. 70° W.

   The above two rocks (2) and (3) form part of the Yokomakura bank, which is long and irregular in shape and has depths over it of from 3½ to 4¼ fathoms. Approximate position, lat. 33° 52′ N., long. 132° 41′ E.
4. A sandy patch of small extent, on which there is a depth of ¼ fathom, situated on the edge of the shoal bank, southward of Mitsuga Hama with Mitsuga Hama light bearing N. 30° E., distant nearly 6 cables, and south point of Gogo Sima No. 61° W.
5. A rock southward of Nokutsu Sima, with a depth of 1½ fathoms on it, situated with the east summit of Nokutsuma (Nobotsuna) bearing N. 12° E., distant 4¼ cables. (Notice No. 513 of 1900.)

Position, lat. 33° 57′ 50″ N., long. 132° 41′ 20″ E.

AUSTRALIA—South channel, Port Curtis.

Exhibition lights, and changed position of Gatcombe head light.

With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 200, dated the 11th August 1900, issued by this Office, the Port Master, Brisbane, has given further notice (No. 13 of 1900) that, on and after the 8th August, the South Channel into Port Curtis will be lighted for navigation by night, and the light from Gatcombe Head will be exhibited from the new tower erected 450 feet N. by E. from the old structure.

A description of the new lights has already been given in Notice No. 11, and the directions for their use are as follow:—

South Channel.

By Day.—Vessels bound into the Port of Gladstone, and using the South Channel by day, will bring the leading light beacons, near the Boyne River, in line S. 75° W. before the Jenny Lind bank buoy is reached; continue with them in line until South Trees Point comes in line with Scrubby Mountain N.W. by W. ½ W., then haul up for these marks, keeping them in line, and passing two red buoys on the starboard hand, until abreast of the floating lightboat (at the main entrance of the North Channel), then steer N. 55° W. until abreast of the Black Beacon (marking the limit of the shoal water E.S.E. from South Trees Point), then change course to N. 79° W., passing South Trees Point at a distance of about three cables, and two red buoys on the starboard hand; after the second red buoy is passed (marking the Rich Rock) haul down for the Jetty.

By Night.—Vessels entering the South Channel at night will get on the line of leading lights near the Boyne River before Bustard Head Light bears E.S.E. With the leading lights in line bearing S. 75° W. stand in until the leading lights on Gatcombe Head come into line bearing N. 55° W., when follow these leads until East Point Light is obscured; or until the main light on Gatcombe Head opens out. Then steer N. 69° W. to pass about two cables to the westward of the lightboat marking the inner entrance of North Channel; after passing the lightboat proceed as in directions given for North Channel at night.

NORTH CHANNEL.

By Day.—Same as at present.

By Night.—Bring Gatcombe Head Light to bear S.W. by W. ½ W., and steer in on this course until East Point Light opens out, then haul down S. by W. until Oyster Rock Light comes in sight, then steer to pass about 1½ cables from it, taking care to avoid the shoal bank lying off the land between Settlement Point and Gatcombe Head. After passing the Oyster Rock Light, bring it and Gatcombe Head Light slightly open to the westward and steer to pass the floating white light close on the starboard hand.

A vessel when passing the floating white light will be in the main channel, and a N.W. by W. ½ W. course should be steered up the harbour until the small light at the pilot's cottage at Gatcombe Head opens out on an E by S. ¾ S. bearing when a vessel may be kept away, being clear of the elbow of the bank and of South Trees Point while the light is in sight.

Before rounding South Trees Point the light at the foot of Auckland Point will be seen. Keep the light open and steer to pass it at a cable's length, and after it changes to red continue until the two red beacon lights are in line, when haul up to enter the creek.

Since the tides run with a velocity of from 1½ to 2½ knots an hour, due caution will have to be observed and a proper allowance made for tidal influence when navigating this channel.

AFRICA, EAST—PORT OF MOMBASSA.

A fixed white light at Ras Serani.

THE Port Officer, Mombassa, has given notice, dated 23rd August 1900, that a fixed white light visible at a distance of about 12 miles will be exhibited shortly at Ras Serani. The light will be hoisted on a steel mast 60 feet high placed at the back of the inner pillar, visible from about N. 60° E. through E. to S. 20° W.

Further particulars will be published as soon as the light has been erected and put into working order.

INDIA, SOUTH—CEYLON COAST—POINT DE GALLE HARBOUR.

Neptune bastion—Lloyd's signal station established.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 519 of 1900) that the Committee of Lloyd's have given Notice, dated 1st July 1909, that a signal station has been established at Neptune bastion, Point de Galle harbour, to which, any vessel requiring to be reported at night, should make the night signal of her line.

Vessels passing Point de Galle harbour at night, and wishing to indicate that they are calling at Colombo, should show a red light aft in addition to the night signal.

Arrangements have also been made at this station for immediate delivery to vessels at night, weather permitting, of orders for them; the charge for doing this being 20 rupees.

During the day orders will be signalled to vessels on the usual conditions.

The charges for reports from this station are, Day, 10*d.* each, Night, 1*s.* 3*d.*, in addition to the cost of the telegram (Notice No. 519 of 1900.)

Approximate position, lat. 6° 2′ N., long. 80° 12′ E.

PACIFIC OCEAN—MARIANA OR LADRONE ISLANDS.

Position of Urracas islands.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 520 of 1900) that the Urracas islands are shown too far to the northward on the Admiralty Charts. The question of the position of those islands has recently been discussed with the following results:—

No observations appear to have been taken actually on the islands themselves, but La Perouse, in 1786, placed Assumption island, off which he anchored, in lat. 19° 45′ N.

From a running survey executed by Captian Beechy, H. M. S. Blossom, in 1827, it would appear that the Urracas islands are situated 17 miles N. 25° W. (true) from Assumption island; this would place them in lat 20° 0′ N., long. 145° 21′ E. As this agrees with the latest reports received by the United States Government, these islands have been placed in this position on the Admiralty Charts. (Notice No. 520 of 1900.)

CHINA—CANTON RIVER—THE BROADWAY.

Moto island—Shoal off—Decreased depth extending.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 523 of 1900) that Captain Lans, H I.M.S. Ibis, reports that, owing to the decreased depths of water, his vessel, drawing 12 feet, was unable to proceed further up the river than Moto island, a depth of 6 feet having been obtained with Moto fort bearing N. 23° E., distant 7 cables, and south extreme of Moto island, East.

From this it would appear that the bank between Moto mun and Moto island is extending to the southward. (Notice No. 523 of 1900.)

Shoals—Examination of and search for—.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 494 of 1900) that information, dated 30th May 1900, has been received from Commander J. W. Combe, H.M. Surveying Vessel Penguin, respecting the examination of the undermentioned shoals, and the unsuccessful search for others off the north-west and north coasts of Australia:—

1. Money shoal is of coral formation, very flat, extending 3¼ miles E.N E. and W.S W. by 1¾ miles wide, with a general depth of 5 to 6 fathoms over it. There are several patches of 18 feet on its eastern edge, the easternmost being in approximately lat. 10° 21′ 25″ S, long. 132° 45′ 50″ E.

   During fresh easterly winds the shoal was seen to break.

2. Marie shoal, composed of sand and coral, is 2 miles long N.N.W. and S.S.E., and 1 mile broad, with a general depth of from 5 to 7 fathoms over it. The least depth is 20 feet, situated about the middle of its western edge, in approximately lat. 10° 55′ 20″ S., long. 130° 06′ 15″ E.
   This shoal is surrounded by depths of 25 and 35 fathoms.

3. Browse islet. The position of this islet (centre) is approximately in lat. 14° 07′ 0″ S., long. 123° 33′ 25″ E.

4. Vulcan shoal is of live coral formation, 3 miles long W. by N. and E. by S., and 1 mile wide, with general depths of from 8 to 12 fathoms over it, the least depth being 5 fathoms situated near the western end in approximately lat. 12° 49′ 5″ S., long 124° 16′ 15″ E.
   This shoal is surrounded by depths of 50 and 90 fathoms.

5. Heywood shoal is also of live coral, 3¾ miles long N.W. and S.E., and 2 miles broad, with general depths over it of from 9 to 15 fathoms. The least depths of 6 fathoms is situated near its south-east end in approximately lat. 13° 28′ 55″ S., long. 124° 03′ 25″ E.
   Deep water of from 30 to 50 fathoms surrounds the bank.

The above two shoals (4 and 5) were discovered in 1801 by Captain P. Heywood, H.M. Bomb Vulcan, and do not appear to have been seen since that date.

The undermentioned shoals have been searched for without success:—

(a) Indus shoal in approximately lat. 10° 17′ S., long. 131° 06′ E. An area of 120 square miles in this vicinity was sounded over in fine weather, the general depths obtained being from 45 to 52 fathoms mud bottom, without any indication of shoal water. The original report of this shoal being somewhat vague, it is considered that it does not exist, and it has in consequence been erased from the Charts.

(b) Lynher reef in approximately lat 15° 26′ S., long 121° 55′ E. This position was sounded over, a depth of 21 fathoms being obtained near the spot; P.D. has therefore been placed against this reef on the Chart, pending further investigations.

(d) The shallow line of soundings reported by "Le Scorff" in approximately lat. 10° 37′ S., long. 139° 27′ E.

(e) The shallow line of soundings reported by "Durance" in approximately lat. 10° 53′ S., long. 138° 45′ E. (Notice No. 494 of 1900.)

(Variation 2° Easterly in 1900.)

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Australia, northern portion, No. 2759a; North-west coast of Australia, No. 475; Cape Ford to Buccaneer Archipelago, No. 1047; Gulf of Carpentaria, Nos. 1043, 1044; Western approaches to Torres strait, No. 447: Also, Australia Directory, vol. RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE ALIPORE AND HAZARIBAGH REFORMATORY SCHOOLS FOR 1899.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Darjeeling, the 13th September 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 1261T.—G.

READ—

Letter No. 4167, dated the 19th July 1900, from the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, submitting the Annual Reports on the Alipore and Hazaribagh Reformatory Schools for 1899.

Read—

The report for the year 1898 and the orders of Government thereon.

Read—

The Government of India Home Department's Resolution No. 374—79, dated the 2nd September 1899.

IN their Resolution recited in the preamble the Government of India decided that all Reformatory Schools should be placed under the charge of the Education Department. Accordingly, the two Schools at Alipore and Hazaribagh, which had previously been under the control of the Jail Department, were taken over by the Education Department on the 1st January 1900, and the present report, which has been submitted by the Director of Public Instruction, was received from him in print on the 31st July 1900, that is, seven months after the close of the year to which it related. The delay was to some extent due to uncertainty about the maintenance of a separate report, the Government of India finally deciding that amalgamation with the Education Report was at present undesirable.

2. The two institutions had, on the last day of 1898, 468 inmates. The number of boys who were released or otherwise removed from the rolls was 151, the total number that remained at the end of the year 1899 being, including fresh admissions during the year, 416. Of these, 271 were Hindus, 137 Muhammadans, 5 aboriginals, 2 nondescript, and 1 a native Christian. The admissions during the year were 99 as compared with 92 in the previous year; but they were far below the average of the five preceding years, which is 133. At the end of 1898, there were 194 boys at Alipore, 274 at Hazaribagh; at the end of 1899, there were 179 at Alipore, 237 at Hazaribagh. The daily average number of boys for the year was 186 at Alipore and 257 at Hazaribagh as compared with 203 and 311, respectively, for the year 1898. In accordance with the desire expressed by the Lieutenant-Governor in the last year's Resolution, the Commissioners of Divisions have submitted reports showing how far the provisions of section 31 of Act VIII of 1897, which empowers Courts to discharge any youthful offender after due admonition, or to deliver him to his parents and other relatives on certain conditions, were utilised by trying Magistrates. From these reports it appears that the application of the provisions, both of section 31 of Act VIII of 1897 and of section 562, Criminal Procedure Code (which relates to first offenders), had considerable effect in reducing the number of boys sent to the Reformatories. This effect will probably increase.

The general health of the boys of the Alipore Reformatory has been satisfactory In Hazaribagh the number of admissions into hospital rose from 105 to 170, and the daily average of sick boys increased from 3·9 in 1898 to 5·9 in 1899. This increase was due to the prevalence of malarial fever. No death occurred in the Hazaribagh School, but one boy of the Alipore Reformatory died in hospital of phthisis.

3. Offences, punishment, and marks.—With regard to offences and punishments there was a slight increase in the former as compared with the previous year, but nothing occurred which calls for any special remarks. Marks for good conduct were earned by 164 boys, or 88 per cent., at Alipore, and by 251 boys, or 97 per cent., at Hazaribagh, as against 84 and 90 per cent. during 1898. The average value of marks earned per head at Alipore was Rs. 3-9-7 in 1899 as compared with Rs. 3-0-2 in the previous year, while the average earned per head at Hazaribagh was Rs. 2-12-7 as against Rs. 2-3-2 in 1898. The total earnings on this account during the year in the two Schools amounted to Rs. 1,306, out of which Rs. 419 were spent on a present reward in fruits and sweetmeats, and the remainder placed in the Post Office Savings Bank for the benefit of the boys on their release. The system is an excellent one.

4. Instructions and gymnastics.—At both Schools the boys are taught reading and writing in Bengali or Hindi and arithmetic up to the Lower and Upper Primary Standards. Five boys from the Bengali section at Alipore appeared at the last Lower Primary Scholarship Examination, two of whom passed in the first division. Drill and gymnastics are attended by the boys in the morning, and at Alipore sports, including (for the first time) football, were held at which the boys competed for small prizes. These exercises are reported to have been beneficial to the health of the boys. The trades taught at the Schools were the same as in the previous year, viz., carpentry, book-binding, canework, gardening, blacksmith's work, tinwork, and printing in the Alipore School, and cloth-weaving and tailoring, carpentry, blacksmith's work, and gardening in the Hazaribagh School.

5. Character and occupation of released boys.—Of 54 boys discharged from the Alipore School in 1898, 34 were reported to be well conducted, 13 could not be traced, 4 were in jail, 2 were looked on as suspicious characters, and 1 had died. Of 116 boys released from the Hazaribagh School, 74 were well conducted, 18 not traceable, and 9 in jail; 2 were viewed with suspicion, 4 had died and 9 had emigrated to other districts. The Education Department has at its disposal an admirable agency for keeping watch over boys after their discharge, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that in future the statistics on this subject will be much fuller and more accurate than before, and that by degrees they will show that the transfer in administration is producing better results than those of the past. Two hundred boys were released from the Alipore Reformatory during the three years, 1896 to 1898, of whom 37 had been taught agriculture and 163 other trades and handicrafts. Forty-nine were lost sight of, 44 took to agriculture after discharge, and only 20 adopted the trades and handicrafts taught in the School. Two hundred and sixty-two boys were discharged from the Hazaribagh School, of whom 65 had been taught agriculture and 197 other trades and handicrafts. Forty were lost sight of, 106 were occupied in agriculture after release, and only 20 adopted the trade taught them at the School.

The question of the proper training to be given to the boys at the Reformatories, so as to enable them to earn a livelihood on their release from the Schools, is of considerable difficulty. From the figures given above, it will be seen that a very small proportion of the boys released from the Schools adopt in after-life the trades learnt in these institutions. This bears out the remark made last year that the plan of adapting instruction to the hereditary occupation of the boys must be extended. The practical difficulty in teaching every boy the trade of his caste is, of course, the expense. The most remunerative occupation at the Hazaribagh School is one which has proved of little use to the boys in after-life. But it is more and more clear that the present system of teaching boys trades which they will not take up in after-life may keep them out of mischief in School, and help to recoup to the tax-payer the endeavour to reform their character, but that it is quite useless in giving the boys a better start in life when they leave the Schools. It is essential that the employment of the boys be brought more and more nearly in accord with the principle, that they be taught industries, which will be really useful to themselves, rather than merely remunerative to the Schools. It is not possible that all that is theoretically desirable can be at once attained, but a beginning must be made. There are two obvious ways in which this can be done. One is suggested by the Superintendent of the Hazaribagh Reformatory. That is, that all boys of agricultural castes be concentrated at Hazaribagh, and all of industrial castes at Alipore. The other is, that the two Reformatories be amalgamated at Hazaribagh. There are objections to the latter course, but it has one very important advantage, that, under a single superintendence, the expenses of the management will be largely decreased, and there will be better opportunity for organising instruction in a considerable variety of trades.

The Lieutenant-Governor asks the Director of Public Instruction to give this matter his early attention and to favour him in the winter with his opinion on these two suggestions after careful consultation with the Committees of the two Schools.

The total cost of the two Reformatories in 1899 was Rs. 41,709; the profits from the School manufactories amounted to Rs. 18,560, covering nearly half the cost. In these profits there will undoubtedly be considerable reduction, if the principle is applied to which Sir John Woodburn has again drawn attention, but this result must be faced in the interests of the boys, whose reform is our first duty.

Upon the system to be followed at Hazaribagh in agricultural training the Lieutenant-Governor has only two remarks. He thinks that in all the conditions at Hazaribagh market gardening is a preferable course of instruction and employment to the cultivation of field crops. During the season when there is little out-door work, there is no possible objection to employing the boys in any form of in door work, which is profitable.

An attempt was made last year to get employment in a jute mill near Calcutta for boys, who had been taught weaving in the Reformatory. The boys ran away. It is said that the wages given them were insufficient. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the experiment will not be abandoned, and that the Committee in making arrangements for the boys will see that proper wages are adjusted. He desires to draw their attention to section 18 of the Reformatory Act, and to suggest the hiring out of well-behaved lads under license.

6. Manufactures.—The financial results of the manufactures in the Schools show a net profit at Alipore of Rs. 8,930 as against Rs. 9,862, and at Hazaribagh of Rs. 9,630 as compared with Rs. 9,268 in the previous year. The profit per head of the number employed was Rs. 55-7-6 as against Rs. 54-11-8 in 1898 at Alipore, and Rs. 44-1-6 as against Rs. 35-10-4 at Hazaribagh.

7. Financial.—The total cost of the Alipore Reformatory was Rs. 21,800, and of the Hazaribagh Reformatory Rs. 19,909. The cost per head of each boy was Rs. 116-9-1 at the former School and Rs. 77-5-10 at the latter as against Rs. 110-9-5 and Rs. 73-0-11, respectively, in 1898. There was an actual increase in the establishment charges at both Schools, though it was nominal only at Hazaribagh.

8. General.—At Alipore nothing was done during the past year for the amalgamation of the warders with those of the Jail Department. At Hazaribagh the system was introduced, and enabled the establishment to be kept up to the proper strength during the year, and in other ways was satisfactory. It will, however, probably be necessary to discontinue this connection with the Jail as a consequence of the transfer of the control of the Schools to the Education Department. The number of visits to the Alipore School of members of the Board of Management was 63 as against 39 in the previous year. At Hazaribagh 16 visits were paid by the members of the Committee as compared with 10 in 1898. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Board of Visitors of the Alipore School and the Committee of Management of the Hazaribagh School for close interest they have taken in the Schools.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, for information and communication to the President of the Board of Management of the Alipore School and to the Superintendent of the Hazaribagh School.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. A. SLACKE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Dated Darjeeling, the 21st September 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 1779T.—M.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners of Calcutta for the year 1899-1900.

Read again—

The Report for the year 1898-99 and the Resolution recorded by Government thereon.

SECTION 17 of Bengal Act III of 1899 provides that the Administration and Departmental Reports shall be examined and reviewed by the General Committee and the Corporation, and that printed copies of the reviews by these bodies shall be submitted to Government with or soon after the submission of the report itself. This has not been done. The Chairman has forwarded copies of the proceedings of the General Committee and the Corporation at meetings held to consider the report, but that is not a compliance with the law. These reviews should be self-contained: they should set forth the views of the General Committee and the Corporation respectively as a whole, and not those of individual members: they should be reasonably brief; and should contain such comments as may be thought useful on the broader aspects of the administration of the year. In future years these instructions should be complied with.

2. The office of Chairman of the Corporation was held throughout the year by Mr. W. R. Bright with an interval from 7th January 1900 to 21st March 1900, during which he was compelled by ill-health to take privilege leave. Mr. F. W. Duke officiated as Chairman for that period. Babu Nilamber Mukerji held the office of Vice-Chairman throughout the year. Among the nominated Commissioners there was only one change during the year. Of the elected Commissioners one died, his seat remaining vacant until the close of the year; and 28 resigned. The places of the latter were filled, 12 by bye-elections and the remainder by appointment in default of election under section 16 of the Municipal Act. The Chairman remarks that these changes, for a time at any rate, greatly hampered municipal work and finance.

Several changes were made in the personnel of the executive, the most important of which was the appointment of Mr. T. C. Deverell as Engineer to the Corporation, vice Mr. A. J. Hughes, C.I.E., resigned.

3. Meetings and attendance of Commissioners.—There were 26 general meetings of the Commissioners, 126 meetings of Standing Committees, 12 of Special Committees, and 52 of Sub-Committees. Informal meetings were also held for the investigation of matters of minor public importance. Ten Commissioners attended fifty times or more at General and Committee meetings during the year and 60 Commissioners attended 50 per cent. or more of the meetings to which they were invited.

Vacancies occurring in the General Committee could not under the law be filled up during the year, and accordingly that Committee consisted of 9 members instead of 18 from 1st September 1899 till the close of the year.

4. Proceedings of Commissioners.—The matter of most interest and importance to the general public with which the Commissioners were occupied during the year was the resumption of negotiations with the Tramway Company for the introduction of electric traction. The points in dispute were referred to a Sub-Committee, who submitted a report, on the basis of which an agreement was settled and executed by the Corporation on 9th December 1899. Effect has been given to this agreement by legislation which has been undertaken since the close of the year. The Commissioners are to be congratulated on having arrived at a final and, under the circumstances, a satisfactory termination to these important and long-standing negotiations.

Apart from this, the year's work presents no feature of especial prominence, and was directed towards carrying out the ordinary administrative and financial duties of the Corporation.

5. Finance—Revenue and Expenditure.—The income of the four revenue funds, taken together, was Rs. 52,42,738 and their expenditure Rs. 52,38,696 as against budget estimates of Rs. 51,86,017 and Rs 55,24,742, respectively. The opening and closing balances were Rs. 5,78,963 and Rs. 5,83,005. The main heads under which receipts were in excess of the estimate are "Miscellaneous receipts," "Fines and penalties," and "Trade and profession licenses." The realisation of the consolidated rate fell short of the estimate by Rs. 42,570.

The income exceeded that of the previous year by Rs. 3,71,420—a result which was due to the increase in the valuation of the town and to larger realisations from licenses, fines, and the municipal market. The expenditure was Rs. 4,37,653 larger than in the previous year. The largest increase (Rs. 66,352) was under "Road cleaning," which, however, is partially counterbalanced by a decrease of Rs. 35,873 in the amount expended on bustee cleaning.

There was a total saving on the estimated expenditure for the year of Rs. 2,86,046. The heading under which this was greatest is that of interest, owing to the failure of a loan issued during the year. The remainder of the saving is distributed among the various items of working expenditure.

6. Loans.—The year opened with a total loan liability of Rs. 2,99,73,935. During the year Rs. 3,08,134 were repaid to Government on account of the consolidated loan. Tenders for a new loan of 25 lakhs at 4 per cent. having a currency of twenty-five years were called for, but the result was a failure. Tenders for Rs. 3,70,000 were accepted at 95 and upwards, and out of the unallotted remainder, a loan of 5 lakhs only was issued. This was taken up in full. The total loan liability of the Corporation at the close of the year was Rs. 3,05,39,700. The sinking fund accumulations amount together to Rs. 28,71,154. Rupees 20,02,070 were paid during the year on account of interest and sinking funds. The statutory limit to payments on this account is 10 per cent on the annual valuation of the town; and, as will be seen from the figures in the following paragraph, the borrowing capacity of the Corporation has now nearly reached its limit.

The total expenditure from capital during the year was Rs. 18,27,381, of which the major portion was devoted to drainage (Rs. 11,46,590) and water-supply (Rs. 4,21,263).

7. Assessment and collection of revenue.—The result of the revaluation work carried on during the year was an increase in 4,261 cases, a decrease in 1,428 cases, and a total net increase of Rs. 5,69,382. The assessed valuation of the town on 31st March 1900 was Rs. 2,19,49,992. During the last decade the valuation has risen by over 42 lakhs.

The following statement shows the result of the working of the collection departments during the year:—

In 1898-99 the percentage figures given in columns 8 and 9 of the statement above were 93·71 and 77·31, respectively. In commenting on these figures in his report for that year, the Chairman ascribed the deficiencies disclosed by them to the exceptional circumstances of the year constituted by the panic and exodus consequent on the first outbreak of plague; and expressed with some confidence a hope that unless circumstances should again be unfavourable to collections, the year now under review would see a considerable improvement. That expectation has, however, not been fulfilled. It is not stated that the work of collection was impeded by plague to a greater, or even to the same, extent as in 1898-99, yet the percentage of gross collections to the gross demand is substantially the same as in that year; and, in spite of large remissions, another addition has been made to the already enormous accumulation of arrears. The unsatisfactory nature of this result is frankly admitted by the Chairman, who examines the subject in some detail.

To begin with the Collector's department, it appears that that officer collected during the year a total sum of Rs. 28,91,520 out of a gross demand of Rs. 35,39,993, or 84·32 per cent. This percentage is, it is true, raised to 85 per cent. if the amounts afterwards found to be unrealisable are deducted from the gross demand; but if again the demand realisable from Government and the Port Commissioners which collects itself automatically (but upon which nevertheless the Collector, very unnecessarily, receives commission) be left out of account, it appears that out of a realisable demand of Rs. 30,82,718, only Rs. 23,41,520, or 76·4 per cent., was realised by the Collector.

The Joint-Collector, if the demand from Government and the Port Commissioners be deducted from the realisable demand and from the collections, realised Rs. 4,48,887 out of a demand of Rs 5,60,698, or just over 80 per cent. —a most unsatisfactory result for so small a demand.

The question of reforming or remodelling the whole system of collections is stated to be engaging the earnest attention of the Chairman, who adds that a complete change in the system of collections may very possibly be found necessary. The absolute necessity of a speedy improvement being made in the collection of taxes needs no emphasising. In Bombay, the average percentage of collections to current demand for the nine years ending 1898-99 was 99·4 per cent., and the amount remitted has averaged Rs 50,273 per annum. In Calcutta, the corresponding figures for the last ten years were 93·3 per cent. and Rs. 1,82,268, the aggregate current demand being slightly less than in Bombay. It may not be possible to achieve such good results as in Bombay, where the Manicipal rates are payable half-yearly, and by owners only, and not, as in Calcutta, quarterly, and by owners and occupiers in equal shares. But the Lieutenant-Governor knows of no valid reason for so large a difference, and he cannot resist the conclusion that the explanation is to be sought in a bad system, and imperfect supervision over the Collecting Departments. These, together with the Warrant Department, are in general charge of the Vice-Chairman. The Auditor's report, recently received, shows that he has failed to exercise the detailed control over collections and accounts without which no contractor can be expected to work efficiently. He has also failed to overcome the delay in the institution of coercive processes to which the present bad system lends itself, and which forms one of the most marked differences between Calcutta and Bombay. Possibly this may be due in some degree to his being overburdened with work. Under the new law, he has been relieved of much of his out-door duties by the appointment of a Deputy Chairman, and the Lieutenant-Governor will expect him in future to exercise a real and not merely a nominal control over these essential branches of the administration.

The Warrant Department has done better than in any previous year, the realisations during the past three years being—

	Rs.
1897-98	2,30,165
1898 99	3,31,072
1899-1900	3,66,192

Notwithstanding this, the arrears rose from Rs. 9,49,299 to Rs. 9,55,789, which is a disappointing result. Here, again, the Auditor's report shows laxity of management and want of method by the officer in charge.

It is stated that the bills for the first quarter could not be delivered in time because the writing out of the bills could not be commenced till the rates for the year had been fixed by the Commissioners in meeting. The reason for delay in a matter so obviously requiring punctuality is not stated nor were the circumstances different, so far as is known, from those of previous years.

Since the close of the year sanction has been accorded by Government to a Resolution of the Corporation exempting from assessment all lands and buildings the annual valuation of which does not exceed Rs. 20. This, as the Chairman remarks, should afford a great relief to all the collecting departments by the abolition of a large number of bills for infinitesimal amounts.

The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the new Corporation will lose no time in putting this most important branch of administration on a proper footing. The effects of the deficiency in collections are visible in every branch of administration, and want of funds has constantly to be pleaded as a reason for not carrying out improvements, the urgency of which is admitted. No such plea is sufficient in the case of a body which leaves unrealised so large a proportion of its revenue.

8. License Department.—The following statement compares the receipts under the several heads in this department for the last two years:—

Heads of receipts.	Amount realised, 1899-1900.			Amount realised, 1898-1899.			Budget estimate.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.
I.—Tax on trades and professions ...	3,70,783	4	8	3,24,585	6	11	3,45,000
II.—Tax on carriages and animals ...	1,50,410	1	8	1,43,669	5	6	1,45,000
III.—Cart registration fees ...	83,271	4	0	75,786	4	0	78,000
IV.—Fees for removal of trade refuse	63,807	2	0	54,255	0	0	65,000
V.—Fees for licences under section 335 (stables, cows and bullock sheds, &c.)	452	8	0	330	0	0	250
VI.—Miscellaneous receipts ...	2,257	6	0	622	5	0	.....
VII.—Fines under section 90 ...	16,292	12	1	10,911	13	9	16,666
VIII.—Fines under section 80 ...	1,135	12	0	2,428	8	0
Total ...	6,88,410	2	5	6,12,588	11	2	6,49,916

The increase in receipts is satisfactory, and that under the tax on trades and professions is particularly so in view of the progressive decline in previous years which was commented on by Government last year.

But while the result itself is satisfactory, the means by which it has been obtained, viz., a very large increase in the number of police court prosecutions, are quite the reverse. The Chairman correctly points out that prosecutions have hitherto been the only means of coercion at the disposal of the department, and that during the year under review cases were more promptly filed and better distributed than heretofore. But a system which entails the prosecution in the Criminal Courts of nearly 60 per cent. of the assessees is indefensible. The procedure to be adopted under the new law was stated in reviewing the report for 1898-99, and the Chairman expresses the hope, which the Government heartily endorses, that in future prosecutions of this nature will not be resorted to.

The statement which purports to show the results of the collection of this tax up to date is incomplete and misleading. Instead of the total balance outstanding at the opening of the year being shown, only that portion of it which accrued during the immediately preceding year appears in the statement, the outstanding balance for all previous years being left out of account. It does not, therefore, appear from the report what the total outstanding balance was at the opening and the close of the year. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the form of the statement may be amended so as to show this clearly in future.

9. Market, Lighting, and Printing.—The municipal market was satisfactorily worked throughout the year, and its receipts were raised by an increase of rentals made during the year from Rs. 1,28,540 to Rs. 1,60,803.

Eighty-six gas lamps and sixty oil lamps were added during the year under review to the existing supply. These additions, and the lighting of gas lamps during extra hours, raised the total expenditure on lighting to

Rs. 4,75,832—an increase of Rs. 18,552 on the expenditure of the previous year.

The Printing Department shows a considerably increased outturn for the year. Valuing the outturn at rates based on a comparison with those of Government and private firms, the result is a profit of Rs. 19,375. The total charges amounted to Rs. 40,795. In this connection the Lieutenant-Governor has observed that such specimens of the work of the Municipal Printing Department as have come before him leave much to be desired. They contain numerous typographical errors and are badly set up and badly printed. The present report is an instance in point.

10. Litigation.—The civil suits instituted by or against the Corporation during the year were insignificant. It is noticeable, however, that 150 old decrees, which had been allowed to become barred by limitation, were cancelled. Arrangements are stated to have been made for preventing the occurrence of such an unsatisfactory result in future.

The total number of criminal prosecutions instituted by the Corporation was 37,521 against 37,544 in the previous year. The greater part of these originated with the License Department, and have already been noticed.

The Chairman draws attention to the results of the prosecutions instituted by the Engineer's Department. In 2,532 convictions, the greater number of which were for encroachments, the total amount of fines imposed was Rs. 3,967. The Chairman expresses a hope that, especially in cases of building a house without submitting a plan, more suitable penalties will be imposed under the new Act. This matter formed the subject of unfavourable comment in last year's Resolution, but it appears that no improvement has taken place, but rather the reverse. It will now be necessary to consider whether the power of appointing a Municipal Magistrate conferred by section 628 of the new Act should not be exercised.

The Food Inspection Department instituted 339 cases against 145 in the previous year. Fines amounting to Rs. 2,110 were imposed. The Food Inspectors also seized and destroyed a large quantity of food and milk unfit for human consumption. A novel feature of their work during the year has been the prosecution of shop-keepers for selling cocaine, the use of which, as a stimulant, is stated to be increasingly prevalent among all classes. The action taken to check it is said to have met with some success, and will be continued in the future.

11. Education.—The amount spent by the Corporation during the year on primary education was Rs. 2,860. The insufficiency of the provision made for this object has been the subject of separate correspondence with the Corporation, and efforts will be made to provide for a more adequate expenditure in future.

12. Town and bustee improvements.—The separate chapter, which is devoted to this subject in the report, adds little or nothing to the information which is given in the chapter relating to finance. It is remarked that the heavy expenditure which is being incurred on drainage and unfiltered water-works has lessened the resources of the Corporation to carry out extensive bustee improvement. The expenditure under this head (Rs. 33,276) is, nevertheless, the largest incurred since 1892-93. The total amount spent on town and bustee improvements together is Rs. 84,390 against Rs. 99,626 in the previous year. The amount spent on street improvements and met from this grant was Rs. 82,667.

13. Engineer's Department.—The mileage of filtered water mains was slightly increased during the year. It amounted on 31st March 1900 to 315·16 miles. The average daily consumption also shows a slight decrease from the previous year's figure, being 20,681,822 gallons, against 20,684,393 in 1898-99. The daily consumption per head was 33·68 gallons in the town area and 20·89 gallons in the south added area. The gross cost was annas 2·85 per thousand gallons.

A great advance was made during the year in increasing the supply of unfiltered water. The mileage of unfiltered water mains in the town and south added area was 117·49 and 37·55 miles, respectively, against 104·26 and 36·01 in 1898-99. The amount of water supplied increased from 4,778,899 gallons per day in 1898-99 to 9,687,493 gallons in 1899-1900. This is a very great improvement, and its effect should be still greater when the number of house-connections is increased. The Chairman expresses disappointment at the result of efforts which have been made in this direction during the year. It is to be hoped that in future they will prove more successful. But if the connexions are to be really beneficial, and not a danger in disguise, it is essential that they should be maintained in efficient order. A recent inspection by the Health Officer of a number of students' lodging-houses showed that in 20 cases out of 24 examined, the flushing arrangements of connected privies were out of order. If anything like this proportion obtains throughout the town, the risk to the public health is most serious. Under Chapter XXI and Schedule XVI of the new Act, the Chairman has ample powers to inspect and enforce the repair of defective privies, and he should look to it that these are rigorously exercised.

Various reconstructions and improvements were made in the sewerage system, which now has a length of 200·68 miles.

14. Health of the town.—There is a curious difference of opinion between experts on the elementary point whether the general health of Calcutta was or was not good during the year. In the body of the report the year is stated to have been a specially unhealthy one, and with this view the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, who has submitted a separate note to Government on the subject, agrees. In the report of the Health Officer on the other hand, it is stated that the health of the town was, except for plague, comparatively good. The total number of deaths recorded was 25,823 against a decennial average of 22,058. The deaths registered as due to plague were 2,332; and in addition to these, there were a number of suspicious deaths in which the evidence was not quite sufficient to establish the cause of death to have been plague. The mortality under the special causes of cholera, diarrhœa and dysentery, small-pox, and fevers was 1,852 less than the average of the previous ten years. The reduction under "fever" was 1,016, and it is believed that this is mainly fictitious, deaths really due to this disease having been ascribed to "other causes" (where the increase was 3,306) in consequence of the plague scare. If allowance be made for the natural increase of population during that period, it would seem that the conclusion of the Health Officer should be accepted; and it is evident, as the Chairman remarks, that the figures returned for plague represent with a near approach to accuracy the actual mortality from that cause. The birth-rate rose from 13·9 in 1898, when, owing to a large exodus of females from the town, it was exceptionally low, to 16·1 in 1899. This figure is still below the average. The birth-rate was highest among Christians and lowest among Muhammadans. The mortality among infants under one year of age was in inverse ratio to the birth-rate according to class. Among Muhammadans it was 504·3, among Hindus 334·7, and among Christians 174·4, the average for all classes being 366·8. The same fact was noted in last year's report. The Health Officer conjectures that there may be some connection between the marriage customs of the various classes and the infantile mortality among them.

The fever mortality was 7,173 against a decennial average of 8,189. Under this head the Health Officer gives a detailed account of the preliminary investigations which he has made into the localities infested by the anopheles mosquito and the connection between that insect and malarious fever. It was found that the anopheles could be quickly killed by kerosine when found in pools, but that even so, it re-appeared in a week, and that efforts to exterminate it in tanks resulted in failure. The want of any accurate data of the local distribution of the population and consequently of the ratio of fever mortality in the different areas of the town prevented any connection being established between malaria and mosquitos. The practical results of the experiment have therefore been nil; and the only conclusion which is drawn from them by the Health Officer is that "it does not appear probable that any appreciable effect can be made on the prevalence of malarial fevers in Calcutta, with an expenditure of Rs. 30 a month including the pay of establishment,"—a conclusion which is in no danger of being controverted. Dr. Nield Cook does not commit himself to an opinion as to whether a larger expenditure on an experiment conducted on these lines would be justified; and it is not stated whether it is proposed to continue the experiment. In this connexion it may be remarked that Captain Leonard Rogers, I.M.S., who recently conducted investigations in neighbouring urban areas, found nothing to show that the mosquito is the sole, or even the chief, cause of malarious fever.

The mortality from cholera was 990 against an average of 2,051 in the previous five years. The cases were isolated ones, and there was no serious outbreak throughout the year. There were only 64 cases of small-pox in the town during the year, but the mortality from dysentery and diarrhœa was above the average. The death-rate in the suburban and canal area (43·9) is again extremely high compared to that in urban Calcutta (35·1). A special report on the subject was asked for by Government in the review of last year's report, but has not yet been received.

15. Vaccination.—The number of persons vaccinated during the year was 16,911 against 13,255 in 1898. The percentage of successful operations, calculated on ascertained results, was 96·64 of primary vaccinations and 35·46 of revaccinations. Of the latter, a large number of results were unascertained.

An outbreak of rinderpest in the animal vaccination depôt caused the supply of vaccine to run short, and a supply of lanoline paste obtained from the Darjeeling depôt failed to give good results. The Vaccination Department is at present undergoing a process of reorganisation, and partial effect has already been given to the recommendations of the Health Officer.

16. Conservancy.—The portion of the Health Officer's report which deals with the conservancy of the town is of considerable interest to the rate-payers and the general public. In commenting on it, the Chairman remarks that it is the fashion to say that the conservancy of Calcutta is unsatisfactory, but offers no opinion as to how far this fashion is justified by facts. The Health Officer, while candidly admitting that the Health Department has not been able to keep the streets of Calcutta in a condition which can be regarded as satisfactory from a sanitary point of view, maintains that failure has been due, not to any shortcomings on the part of the Department, but to the magnitude of the difficulties with which it has to contend. Dr. Nield Cook points out that the structural defects of the city, the habits of the people with regard to the disposal of refuse, and the very large quantity of refuse to be disposed of, as compared with a European town, are practically insuperable obstacles to arriving at ideal conservancy arrangements. That those difficulties are real may be allowed. They are not insuperable. Nor can the Lieutenant-Governor in any way endorse the Health Officer's contention that inefficient conservancy is a matter which depends more on the state of the labour market and the available supply and strength of draught animals than on "supervision and the punishment of subordinates when anything goes wrong." Constant supervision, honestly enforced, will do more good with a small staff than an army of coolies, carts and cattle working without systematic control. The Health Officer affirms that the only chance of making any material improvement in the state of the streets is to have something like a continuous service with relays of men and animals; and the more nearly the service approaches this standard, the more complete the conservancy will obviously be. An afternoon service was attempted during the year under report, but neither carters nor cattle could be procured in sufficient number, and the strain on stock and staff was so severe that the experiment was perforce abandoned. The question of making a substantial improvement in the conservancy resolves itself in truth into one of ways and means. The present report and the discussions in the press to which it refers, have, at all events, served the purpose of bringing it prominently to the notice of the Commissioners. It is disastrous that the Conservancy Department should be starved for want of funds; and it is to be hoped that an improvement in the collection of the revenue will enable the Commissioners to make a more liberal provision for it in the near future.

The department worked under special difficulties during the year. Labour was, owing to the prevalence of plague, very difficult to obtain, and the mortality among draught animals from glanders and rinderpest was heavy. In spite of this, the amount of refuse removed from the town was the largest ever recorded, being no less than 357,000 tons. Even this large total would no doubt, in the absence of these difficulties, have been considerably exceeded, and manifest though the deficiencies of the conservancy are, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able from his own observations to concur in the statement of the Chairman as to the improvement in the work of the department during a particularly trying year. He looks to the Chairman and the Commissioners to ensure much greater progress in this matter.

Particular stress is laid by the Health Officer on the necessity in the interests of both economy and efficiency of improving the stable accommodation for the ponies and cattle. Steps have been taken by the Commissioners to give effect to his recommendations.

17. Plague.—The administration of preventive measures against plague is in the hands of the Chairman, not of the Corporation, and is therefore not dealt with, except incidentally, in the report. The Chairman notes briefly on the subject in the preliminary chapter to the report. The Army Sanitary Commissioners have recently suggested that plague should, in the Annual Report, not be dissociated from other diseases. The Health Officer goes further, and suggests that the administration also should be united. The latter suggestion is not practicable; for the reason that the Health Officer's ordinary duties, especially in connection with conservancy, are sufficient to occupy his whole time. In future, however, a report by the Special Health Officer for plague should accompany the Annual Report, and will be reviewed with it. It is sufficient, for the purposes of the present review, to remark that the epidemic, though more severe in incidence than that of the previous year, had a much less pronounced effect on the general administration of the Corporation. The disease declined rapidly in virulence from April to July, continued during the next six months in a sporadic form, and increased again rapidly from the end of January 1900, reaching its highest point in the third week in March. The history of plague in Calcutta and of the measures taken to cope with it will be separately treated.

18. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his appreciation of the manner in which Mr. Bright discharged the duties of Chairman during a year beset by peculiar difficulties, and in which more, perhaps, devolved upon the Chairman than in any other in the annals of the Corporation. It has fallen to his lot to usher in the new constitution, and to guide the Corporation during the first months of its operation. The Lieutenant-Governor hoped that his services would have been available to Calcutta for several years to come, and it is a matter of great regret that his health should have failed under the strain, and that he should have been compelled to relinquish his onerous and important charge. He leaves behind him a record of signal energy, industry and zeal; of difficulties surmounted and reforms undertaken; and the knowledge that his unsparing labours have done much to smooth the path of his successor.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DONATIONS AND ENDOWMENTS MADE BY PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS FOR PUBLIC PURPOSES AND WORKS OF PUBLIC UTILITY DURING THE YEAR 1899.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

RESOLUTION—No. 2975M.

In the month of November 1899 a Resolution was published in the Calcutta Gazette showing the names of the gentlemen who during the year 1898 had made gifts of money or land for public purposes or for works of public utility. The Lieutenant-Governor has now much pleasure in publishing for general information a statement showing by divisions and districts the gifts that were contributed during the year 1899. The sums contributed are stated against each gentleman's name, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to avail himself of this opportunity of thanking them one and all for their liberality and public spirit.

2. The following are the chief donations which deserve special notice:—Babu Kanai Lal Bogla, of Calcutta, contributed Rs. 25,000 for the improvement of the accommodation at Puri for pilgrims visiting the shrine of Jaggernath. A sum of Rs. 16,735 was given by the Executive Committee of the National Leprosy Fund in England for the benefit of the Albert Victor Asylum for Lepers at Calcutta. Rai Ganga Prosad Bahadur spent Rs. 31,281 on the construction of a hospital and dispensary at Laheriaserai with equipments, for which he had originally offered in 1895 a sum of Rs. 12,000. Babu Tran Nath Banerjee made a donation of Rs. 12,000 for a masonry building for the High English School at Panihati.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in noticing also the contribution of Rs. 9,200 made by Rai Ram Akhoy Chatterjee Bahadur for excavation of tanks in the district of Burdwan; the donation of Rs. 4,000 made by Srimati Kadambini Debi for the help of the poor Hindu boys attending the Birbhum Government School and the Suri Middle English School; the dispensary and hospital presented by Babu Bolye Chand Datta to Madhupur; the gift of Rs. 4,000 made by Babu Ram Rup Datta for a new road with culverts from Tean to Baidyapur and thence to Talibpur; that of Rai Jogendra Narain Roy, who presented to the public a plot of land in the district of Murshidabad with a building and a tank on it, together with a sum of Rs. 3,000 in Government securities for their upkeep; and also the liberality of Rai Hari Churn Chowdhry, who gave Rs. 5,000 for the maintenance of poor indoor patients in the Khulna Dispensary.

4. The acknowledgments of Government are also due to the following:—Raja Promoda Nath Rai, who gave Rs. 4,000 for a tank within the jurisdiction of the police-station of Nator; Rai Gopi Krishna, of Patna City, who contributed Rs. 9,000 for a dharamsala at the Bankipore Railway Station; Babu Radha Nath Bagchi, who gave Rs. 5,000 for a tank at Santipur; Babus Saukhi Lal Sahu and Bishun Pergash Narain Singh, who made over Rs. 4,000 and Rs. 5,000, respectively, for tanks; the Raja of Kanika, who gave Rs. 6,233 for the construction of roads and excavation of tanks; Babu Gopal Mahton, who contributed Rs. 5,000 for a tank in the district of Hazaribagh; and to the Assam Tea Association, who presented the sum of Rs. 5,000 for the purpose of endowing a ward for indigent planters in the Presidency General Hospital.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor is especially pleased to observe that in the district of Faridpur 16 tanks have been excavated by the gentlemen named in the list. This district is in particular need of an improved water-supply, and His Honour hopes that the good example thus set will be widely followed. It would be well if the tanks now constructed were reserved for drinking purposes.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the statement be forwarded to the Judicial, Political, Appointment, Revenue, General, Financial, Legislative, Marine and Public Works Departments of this Government for information and necessary action.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution and the statement be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Sanitary Board, and to all Commissioners of Divisions for information.

Ordered also that the Resolution and the statement be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

General Summary.—There was heavy rain in South-West Bengal, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur. In East Bengal the rain was moderate, while in North Bengal and some parts of Bihar only light showers were received. The rain was exceptionally heavy in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, where damage to the crops is apprehended. In the 24-Parganas it is reported that the crops have been submerged and swept away in some places. Rain is still required for the winter rice crop in Dinajpur, Rangpur, Bogra, Mymensingh, Chittagong, Muzaffarpur, and Monghyr. The harvesting of the autumn crops is still going on. In Bihar the ploughing for the spring crops is beginning. Cattle-disease continues in a few districts. Fodder is generally sufficient. No important change in the price of rice is reported.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; g, gloomy; p, passing temporary showers; ● continued rain.
